State Ownership of Railways Profitable Since Establishment of Transportation Lines.

ABSENCE OF SOCIALISM.

Financial Showing Is Remarkable in View of the Fact That the First Roads Were an Experiment.

BY RAYMOND.

[Copyright: 1905: By Tribune Company.]

BRUSSELS, May 12.—I was fortunate enough to be present at the last big democratic rally in Chicago the Saturday night previous to the election of Edward F. Dunne. The speeches were interesting, but the audience was more so, because it seemed to me to be made up of people of both parties, thus indicating a drift towards municipal ownership which was not bounded by party lines.

There was one incident at that meeting which impressed me deeply because it seemed to show the tendency of the people in an unmistakable manner. Along toward the end of the evening Clarence Darrow made a fiery speech. It was not nearly so convincing as most of those that had preceded it because it lacked a certain ring of sincerity. He led up adroitly, however, from municipal ownership of the street cars to government control of the railroads. He received no such applause for any other part of his speech as that provoked by his mere reference to the possibility of Uncle Sam running a railroad.

Incident Causes Belgium Trip.

It struck me at the time that there was deep significance in the fact that a Chicago gathering of a generally high class, and in the great Auditorium itself, would, without hesitation, commit itself to the support of government ownership of the railroads, which was classed only a few years ago as the rankest kind of socialism. It was this incident more than anything else which led me to Brussels, as I wished to study briefly how the scheme works out here in Belgium.

It is easy to see at the outset that every argument which can be advanced for the ownership and operation of the street cars by the municipality will apply with equal force to the ownership and operation of the railroads by the national government. I do not see that one is any more socialistic than the other, though of course it may be less desirable from a purely public point of view. If the operation of a street car line by a city would build up an army of municipal employes, whose influence on their own work would be felt at every election, it is evident that these evils would be exaggerated to an astounding extent if the federal government were to attempt to own and operate the great railway system of the United States.

"The one fact that impresses me therefore regarding either municipal or government ownership of transportation lines is that the subject should be studied solely from an economic standpoint. It will not do to cry it down as socialism, because if Glasgow can run its tramways and Belgium can run its railroads more progressive communities, like those in America, might do the same thing without being open to the charge of having surrendered to socialistic theories of government.

No Socialism in Control.

There is no socialism in the government ownership of Belgium. It began long before modern socialism even was known. It dr back to the earliest days of the kin dom under its present system. They are celebrating this year the seventy-fifth anniversary of the independence of Belgium. It is, therefore, almost startling to find out that the government railroad system began in 1835.

For the first ten years or so the government pursued a steady policy of railroad building and operation with the idea of making the entire transportation scheme public and wholly outside of private enterprise. For the succeeding twenty-five years the governmental policy was changed entirely. They permitted and even encouraged the building of private lines.

The result was that by 1870 the Belgian governmental lines had a total extent of only 718 miles. In that year the kingdom reverted to its original policy. It granted no new concessions for privately owned railroads and all new work, or nearly so, was undertaken by the government itself. The result was that within seven years, including the lines purchased by the government from time to time, the mileage of the national railroads was trebled. From 1877 to 1883 the process of new construction was much slower, and for the last ten years or so it has practically ceased, except for the building of occasional feeders and junction lines demanded by the development of traffic here and there.

Railroad System Shows Growth.

Having thus reached the summit of its development the Belgian railroad system, which is practically exclusively governmental, actually operated last year 2,709 miles of road, which is a pretty good average for a small country like Belgium, the population of which at the beginning of last year was 6,883,219.

These lines during the year 1904 carried 128,460 passengers and about 46,000,000 tons of freight. The last ten years has seen an extraordinary increase in the passenger traffic upon the Belgian roads. Part of it is due to the acquisition of new lines from private owners, but most of it comes from the increase of facilities and the betterment of the rolling stock. They are carrying today in Belgium more than three times as many passengers as they did twenty-five years ago, and the tonnage has more than doubled.

Net Profit Shown Always.

To reach this result the government has spent a good deal of money, taking one consideration with another, but the parliamentary reports made at this session, which I have examined with a good deal of care, figure out a net profit in the entire investment from the beginning to the end. This is remarkable, because the earliest roads were laid down at a time when steam rail traffic was a great deal of an experiment. Rolling stock rapidly became antiquated and much of the motive power was unsatisfactory at the outset in America, as much as in Belgium.

According to the official figures the entire capital employed in the government roads from 1835 until 1904 amounts to $9,847,071,434.

POLITICIAN SLAIN; WOMAN IN CASE?

Daniel S. Berry, Former Illinois Legislator, Mysteriously Murdered at the Door of His Office.

SAVANNA SCENE OF CRIME

Assassin Shoots Down His Victim from Behind and Leaves No Clew to His Identity.

Savanna, Ill., May 22.—[Special.]—Daniel S. Berry, lawyer and former state senator and republica nleader, was assassinated at the door of his office at 9:30 o'clock this morning by an unknown enemy.

There is absolutely no clew to the identity of the assassin, although there are rumors that a prominent citizen and a woman are involved in the crime, which promises to become one of the most mysterious affairs in the criminal annals of the state.

Attorney Berry was one of the wealthy citizens of Savanna. He was the local attorney for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad companies, and for many years had enjoyed a large and remunerative practice in the courts of the state.

The murder occurred at 9:30 o'clock. Mr. Berry paid an early morning inspection of his new residence, now in process of construction on the height overlooking the city and was a little late in reaching his office.

He had gone first to the postoffice for his mail and then across the street to the new opera house block in which he has his office.

On his way to the postoffice and to the opera house block Mr. Berry was greeted by a number of his acquaintances who little thought they were speaking to a man who was to be shot down in cold blood within a few minutes.

Three Shots Are Fired.

Nodding to a friend at the foot of the stairway, Mr. Berry ascended to the second floor of the Opera house building. A few minutes later three shots were heard from within the building. Several men rushed up the stairway and into the corridor, only to discover Mr. Berry's prostrate body on the floor in front of the door to his office. He was unconscious and died in a few minutes.

Apparently the murdered man was unlocking the door to his office when the shot was fired which caused his death. The letters he had carried from the postoffice lay on the floor, covered with the blood which was flowing from his wounds.

The first impression of those who reached the scene was that Mr. Berry had shot himself. It required only an instant's investigation to prove that it was not a case of self-destruction, for the bullet which caused his almost instant death entered his head from behind.

There were two wounds, one shot taking effect just above the left temple and from behind. The second bullet penetrated the arm. The bullet which entered the head penetrated the brain and caused almost instant death.

No one had been seen in the corridor of the building for some time before the tragedy. The stairway, of course, is a public one, and any man, known or a stranger, could have ascended to the second floor without attracting any notice.

Hear Hurrying Footfalls.

The opera house auditorium is not yet completed, and it is believed that through this room the assassin escaped. Parties in the rooms below recall that just after they heard the two shots they heard hurried footfalls on the floor of the auditorium above them.

It is believed, from an examination of the scene of the shooting, that the assassin knew Mr. Berry's accustomed hour for reaching his office, and had entered the building some time previous, finding concealment in the corridors.

When Mr. Berry reached his office door, and stood facing it, in the act of inserting the key in the lock, it is believed the assassin walked from his hiding place to the foot of the stairway leading to the gallery, and from that position fired the shot which ended the attorney's life.

A third bullet was found imbedded in the casing of the door to Mr. Berry's office. The direction of the bullet through the woodwork indicates that it must have been fired from a revolver held about 10 feet away and at a spot approximately near the foot of the gallery stairway.

As quickly as possible after the discovery of the tragedy a cordon of citizens was formed around the opera house in the hope that the escape of the assassin might be prevented; but no person who could be suspected of the crime appeared.

Police Have Two Theories.

The police have two theories in regard to the murder. One is that Attorney Berry was shot by a man who not only knew him well, but who is well known to the people of Savanna. The police do not mean by this that they suspect any man. They mean that the assassin is so prominent that he would not even be suspected of the crime.

Upon this theory the police explain the failure to detect any suspicious character in or near the opera house before or after the shooting. It is pointed out that if, as they fear, the assassin is a prominent citizen, he easily could have joined the crowds that assembled around the body without exciting the slightest suspicion.

The rumor that a woman's name will be mixed up in the affair is so vague that it can be referred to only with the greatest reserve. In fact, the rumor cannot be traced to any clearly defined source.

The police have worked incessantly for ten hours on the crime, without finding a definite clew. They have not given up hope, however. A close inquiry into the relations between the murdered man and certain parties known to be unfriendly to him has been instituted, in the hope of finding some tangible thread which will lead to a solution of the mystery.

Inquest Behind Closed Doors.

The coroner impaneled a jury and the inquest began at 2 o'clock behind closed doors, even the newspaper reporters being excluded from the rooms. An adjournment was taken at 6 o'clock this evening until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The excitement has abated to some extent, although the streets were filled with people tonight all anxious to learn the latest developments.

The wife and two daughters of the murdered man are prostrated over the affair. Mrs. Berry refuses to believe that her husband

THE SYMPATHETIC STRIKE.

"So you're going to strike? Haven't I paid you good wages?"

"Yes."

"Haven't I treated you squarely for years?"

"Yes."

"Then why do you want to injure my business by striking?"

"You want us to deliver goods to the 'struck' houses."

"I have to sell all the goods I can in order to pay the good wages you are getting."

"Well, we're sorry, but we refuse to deliver goods to those houses."

"Will you want to work for me again when the strike is over?"

"Yes, I suppose so. We've got no kick on you personally."

"Will you expect me to pay you the same wages you are now getting?"

"Certainly, if we do our work satisfactorily."

"After you have caused me a severe financial loss by striking?"

"Well, we're sorry to hurt your business."

"Could you blame me if I refused to take any of you back after you've done all you can to hurt me?"

BALFOUR FACES A CRISIS.

British Premier Must Resist a Vote of Censure Today.

WILD SCENE IN THE COMMONS.

Speaker Compels Adjournment After Two Hours of Tumult.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, May 23, 3 a. m.—The house of commons last night became a mob. After two hours of the wildest disorder, in which no member of the cabinet was permitted to speak, the speaker took the unprecedented course of adjourning the house.

As a result of the extraordinary crisis Premier Balfour today will face a vote of censure on the direct charge that he has violated his pledge as prime minister.

The crisis was precipitated by a discussion over Chamberlain's preferential tariff scheme.

In his recent Edinburgh speech Premier Balfour gave an implied pledge that he would not deal with the subject without first appealing to the country.

Begins Over Tariff Scheme.

Last night Premier Balfour, replying to a question, said that he did not consider himself pledged to inaction in regard to colonial preference except so far as parliamentary action was concerned. He reiterated that the government did not intend to deal with the fiscal question in the present parliament. The matter of colonial preference might, however, be submitted to a colonial conference in 1906, even though the country had not previously had an opportunity of expressing an opinion on the subject.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, leader of the liberal party, at once charged the premier with violating the pledge he had made in his Edinburgh speech and moved the adjournment of the house to discuss the matter. When he had finished Colonial Secretary Lyttelton rose to reply.

Then Bedlam Breaks Loose.

Then, for no apparent reason, the house abandoned itself to pandemonium. Hoots, groans, and derisive shouts for the police were bandied between the opposing parties.

After three futile attempts Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman managed to make himself heard, saying:

"This is a question on which nobody can reply but the premier himself."

He spoke on, but the remainder of what he said was inaudible. When he sat down Premier Balfour arose, whereupon comparative silence fell on the house, the members expecting an answer to Sir Henry's attack, but the premier's object was merely to appeal to Deputy Speaker Lowther, in the speaker's absence, to ascertain whether he could reply to Sir Henry's last utterance without losing a right to reply on the whole debate.

Balfour's Sharp Retort.

Deputy Speaker Lowther decided that he could reply. Thereupon Premier Balfour, with the house listening eagerly, said briefly that never before in his experience had he known the opposition to think it its right to rule the order in which members of the government must speak. He added that he understood that he occupied, in the eyes of the opposition, the position of a criminal in the dock, but he never heard of a criminal not being allowed to listen to the full accusation against him.

A roar of ministerial cheers greeted the answer. Mr. Lyttelton again arose, whereupon the uproar started all over again.

Mr. Lyttelton showed the greatest self-possession in his difficult position. Standing at the treasury table, flushed, but immobile, times out of number he essayed to speak, always beginning:

"The prime minister," and always being shouted down with cries of "Balfour! Balfour! Let him defend his own honor. Let him fight his own battles," etc.

Speaker Adjourns the House.

Whenever the storm showed signs of subsiding the Irish members joined in, helping the hubbub, until finally the deputy speaker, for the first time, put in force one of the new rules adopted by the present parliament empowering the speaker in cases of grave disorder to adjourn the house.

The liberal leaders afterwards held a conference, and it is expected that a vote of censure on Premier Balfour will be moved today by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman.

PRAY IN MAYOR'S OFFICE.

Philadelphia Ministers Carry Gas Campaign Into City Hall.

WEAVER HAS HIDDEN PLAN.

Tells Clergymen He Will Use More Drastic Measure than Veto.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 22.—[Special.]—The campaign of prayer by the preachers here against the gas lease was carried into Mayor Weaver's office today. About 100 ministers knelt about him and prayed that he take action against the proceedings of the city in leasing the municipal gas works to a private concern for seventy-five years. While one minister exhorted the mayor the rest prayed.

The mayor declared he would kill the measure. As he realized that his veto would be useless, he said he would take more drastic measures. He would not announce his plan, but said it would be in operation in a few days.

As the spokesman began to address the mayor the balance of the ministers dropped to their knees and began to pray.

Finally, Weaver, pale and shaking, raised his hand for silence. Those on their knees staid there while the mayor was speaking.

Mayor Hints at Secret Plan.

"Men of God," said the mayor, "I say to you that at no time in the last two years ever have I varied in my thought toward the city of Philadelphia. I have never ceased to fight for it, and never, as long as I sit in this office, will I cease to fight for it.

"You have seen what I think of the gas lease. Within twenty-four hours after the passage of that bill by the councils I made up my mind what I would do. No living soul but myself knows what I propose to do, but I shall carry out my purpose."

"But," cried one of the ministers, "you know your veto of this bill will be nothing. It will be passed over your veto. Cut off the heads of your departments. They are traitors to the city."

"I know that," replied the mayor. "I know my veto is useless, but I tell you the gas lease will not be consummated. As to the methods I have worked out to prevent this they will develop within the next two or three days. I will use all of my power to prevent this great iniquity."

Keeps Both Sides Guessing.

There is only one thing that the opponents of the gas lease can depend upon Weaver for. He will veto the bill. The organization cannot depend upon him any more than its enemies can.

"Perhaps the mayor will stand firm," said one minister, dubiously shaking his head.

"Not one of us knows what the mayor will do," said a leader. "What's more, nobody cares."

At a massmeeting held later it was resolved to boycott socially and in business the councilmen who will override the mayor's veto on the lease.

There will be a parade of protest Saturday, and tomorrow every business and trade organization in the city will meet to take action on the gas lease question.

ALTON B. PARKER AS SURGEON.

Temporarily Dresses Granddaughter's Hand, Crushed in Lawn Swing, and Carries Her to Doctor.

Esopus, N. Y., May 22.—[Special.]—If little Mary Hall should not be compelled to go through life with a mutilated hand it will be because of the surgical skill of her grandfather, Former Judge Alton B. Parker.

Mr. Parker and Mary were swinging on the lawn at Rosemount when Mary's hand was caught in the swing and the third finger so crushed it hung by a shred. Mr. Parker skillfully replaced the finger and telephoned the Rev. C. Mercer Hall, the child's father, to have a physician meet him at Kingston.

He then carried Mary to the railway station, where he walked up and down soothing her till the train came. With the child resting in his arms the journey was made to Kingston, where Dr. Norwood redressed the hand.

NO GOOD OR EVIL FOR HIM.

The Rev. Hugh O. Pentecost Says He Yields to All Temptation.

ELIMINATES MORAL SENSE.

New York Preacher Discovers There Is No Right or Wrong.

New York, May 22.—[Special.]—The Sunrise club had its last meeting of the season tonight and attempted to settle the question of right and wrong, good and evil. It is a symposium of minds that dwell on heights and interchange views from eyes which look toward the dawn. While what constitutes right and what wrong was not settled so definitely that the club will have nothing to do next year, its assembled ists, ologists, and osophists feel that the meeting is one step forward in human progress.

The most remarkable views of the evening were those expressed by the Rev. Hugh O. Pentecost. He said:

"I tried in my youth to read and understand philosophers and metaphysicians. I gave it up. It was too hard for me. Then I settled it all for myself. Right and wrong, good and bad, moral and immoral ought and ought not to have no meaning for me. The happiest moment of my life was when I found I had eliminated my conscience root and branch and had no moral sense whatever.

Yields to All Temptation.

"I got there by this process: I went back to nature. I found that one single principle exists in the universe—seeking the line of least resistance. We simply always do the thing which it is easiest to do under given circumstances.

"Good and evil are all gammon and spinach to me. From the martyr at the stake to the most abject criminal on the gallows we are all doing the things we do because it is impossible for us to do anything else.

"If you would get rid of conscience and all that tommyrot you would have a solution for every problem in life. I have no fear of God or devil. I have no desire to go to heaven and have no dread of going to hell. Every temptation I have in the world I yield to—every one. And I am not a bit different from all of you. I have not a lighter nature at all—nor any lower in nature. I propose to yield to every temptation. I only have to be sure it is a temptation. If it is—goodby, I'm gone.

Beats Wife When He Likes.

"If I wanted to get drunk I'd get drunk. If I wanted to beat my wife I'd beat her. If I do not, it's because I had rather not. It's more comfortable. Shall I blame another man who drinks and beats his wife because it gives him joy?

"Character? There's no such thing as character. Those persons have good character to me who have those desires which I consider beautiful desires and act on them."

James F. Morton Jr., free love advocate and philosophical anarchist, said the world was troubled by conventional views of right and wrong, but that to say there is no right and wrong at all is to throw out the baby with the bath.

"What is right?" he asked. "That which is in accordance with the process of evolution. We say good egg and bad egg. We mean exactly the same thing when we say good man and bad man. Good egg? It is an egg which fulfills the mission of egginess, the egg which is every inch an egg. Bad egg? We mean by that an egg not expressing itself on the plane that belongs to an egg. That's a definition of right and wrong as it belongs to human beings. If an act is in accordance with the broader movement of the universe from incoherent to coherent, from indefinite to definite, it is right."

KIDNAP ROEBLING'S GRANDSON?

Relatives of Missing 14 Year Old Boy Fear That Outsiders Have Stolen Him.

Asheville, N. C., May 22.—[Special.]—Siegfried Roebling, grandson of the builder of the Brooklyn bridge, is missing without apparent cause. Some fear he may have been kidnaped. He is 14 years old.

PEACE MAY COME IN STRIKE TODAY.

Negotiations Are Resumed, and Levy Mayer Says Express Companies Stand In Way.

ALL ELSE NOW IS ARRANGED.

Lumber Concerns Order Deliveries and Men Quit, Threatening a Wide Spread of Trouble.

MAYOR TOLD MILITIA IS READY.

Peace again seems to hover over the warring elements in the teamsters' struggle.

Negotiations have been resumed between the unions and the employers, and when a long conference ended at midnight in the apartments of Levy Mayer in the Annex, Mr. Mayer made this statement:

"The committee and I have been talking over the situation with reference to the express companies. All other matters are practically arranged.

"With reference to the express companies another meeting will be held tomorrow."

Hope for Change in Attitude.

The express companies hitherto have been the obstacle to the settlement, and the basis for the renewal of negotiations and hope was an apparent change in their attitude.

The proposal was made during the day that the express companies reemploy their striking drivers, or those of them they need, by changing the men from one firm to another, so that no company would take back the men who had violated contracts with it. This would allow the express managers to maintain their original position and yet give a portion of the drivers jobs.

The express people said they would have no blacklist.

Late Conference at Annex.

At the late meeting in the Annex, in the apartments of Mr. Mayer, were President C. P. Shea of the teamsters' union, A. J. Reed, W. J. Gibbons, James Barry, Jerry McCarthy, Peter W. Reitz, and John Smyth for the unions.

The union committee left the teamsters' joint council headquarters at 145 Randolph street at 9:30 o'clock. The meeting with Mr. Mayer was held behind closed doors and did not end until 12 p. m. Then Mr. Mayer made the statement for both sides. President Shea added this remark:

"I am always on the lookout for peace while negotiations are on."

Mr. Barry of the railway expressmen's union said: "I think we'll get together."

The teamsters' committee later reported progress to the joint council and it adjourned to meet again in special session tonight.

Meantime the Mayer-Shea conference will be continued during the day.

Secretary Easley Here Today.

Ralph M. Easley, secretary of the National Civic federation, will arrive in town today, and if there seems to be need of his services he will take up the question of a settlement.

The strike yesterday grew to the extent of 125 lumber wagon drivers employed by two firms. Unless peace is reached speedily the spread will be much greater within a day or two.

Union Makes First Peace Move.

The renewal of peace negotiations was brought about at the instance of the union. President Shea and Mr. Reed of the furniture drivers' union called on Mr. Mayer in his office early in the afternoon. The visit was unofficial and was made by the union leaders in the hope of arranging another meeting with the employers.

After a short discussion it was arranged that Shea and Reed, together with a representative committee from the teamsters' joint council, should meet Mr. Mayer at the Annex in the evening. Later the lawyer requested that the committee should come to the conference with full power to act in case an agreement was reached. Shea promised to go before the council meeting in the evening and secure, if possible, the ratification of such a plan. The hour for meeting was set for 9:30 o'clock. The "full powers" were not secured but the committee was sent.

Talk of a New Proposition.

When Shea returned to union headquarters in the Briggs house the rumor immediately spread that he had brought back a new proposition from the express companies. It was said that while the companies still refused to reinstate their former employes who had struck, a plan had been evolved which was satisfactory to the strike leaders and which would not prove embarrassing to the express companies.

The companies, it was said at that time, were willing to exchange men. For example, the American Express company, while it would not reinstate its strikers, would not bar those drivers who struck against the United States Express company from applying for positions, and would not discriminate against them.

Plan Is Discussed by Leaders.

This new proposition about the express companies was given considerable discussion at the joint meeting of the national executive committee and the strike committee from the teamsters' council at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The session lasted an hour and was presided over by President Shea.

One other subject which was reported to have occupied the attention of the joint committee meeting was the leadership of President Shea. The teamsters' head, it was said, had devised a ruse by which he hoped to "get rid" of the executive board of the union. Shea, it was said, had secured credentials from President Gompers and had presented them to each member of the board, whereby they were authorized to go out to the other cities and solicit strike funds in the name of the American Federation of Labor. Before they accepted, however, the executive members took the hint and announced their intention individually to remain in Chicago until the strike is settled.

President Gompers left at 6 p. m. for Minneapolis, from which place he will begin a tour of Minnesota, Iowa, and Missouri. Before he left he declared he had made no important moves in connection with the strike during the day.

"I am going on my way to fulfill my engagements in other cities," he said. "Unless I should be summoned it is not likely that I shall return to Chicago. From the present indications peace seems to be only a matter of a few days. I sincerely hope that it will be consummated."

Peace Dove Also Seen in City Hall.

A peace dove of the same general character as that described in the foregoing also was seen in the city hall in the afternoon, when the express companies conceded the one point to the mayor and the council "peace committee." Each insisted it would not take back former employés who had broken their contracts with it, but agreed that if any other company cared to hire any of them the former employer would make no objection. In other words, there would be no "black list." The express people, however, insisted they never had intended to make a black list.

The concession pleased the mayor so much he arranged for another meeting at 9 o'clock this morning, at which it could be talked over more fully. It was argued that by that time its effect on the general situation could be determined more thoroughly.

The conference was arranged by the mayor and Chairman Dever of the council committee. It was held in the mayor's office and lasted an hour. At it were, in addition to Mayor Dunne and Ald. Dever, Ald. Finn, McCormick (Twenty-first), and Badenoch of the council committee, Alonzo Wygant of the United States Express company, James L. Calhoun of the Adams Express company, George C. Taylor of the American company, Bernard Wygant of the Wells-Fargo company, W. L. Little of the Pacific company, W. R. Bresie of the Pacific company, C. P. Cooper of the Northern Pacific company, and Levy Mayer, attorney for the Employers' association.

Mayor Talks of the Conference.

In speaking of its results afterward, the mayor had this to say:

"The representatives of the express companies told us plainly they would not agree to take back any of the men who had broken contracts with them. Each absolutely would refuse to do this, and would insist that its former employés who had violated their agreement with their employers would not be taken back by that employer under any circumstances. They had been discharged and must stay discharged.

"On this point the managers of the companies were equally firm and insisted the point could not be yielded, no matter what might be the outcome. They were in a position where they could hire all the new men they wanted, and would do so.

"Finally they were asked if they intended to establish a 'blacklist.' To this they said they did not. Each company could do as it pleased about hiring new men and be the judge of its own employés. There would be no agreement by which a former employé was to be put on a 'blacklist' by his old employer and an attempt made to prevent him from getting work in the future. The point was that no company would take back any of the men who had struck on it.

"This was as far as we got, and it was agreed we should hold another meeting tomorrow morning. Whether anything further will be done then, it is impossible now to say."

Mayor Still Considering Troops.

Mayor Dunne still held the question as to whether he would ask the governor for troops under consideration while he was working for peace. His position was that he did not want to do it unless he had to and he hoped he would not have to.

The mayor talked with Gov. Deneen over the long distance telephone in the morning and the governor told him he could give him militia on two hours' notice. He also had a conference with Edward Hines, head of the Wood Industries association, in the afternoon, in which he questioned Mr. Hines as to the probability of the strike spreading. At the conclusion of the latter talk the mayor expressed his present mental attitude as follows:

"In Pope's 'Essay on Man' there is a line which reads: 'Hope springs eternal in the human breast,' and naturally I am still hoping there will be no need for troops."

Reviews Talk with Mr. Hines.

"Mr. Hines called on me," he went on, "at my request. He has been keeping me advised as to the conditions in the industries which he represents. He said to me, 'Well, we're in it at last,' and told me there are now 125 teamsters for the lumbermen on strike, but whether there would be more tomorrow he could not say. He also said if there were he would have to call on me for police protection. I assured him he would have it, but told him I still had hopes there would be no further spread of the strike.

"My talk with Gov. Deneen was simply as to what could be done if the militia were asked for on short notice. I told the governor that just now I had hopes it would not be necessary to call them out, but, at the same time, the situation was a delicate one, and there was no knowing what might happen.

"I informed him that Sheriff Barrett and myself were in constant touch as to what we could do with the forces at our command in keeping the peace, and until we were persuaded we could not go any farther we would not call on him, but the moment it became plain the strike was assuming such proportions we could not handle it we would appeal to him at once.

"He answered that he had made arrangements by which state troops would be on the streets of Chicago within two hours of the time the call was made. He said all the militia of the state would be at our disposal if it became necessary. His reply was in every way most satisfactory and prompt."

Wholesale Grocers Discuss Strike.

The executive committee of the Wholesale Grocers' association met in the rooms of the Commercial Exchange in the Masonic temple in the afternoon, and the strike was fully discussed. What action the meeting decided on none of the members present would state. It is believed that ways and means of bringing the express companies to an understanding with the drivers were discussed.

The meeting was attended by Franklin MacVeagh, Rollin A. Keyes, Graeme Stewart, H. B. Steele, F. H. Armstrong of Reid, Murdoch & Co., and E. J. Warner of Sprague, Warner & Co.

"There are so few differences between the teamsters and the employers that I cannot see why the strike should not be settled speedily," said Mr. MacVeagh. "The attitude of the express companies is not so hostile and unrelenting as the teamsters appear to believe. In fact, during last week's conferences between the employers and Mr. Shea and Mr. Reed, the latter did not consider that the attitude of the express companies offered any serious obstacle to a settlement. While the companies have said they will not take back any of the men who struck while in their employ, there is no intention to blacklist these strikers and there is no reason why the men who worked, say, for the United States company cannot be reinstated in the American company, or vice versa."

CHANGE OF TIME.

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Commencing May 21, the Cleveland and Pittsburg Express will leave Chicago at 8:30 p. m. instead of 10:30 p. m. The Columbus and Wheeling Express will leave at 8:30 p. m. instead of 8:00 p. m. All other trains will arrive and depart as formerly.

LUMBER DRIVERS JOIN STRIKERS.

Two Concerns Start by Ordering Deliveries to the Boycotted Houses.

MAY MEAN A BIG SPREAD.

Is First Step Toward Tying Up the Building Industries in the City.

The strike was extended yesterday to two lumber concerns employing a total of 125 teamsters. They were the Edward Hines Lumber company and the Rittenhouse & Embree company. When deliveries were ordered to the boycotted houses, in accordance with the ultimatum of the united wood industries, the drivers walked out. Subsequently goods were taken to the affected firms with nonunion teamsters under police protection.

Fifteen more lumber companies probably will be affected today in consequence of orders for material from the boycotted firms. These were received during the day, but no attempt was made to effect deliveries. The lumber men met in the forenoon and decided to force the issue at once. The representatives of the sixty-five concerns in the association declared they were ready to stand by the ultimatum.

Hines' Orders Are Peremptory.

In consequence of this attitude steps were taken in the afternoon to have the custom of the boycotted houses spread among the lumber firms so far unaffected. In this way, if the strike continues, the entire sixty-five material concerns may be tied up before the end of the week. President Edward Hines of the Association of Wood Industries issued peremptory instructions at the close of the day that all orders from the boycotted houses must be filled at once, expulsion from the organization being the penalty for refusal.

The drivers for the Hines and Rittenhouse yards walked out in the morning. Hines ordered a delivery of lumber for boxes and flooring to Marshall Field & Co. The drivers refused to make it and immediately were discharged. Then the rest left their places. The Rittenhouse company ordered a delivery of lumber to the Fair store for the addition in course of completion. The result was the same. Each concern then secured enough nonunion drivers to make these deliveries.

Can Fill Places of Strikers.

"We can get enough nonunion drivers to fill the places of the strikers without going outside of Chicago," said Mr. Hines. "The affected yards had no trouble today. This situation has been forced upon us by the ill advised attitude of the union. The men violated their contracts and refused our offer to arbitrate. The test had to come sooner or later. It means a hard blow to our business. I suppose it will take us six months to get back our country business alone after the end of the strike. Other cities now are getting the orders we should have. It is a black eye for Chicago, commercially speaking."

President Frank S. Wright convened a meeting of the stone dealers in the afternoon in the Rector building and the proposition of following the example of the lumber men was discussed. No decision was reached and the meeting was adjourned to this morning. This afternoon the representatives of firms operating factories for the manufacture of building supplies will meet for the same purpose.

Union Members Fear Spread.

According to the officials of the Associated Building Trades of Chicago, comprised of those unions which first would be affected by a "lumber famine," there will be no spread of the strike to their organization. The only thing they fear is that the tieup in the building industries will become general through a shutdown of the lumber yards or inability to deliver.

Outside of the building trades organization, the carpenters' union is the only one that would be affected. This probably would be the first touched, but its position is with the building trades. The only contingency of quitting work is the lack of material. It makes no difference to the men whether they work with "fair" or "unfair" lumber.

This contingency, however, is considered acute. It is taken for granted among the union men that if the strike is not settled within a few days there will be a general tieup of the building industry of the city.

Hope to Limit Strike Boundaries.

A general shutdown is not anticipated, but a gradual forcing out of work. As far as the sympathetic strike is concerned all talk of that kind will end, said one labor leader yesterday, when the unions in the building trades are touched direct.

Plans were made yesterday to work for peace as soon as the expected trouble begins. A committee will be appointed to call on the teamsters and urge that something be done to confine the strike to its proper boundaries.

"I expect that such a committee would be turned down by the teamsters and would do no good," said Secretary A. L. Macdonald of the Associated Building Trades. "If we told them we were innocent and should not be dragged into the fight, they would tell us that they could not help it, that it was the employers that forced on the issue. Such action is the only thing we can do, however."

"To tell the truth," continued Macdonald, "there is not the greatest sympathy between certain unions in the building trades and the teamsters."

Fifteen Ironworkers Go Out.

This attitude of Secretary Macdonald was not substantiated by the developments of the day. Fifteen ironworkers threw down their tools and left the Fair building when the delivery of Hines lumber was made. The men called up their business agent, who told them to remain at work. They refused, and walked out in a body.

It is estimated that 9,000 carpenters would be the first to feel the direct effects of a building shutdown. Outside of these men nearly 25,000 in the following unions affiliated with the building trades would be directly affected.

A meeting of the arbitration board of the Carpenters and Builders' council is called for tomorrow afternoon. It is asserted that it is for other purposes than to discuss the strike, but it is admitted some one might bring up that issue. This association has decided to remain out of the trouble as far as possible.

FIRE IN STRIKE BOUND PLANT.

J. W. Embree Declares He Believes Lumber Yard Blaze Not Connected with Labor Situation.

J. W. Embree of the firm of Rittenhouse & Embree, whose lumber yard at Thirty-fifth street and Center avenue was partly destroyed by fire early yesterday morning, involving a loss of $6,000, said that he did not connect the fire with the strike situation. He is president of the Lumbermen's association.

"It is impossible to tell how the fire started," said Mr. Embree, "but I want to go on record as saying that I do not believe the strike had anything to do with it."

The fact that thirty-five union drivers employed by the firm went on a strike yesterday rather than deliver, as ordered, to strike bound houses caused many persons to conclude that the fire was of incendiary origin.

CURRY TO PROSECUTE POLICE.

Will Appear Before Justice Prindiville on Thursday to Tell Story of Assault.

Two policemen from the Kensington station will be compelled to defend themselves against charges made by Frank Curry, the strike breaker, when they are arraigned before Justice Prindiville next Thursday afternoon. The policemen are Frederick Tallowitz and John Lorch, both of whom are under arrest charged with holding Curry when he was attacked by a union teamster, and at the same time taking part in the assault.

SOME DELIVER IN SECRET.

MEMBERS OF TEAM OWNERS' ASSOCIATION ARE BUSY.

Act with Consent of Unions Pending Action of the Teamsters to Submit to Arbitration the Refusal of Men to Drive to Boycotted Houses—Believed to Explain Neutral Position, Despite Strong Pressure Brought to Bear by Employers.

Secret deliveries to strike bound houses are being made by some of the members of the Chicago Team Owners' association with the consent of the union pending action by the teamsters to submit to arbitration the refusal of the men to drive to the boycotted firms.

This is said to explain the neutral position of the Team Owners' association, maintained since the beginning of the strike despite strong pressure brought to bear by the Employers' association, the Lumbermen's association, and others allied against the teamsters' union.

The deliveries are being made with wagons that cannot easily be identified—in some cases they have had the names painted out—and by nonunion drivers.

Union Man Explains Situation.

The situation was explained as follows by a union teamster yesterday:

"The Team Owners' association is friendly to the union. The organization may be aware that these deliveries to the boycotted houses are being made, but so long as the matter has not been officially brought to the union's attention what is the use of kicking up a row about it? The Chicago Team Owners' association is not trying to force an issue with the union, and there is no reason why the union should interfere with its friends. If an attempt was made to force the deliveries with union drivers that would be a different proposition.

"The Lumbermen's association probably could make the same kind of an arrangement with the union if it hadn't intentionally sought to force an issue."

Officials Fail to See Move.

When President Shea and other officials of the teamsters' union were asked about this phase of the situation they said it had not been officially brought to their notice and they didn't believe it. They also said they were too busy with other matters to pay any attention to a minor detail.

That the secret deliveries are being made was verified by inquiries of the police department and at the sheriff's office, where details have been supplied to guard the wagons.

COAL MINE OPERATORS SAY CONTRACTS MUST BE KEPT.

They Will Stand Together in Demand That Union Workmen Fulfill Their Agreements.

That preventive rather than restorative measures are the cure for industrial troubles is the opinion expressed in a set of resolutions adopted by a conference of commissioners of the coal operators' associations and secretaries of coal commissions at the Annex yesterday afternoon.

The report of a committee urged that operators must come together and stand together on a common interest in enforcing the employers' right to hire and discharge, insisting upon the enforcement of all agreements to the letter "just precisely as they are made," and providing the machinery for enforcing these agreements.

The coal operators were declared to have a common interest in all those and other questions and to that end they unanimously voted to say to the United Mine Workers of America:

We do not propose to make an agreement with you in the future unless you will agree in advance that in the respective coal producing states parties to the various joint agreements—no measures of legislation shall be introduced unless mutually agreed upon by the operators and the miners.

The operators also declared they had a common interest in saying:

We have an agreement to employ your members at stipulated prices and we shall expect you to supply the necessary men at the stipulated prices to do the work for which a contract has been made, and if the united mine workers fail to supply a sufficient number of men, then whatever loss results from a failure to carry out its agreements must be made good. Otherwise organized labor makes an unreasonable demand, and one which should not be conceded, of employing their members only.

A report advocating the formation of a federation of coal mine operators was approved.

LABOR CHIEFS FAIL TO APPEAR.

Contempt Proceedings Delayed by Absence of Defendants and Illness of Their Attorney.

Contempt proceedings against leaders in the teamsters' strike were delayed yesterday morning by the nonappearance of some of the defendants and by the indisposition of John P. Geeting, attorney for the men who had been summoned to appear before Judge Kohlsaat.

The union leaders who have been summoned to appear may be arrested on citations in order to hurry proceedings along. The hearing before Judge Kohlsaat will be taken up again this morning and the hearing before Master Sherman will be taken up tomorrow morning.

Edwin L. Reed, manager of the Employers' Teaming company, was the first witness to take the stand yesterday before Master Sherman. In the meantime the lawyers for either side had gone before Judge Kohlsaat in the contempt proceedings, which were continued on request of the strikers' attorneys.

Mr. Reed, who was formerly in charge of the wagon service of the Wells-Fargo Express company, told on the stand about calling in seventy-five of the wagon men and asking them to vote on the question of right or wrong in the strike situation. He said the vote showed that the men were more than satisfied with conditions as well as willing to handle goods for Montgomery Ward & Co.

Mr. Reed's testimony, it is declared, is significant and will form the basis for contempt proceedings along with the refusals to answer before the master's hearing.

EXTRA POLICEMEN LET OUT.

Four Are Discharged as Unfit for Service—Two Regular Men Are Suspended.

Four temporary patrolmen were discharged and two of the regular force were suspended yesterday by Chief O'Neill. They are:

George W. Alexander, Sheffield avenue station; accused of deserting a wagon he had been detailed to guard, and of visiting saloons along the route.

Extra Patrolman John Brown, East Chicago avenue station; accused of associating with persons of questionable character.

Extra Patrolman Walter Boyer, same station; accused of associating with improper characters.

Extra Patrolman John J. Hogan of Inspector Revere's command; accused of disorderly conduct, which caused him to be arrested and fined.

John McCarthy, Central station; accused of grumbling when detailed for strike duty and of expressing too freely his views of the strike.

Extra Patrolman Michael Ryan, Desplaines street station, said to have flourished a revolver menacingly at passersby until he was disarmed by a fellow policeman.

"This is only the sifting process which is always necessary when we have a lot of new men," the chief said as he issued the order affecting the policemen. "We are continually sifting them out to get out the bad and keep the good."

GRAND JURY TO INDICT RIOTERS.

Begins Investigation of Cases of Violence in Connection with Strike.

STRONG CHARGE BY JUDGE

Instigators of Trouble, "Whether High or Low," Must Not Be Spared.

The machinery of the May grand jury began operations yesterday. The wheels were oiled and the mechanism was tested with several minor cases. This is the engine that is expected to grind out indictments for violence in connection with the teamsters' strike.

Investigation of the murder of Charles J. Carlstrom, the wagonmaker who was killed by sluggers early in the month, probably will be begun today. Fred Meckel, who was Carlstrom's employer, has declared that he will see this matter through if it costs him every cent that he possesses. The jury is likely to make a careful investigation of the methods in vogue in "educational department work" among the labor unions.

Managers and owners of downtown department stores and the heads of various teaming companies and the strike leaders may be called. Assistant State's Attorney Fake said he would be ready to present his evidence early in the week and he will demand speedy trial of those who may be indicted for acts of violence in connection with the strike, in order that there may be little time for the witnesses to be intimidated by the "educational committees."

Judge Urges Rigid Inquiry.

In instructing the jury Judge Barnes said: "It is apparent that there are many acts of violence going on in the city and that these acts are growing out of the present labor troubles. It is the duty of you gentlemen of the grand jury to inquire fully into these acts and get to the instigators of the trouble, whether they be high or low in rank."

State's Attorney Healy smiled significantly when he was asked his opinion of the May grand jury.

"I would rather be known," he said, "for what I have done than for what I say I am about to do."

He added that he would bring to the attention of the jury several of the more flagrant acts of violence growing out of the strike, but would allow the large number of petty cases to go to preliminary hearing before police magistrates.

It is thought Michael Fewer, who owns a concert hall at Halsted and Monroe streets, will be one of the first who will be brought to the attention of the grand jury. Fewer is said to have defied the state's attorney.

Wodack recently was fined $200 and costs, but for some reason Mayor Dunne has not revoked his license, although the licenses were taken away from all the other concert hall keepers who were convicted. Carroll's case is pending in the Criminal court, and he, with Fewer and Wodack, have persisted in continuing in business.

State's Attorney in Earnest.

"It seems that some of these concert hall owners consider this matter as a joke," said Attorney Healy, "but they will find it a serious and expensive joke before they get through. I gave them good warning that they must get out of that sort of business and stay out while I am state's attorney. If necessary I shall secure indictments for each and every day that the defendants carry on their concert hall business. If these men consider themselves stronger and mightier than the law of the state we will give them all the fight they desire."

Alexander A. McCormick, 501 Stock Exchange building, was appointed foreman of the jury.

EXPRESS DRIVER IS SLUGGED.

Three Men Beat and Kick William Habbell Into Unconsciousness in Polk Street.

Three strike sympathizers severely beat William Habbell, 17 years old, 383 West Taylor street, at Polk and Morgan streets last night. The boy is a driver employed by the American Express company and was returning from work. He was slugged and kicked until he was unconscious.

"Doped" and robbed of his clothing, as he said, by union men, George Harris, a negro, and recently employed as a strike breaker, was discovered in the morning lying in concealment in the weeds beside the Calumet river in South Chicago.

John Wolf, a nonunion driver imported from St. Louis, was slugged in Fred Brill's saloon at 318 Clark street in the afternoon. It is said he started trouble and drew a knife. A riot call was sent in and Fred Grosshans, a restaurant keeper, was arrested.

Annie Stivetts assisted a man in an attack on Eugene Watson, a colored strike breaker, in her father's saloon at 546 Canal street, last evening, striking the negro on the head with a pop bottle when the two men were struggling on the floor. The pop bottle was broken.

Watson's injuries, it was said at he county hospital, are severe. Miss Stivetts' face was cut and one of her eyes blackened in her effort to preserve order in the saloon.

TRY TO PREVENT RACE RIOTS.

Police Arrest All Persons Found in the Black Belt Carrying Concealed Weapons.

Extra precautions were taken yesterday to prevent a repetition of the race riots which occurred in and near the "black belt" on Saturday and Sunday and resulted in two deaths and serious injury to a dozen men. Policemen were detailed with instructions to arrest all men found carrying concealed weapons.

Justice Caverly announced that he would impose the maximum fine on all persons caught with concealed weapons, and he fined Matthew White, colored, $150 and costs. Six other men arrested for carrying concealed weapons asked for a chnge of venue and were taken before Justice Prindiville and fined $25 and costs each.

The police think they have the murderers of little Enoch Carlson. The men under arrest give the names of Charles Patterson and John Jennings.

Mrs. Carlson, mother of the murdered boy, has received several anonymous letters containing threats and warnings to beware of the consequences of race persecution. Other residents in the neighborhood have received similar letters.

Two negroes, John and George Williams, are held, charged with the murder of Engstrand, who was killed in the black belt Saturday night. Inquests on the bodies of Engstrand and James Gray, the other victim, have been postponed.

OPPOSES ENLISTMENT OF SON.

Former Striker's Mother Begs to Have Him Released from the United States Navy.

Samuel Klapper, who said he was among the nineteen garment workers who struck in Montgomery Ward & Co.'s establishment last fall, enlisted in the United States navy yesterday because he was unable to find employment elsewhere.

Soon after he had enlisted his mother visited the naval recruiting station and pleaded so vigorously for the release of her son from enlistment that Lieut. Blamer sent a personal request to the department at Washington in her behalf.

"He is the only one I have left," pleaded the mother. "My other children are dead, and if he goes into the service of his country I will be left entirely alone."

Although Klapper declares he was one of the striking garment workers at Montgomery Ward's store, the head of the garment department said he has no record of such a man working there.

WAR ON SCHOOL STRIKES.

BOARD OF EDUCATION TO CRUSH DEMONSTRATIONS.

Orders Arrest of Delinquent Pupils and Their Parents—Aroused by Resolutions of Sympathy with the Offenders Introduced at the Meeting of the Federation of Labor—Teachers Are Accused of Sympathizing with the Disturbers.

Fearing that what they characterize as the "anarchistic" resolutions introduced at Sunday's meeting of the Chicago Federation of Labor may have the effect of reviving the strike fever in the schools officials of the board of education yesterday determined to resort to stringent methods to prevent further demonstrations.

All pupils attempting to induce other pupils to boycott the public schools are to be arrested. All adults seeking to incite trouble at the schools are to be locked up. All persons, young or adult, attempting to interfere with school children on their way to and from school are to be arrested.

Principals and teachers are expected to cooperate with the school authorities in apprehending all disturbers lurking about the school houses.

Teachers Accused of Complicity.

It was declared that in several instances teachers in the public schools not only have participated in demonstrations, but have encouraged the children to shout at the nonunion teamsters. A school trustee said this charge would be investigated.

"If it is found that teachers have taken any part in the school demonstrations I will recommend their immediate dismissal from th service," he said. "I intend to investigate. I would not be surprised to find the report is true, inasmuch as the teachers are allied with the federation of labor."

Supt. W. Lester Bodine of the compulsory education department made this declaration:

"I intend to arrest all persons who seek to incite trouble at any of the schools or attempt to interfere with the pupils going to or returning from their studies. I propose to apply the law to every person who attempts to interfere with the administration of the public school system of Chicago. I shall have the thirty-six truant officers and special policemen employed by this department constantly in the districts which have been affected by school strikes. A reserve squad will be kept at this office to be sent out at a moment's notice."

Fifteen Boy Strikers Arrested.

During the day fifteen boys were arrested by the truant officers. They are charged with attempting to get school children to go out on strike and with inciting trouble at the schools which they attended. They will be arraigned in the Juvenile court today. The boys arrested are:

Arthur Halpin—Carpenter school.
Michael Niger—Carpenter school.
Martin O'Mally—Carpenter school.
Frank Polczyk—Drummond school.
John Bohkowski—Drummond school.
August Skazynski—Drummond school.
Edward Welch—Fallon school.
John Stock—Fallon school.
Paul Beltinger—Fallon school.
Edward Shimanski—Pulaski school.
Loren Herlff—George H. Thomas school.
Earl Hayer—Talcott school.
William Zimmerman—Talcott school.
James Mestichic—Jenner school.
James Hogan—Lincoln school.

The school management committee took no notice of the resolution of sympathy with the school strikers referred to by the labor federation, as Trustee George J. Thompson declared it had been killed by the executive council.

CURRY COMING WITH 150 MEN.

Starts from Kansas City with Teamsters Who Are Guaranteed Permanent Positions.

Kansas City, Mo., May 22.—More than 150 teamsters left here tonight in charge of F. G. Curry, the strike breaker, to take the places of striking teamsters in Chicago. All the men are white and they were guaranteed that their places in Chicago would be permanent if they did the work assigned to them in a satisfactory manner.

ANXIETY FELT FOR DR. HARPER.

President of Chicago University Is Indisposed, but Physicians Deny He Is Seriously Ill.

Rumors have been persistently active at the University of Chicago that President William R. Harper's improvement since he was operated on for cancer Feb. 22 is not encouraging as the recent report of his physicians when he visited New York indicated.

At the student celebration of the Chicago track team's victory over Michigan last night notification was sent to the leaders of the student body that the president was not to be disturbed by cheering, as he was not feeling well.

His physicians, however, deny that there has been any unfavorable change in President Harper's condition. Both Dr. Arthur Dean Bevan and Dr. Frank Billings said his indisposition was not to be attributed to his cancer.

HOLDUP MEN ARE STILL ACTIVE.

Man and Woman Report That They Were Robbed by West Side Highwaymen.

Charles Freeman, 421 West Congress street, reported to the Hinman street police that two young men robbed him on the street last evening as he was on his way home.

Miss Rey Ahler, 231 West Fourteenth street, told the police of the Desplaines street station that a boy about 18 years old snatched her pocketbook as she was on her way home from a visit to friends who live near Monroe and Desplaines streets.

Burglars stole clothing and other property valued at more than $300 from the residence of John Haines, 3151 Prairie avenue, while the family was away from home.

TROOPS READY FOR SERVICE.

Adjutant General Scott Will Be Here Today to Look Over the Strike Situation.

Springfield, Ill., May 22.—Gov. Deneen kept in close touch with Chicago all day and said he would not be surprised to receive a call for troops at any hour. Adj. Gen. Scott went to Chicago tonight to look over the situation. Before leaving he said his department is ready to act upon a moment's notice. The Chicago militia will be called into service first if troops should be needed to quell disturbances, but every commander in the national guard has volunteered the services of his regiment.

OGDEN CROWD'S MAN OUT.

Frank J. Kilcrane Retired and Cummings Reduced from $3,600 Job to $3,000.

Two appointments made by Mayor Dunne last night again caused consternation in the rank and file of the city hall crowd, and outside of it, too, for "Bobby" Burke stood smiling in an aisle when the announcements were made. They were:

EDWARD M. CUMMINGS, gas inspector.
JOHN A. PLONER, oil inspector.

Gossip credits the new oil inspector to Sheriff Barrett and Ald. Werno. Cummings has been backed for years by Ald. Tom Carey. Cummings drops back from a salary of $3,600 in his former position as oil inspector to $3,000 a year as gas inspector. Frank J. Kilcrane, who steps out of the gas inspectorship, has had the backing of the Ogden Gas crowd for many years. Roger Sullivan, it is understood, has been his sponsor and has stood behind him when he and others have been on thin ice inside and outside of convention halls.

Ploner from Mayor's Ward.

Mr. Ploner is a resident of the Twenty-fifth ward—the mayor's ward.

"Ploner is all right in every way, and you can't say anything too good about him," said Sheriff Barrett last night on the council floor. "He has been a deputy sheriff for some time and we have found out his worth. He is all right."

Ald. Werno declared that he was in no way responsible for Ploner's appointment, but admitted that friends of Ploner had interceded for him.

"As far as I know Ploner is all right," said the alderman. "His appointment tonight, however, was really a surprise to me. I know that 'Tom' Barrett is a good friend of Ploner's, and he may have been instrumental in getting his position for him. Some of Mr. Barrett's friends came to me and asked me about Ploner's appointment, recommending him at the same time, and that is all I know."

Makes His Own Appointments.

When Mayor Dunne was asked who stood sponsor for the appointment of the new oil inspector he said:

"I make my own appointments, and that's all there is to it."

"Tom" Carey, Cummings' backer, had nothing to say about the reducing of Cummings from a $3,600 a year job to one paying a salary of $3,000.

"Cummings is to be gas inspector, that's all I know about it," said he. "Ploner comes from the Barrett side of the house, I understand."

MARSHAL ACCUSED OF MURDER.

Lemont Officer Who Killed Prisoner a Month Ago Arrested and Released on Bail.

Town Marshal Peter Kane of Lemont, Ill., was arrested yesterday on a charge of murder and was released on bail. The warrant was obtained by George Tomkoviak, brother of William Tomkoviak, whom the marshal shot a month ago.

Kane had arrested Tomkoviak on the charge of insulting two women. Several men attacked the officer in an attempt to rescue the prisoner. Kane fired three shots, one of which killed Tomkoviak. He was exonerated by a coroner's jury.

Inspector Wheeler has offered a reward for the return of the revolver with which Michael Considine was killed Sunday night. In the confusion which followed the shooting the revolver disappeared. The weapon is a thirty-two caliber revolver, side break, and has the number 7893. The inquest on the body of Considine has been postponed until Thursday morning.

Fred Marx, who accidentally shot and killed his chum, Herman Hensch, Sunday evening was exonerated by a coroner's jury.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Cruel Policeman Discharged.—Harry Lembe was discharged from the police force of Harlem by the village board at its meeting last night, when he was adjudged guilty of cruelty. The charges were that he had fractured the arm of his younger brother, Herman, while the latter was in a disturbance at Elgin street and Franklin avenue one night last week.

Give Horse and Buggy to Alderman.—Ald. John Burns of the Thirtieth ward, who lives at 630 West Forty-second street, was visited last night by a committee of his friends and constituents, who gave him a horse and buggy.

Lord & Thomas Employes Dine.—Employés of Lord & Thomas dined at the Grand Pacific hotel last night. Among the speakers were A. L. Thomas, A. D. Lasker, and C. R. Erwin.

ALWAYS FRESH FOOD.

Crisp and Easily Digested, Malta-Vita Goes Straight From its Huge Ovens to the Many Who Eat It.

The Malta-Vita Pure Food Co., of Battle Creek, Mich., has adopted a successful method of keeping the public always supplied with fresh Malta-Vita, the perfect food.

When Malta-Vita comes from the ovens, it is the crispest, most delicious food in the world, containing only one per cent of moisture. The other 98 per cent is food—brain and bone and nerve and muscle food—the most easily digested because the gelatinized starch of the thoroughly cooked wheat has been converted, by fine malt extract, into maltose (malt sugar).

No other food preparation contains such a high degree of food quality and such a low degree of moisture.

Of course, if Malta-Vita were permitted to stand on the grocery store shelves for months it might lose some of its crispness. But such a state of affairs is not permitted.

The Malta-Vita company limits orders from every wholesale dealer to a quantity which the company knows can be disposed of quickly in the wholesaler's territory. The wholesaler, in turn, makes only such shipments to grocers as he knows they will be able to handle satisfactorily.

Thus the grocer's supply of Malta-Vita is always as fresh and crisp as when it comes from the ovens in the big factory at Battle Creek—always the kind that melts in the mouth.

Malta-Vita is so deliciously refreshing and satisfying that it should be in every home. It is the only perfect food. Best for children and best for grown folks.

At all grocers now 10 cents. Same high quality, same big package as when sold for 15 cents.

Floyd Wilson Starts to Go to Dying Father and Loses Life in Calumet River.

While crossing the Calumet river in a boat to take a train to his dying father yesterday, Floyd Wilson, 289 Washington boulevard, was drowned in spite of the efforts of his companion, Lester Dewitt, to save him. The address of the young man's parents is unknown to his friends.

Wilson had been camping on an island in the Calumet river at One Hundred and Eighteenth street with four friends, Dewitt, John Corbett, John Riehly, and Fred Wicker. Yesterday morning, while in South Chicago, Wilson received a letter from his mother in Ohio that his father was dying.

He immediately returned to his friends and after informing them entered a boat with Dewitt and started to return. Half way across the stream the boat capsized.

COUNCIL WRECKS WEST SIDE HOPES

Aldermen of North and South Sides Unite to Jump On City Hall Project.

VOTE ON DIVISION LINES.

Resolutions Asking for Building In or Near Union Park Sent to Last Repose.

WORK OF THE CITY COUNCIL.
Buried whatever hopes the west side may have had of getting the city hall.
Received and referred an ordinance granting "express privileges" to the Metropolitan "L."
Passed two prohibition district ordinances.
Ordered the ballots opened in the Nineteenth and Twentieth ward election contests.
Received and referred another proposed amendment to the new city code.
Received and referred an ordinance to elevate the Illinois Central tracks to the city limits.
Ordered the finance committee to investigate the contract for keeping street lamp "mantels" in repair.
Passed a "coal hole ordinance," in which nobody can find any meaning.
Adjourned to Wednesday, May 31.

Whatever hopes the west side may have had of getting the city hall were rudely destroyed at the council meeting last evening. The south and north side aldermen united solidly against the scheme and simply buried it. It is unlikely the project ever will be heard of again.

They were not ordinarily polite about the matter, these representatives of the other sections of the city. It would not be a misuse of words to say they were absolutely brutal. In some ways they resembled a band of Apache Indians with a victim bound to the stake while they danced around him and mocked, and jeered, and cheered, and shot arrows into his suffering body.

Ald. Finn had sent in the resolutions favoring the moving of the city hall to the west side adopted by the massmeeting in Union park last Saturday. He asked they be referred to the special committee on city hall, a majority of which is composed of west side aldermen. Those from the north and south sides refused. By a vote of 35 to 28 they sent the matter to the regular committee on city hall, where the west side is in a minority.

Vote Strictly on "Side" Lines.

This practically settled the question of the removal. Every one of the 28 votes was that of a west sider. Not an alderman from the north and south sides but voted with the majority. Ordinarily this would have been enough, but the opposition was not satisfied.

Ald. Finn then asked as a matter of personal favor to him that the resolutions be printed in the council proceedings. It is a courtesy ordinarily granted to every alderman on request. But the victorious majority would not listen to him. By the same vote of 35 to 28 they carried a motion to lay the Finn request on the table. They wanted to give notice as to exactly where they stood.

Mayor Dunne fought bravely for the west siders. He ruled with them throughout, and came nearer using the gavel to force through a resolution than has been attempted in the city council for many years. But it was all useless. The majority knew its rights and insisted on them. It did not do it respectfully, either. It simply stood up on its feet and demanded them. Then, when it had obtained them, it jeered at the beaten minority and openly exulted over its defeat. At the finish, however, the majority felt a little pity in its heart and agreed that the resolutions might be published if it would save the feelings of Ald. Finn.

Referendum Proposed.

The matter first came up on a resolution introduced by Ald. Harris of the west side, asking that the question as to whether the hall be moved to the other side of the river be submitted to a referendum vote.

Ald. Eidemann of the south side raised the point of order that the council could not order a referendum; that it must be done by a petition of the people, and moved to suspend the rules so the Harris resolution could be placed on file.

It takes a two-thirds' vote to suspend the rules and the roll call showed only 36 for it to 27 against, not enough, and the resolution went to the judiciary committee. It did, however, show that the north and south sides were solidly united against the moving proposition, and that was enough. From that time on the opposition proceeded to have fun with the west siders.

Ald. Finn rose to present the Union Park resolutions and asked that they be referred to the special committee on city hall appointed by the mayor some time ago. Three of the five aldermen on this committee come from this section of the city.

"Send them to the real estate committee," yelled Ald. Coughlin, while Ald. McCormick [Fifth], asked they go to the regular committee on city hall, of which he is the chairman, and which has only five of its thirteen members from the west side.

Mayor Rules for West Side.

The mayor did the best he could to get the resolution before the special committee. He ruled that under rule 46 governing the council it was his duty to send all matters "to the appropriate committee," and he considered the special one the appropriate one.

Ald. McCormick was on his feet clamoring that under the rules all matters must go to a regular committee in preference to a special one, and Ald. Coughlin was trying to make a speech, but could not make any one understand what he was saying. Almost every north and south side alderman was on his feet trying to make some kind of a point of order.

Finally Ald. McCormick (Twenty-first) managed to make himself heard and read rule 47, which provides that when two committees are called for, the question to which one a matter shall go must be left to the vote of the council.

"But only one is called for," said the mayor, "and under rule 46 it must go to that one."

"I asked for the regular committee on city hall," yelled Ald. McCormick (Fifth).

"The clerk says he has no such record," said the mayor, who was evidently getting what is called "rattled."

"He'd better get it," stormed the Fifth ward alderman, while Ald. Foreman got a chance to read rule 33, which provides that a regular committee shall always take precedence of a special one. Finally a roll call was had on the question whether the resolutions should go to the regular committee. They were sent there, 35 to 29.

Council Rubs It In.

Then Ald. Finn arose in a mild mannered way and asked that the council at least grant him the favor of having the resolutions printed in the council proceedings. But the opposition would not listen. Ald. Coughlin moved to lay the request upon the table, and again the north and south side aldermen showed their old time majority and the resolutions were practically thrown into the waste paper basket.

Just before the council adjourned Ald. Badenoch made a pacific speech. He said it was scant courtesy to a reputable alderman to refuse even to order printed resolutions his constituents had given him for introduction, and the majority took a change of heart and agreed to put them in the council proceedings with the distinct understanding that the action did not mean anything.

All three roll calls were exactly the same, except that on the first one Ald. Maypole of the Fourteenth ward voted with the majority. The two decisive votes were:

Four west side aldermen were absent—Cullerton, Brennan, Patterson, and Raymer. Had they been there the west side would have had but thirty-two votes, while it will take thirty-six to move the city hall to that section. Two south siders, Snow and Potter, were not at the meeting, and one north sider, Reinberg, was absent. Had they been on hand the majority would have been thirty-eight.

"L" Asks Express Privileges.

The Metropolitan "L" sent in an ordinance, which went to the committee on local transportation, asking permission to do a general express business, handling mail matter and "milk, baggage, bundles, parcels, and all merchandise commonly known as express matter," over all its lines except between the hours of 6:30 and 8 a. m. and 5 and 6:30 p. m.

The request is similar to that made by the Aurora, Elgin and Chicago line when it secured permission to come into the city over the Metropolitan tracks, except that the former only covered the "L" main line while this one applies to all the branches. The first one was refused by the committee.

It is expected other similar requests will be made by the other elevated roads on the plea that it is necessary to get some means of handling small freight in case of deliveries by ordinary methods being stopped by another teamsters' strike.

Track Elevation Ordinance.

Ald. Jones had sent to the committee on track elevation an ordinance to put up the tracks of the Illinois Central and Nickel Plate roads from Seventy-ninth street to the southern city limits and such parts of the tracks of the Rock Island, Lake Shore, Michigan Central, and Western Indiana as are necessary to make the proper crossings. On motion of the committe on elections the council ordered the ballots opened and recounted in the aldermanic contests in the Nineteenth and Twentieth wards.

Ald. Foreman had passed an ordinance requiring that all coal holes, sidewalk elevators, stairways to sidewalks, and similar protected sidewalk openings be kept closed, "except during such time as they are actually in use." As the owner will probably claim they are always "actually in use" nobody paid much attention to it.

Two Prohibition Districts.

Chairman Dunne of the license committee got two prohibition ordinances through. They were for:

The district bounded by Ridge, Evanston, Magnolia, Bryn Mawr, and Southport avenues.

The district bounded by the alley west of Ashland avenue, the alley north of Sixty-third street, the alley east of Western avenue, and the alley south of Fifty-ninth street.

The first one eliminates the dance hall across from the old power house called the "Edgewater club," against which there has been local objection.

The question of cinder concrete came up again when Ald. Martin sent in a resolution, which was sent to the judiciary committee, to amend the new code so as to allow it in building chimneys for two story dwellings.

Ald. Uhlir wanted the contract with the firm of Whitfield & Co. for repairing "mantles" on street lamps rescinded, because the unsuccessful bidder had tied it up in the courts. Chairman Bennett of the finance committee explained that the contract had been awarded because Whitfield did the work for 19 cents a lamp, while his competitor wanted 25, and had the matter referred to his committee over the protest of Ald. Uhlir, 40 to 12.

The council adjourned until May 31, because, as Ald. Bennett explained: "Some of the aldermen want to go fishing on Decoration day."

ACTS ON CHARTER CONVENTION.

Council Committee Reports Recommending Passage of the Foreman Resolution.

Council action for the charter convention was made possible yesterday when the committee on state legislation recommended for passage the resolution introduced by Ald. Foreman providing for the appointment of the members of the convention as provided by the recent law passed by the legislature. The resolution provides for the appointment of seventy-four members of the convention, which is to meet at the call of the mayor.

ROOSEVELT TO KEEP HANDS OFF

Advised by Secretary Metcalf States Must Regulate, President Will Not Interfere in Equitable Fight.

Washington, D. C., May 22.—[Special.]—It developed today that Secretary Metcalf of the department of commerce and labor has made a careful inquiry into the question of the federal control of insurance companies.

The secretary is handicapped by the fact that insurance is not interstate commerce any more than banking is interstate commerce, and even if congress were to define it as such it is not believed the courts would uphold the definition. The conclusion has been reached consequently that the states themselves must regulate insurance.

As a result of the view adopted by Metcalf it may be stated positively the president will not intervene in any way in the Equitable Life Assurance society scandal.

DR. STOCKHAM IS ARRAIGNED: HER PLEA IS "NOT GUILTY."

Noted Woman Physician Will Contest Right of Government to Exclude Her Books from Mails.

Dr. Alice B. Stockham, who was indicted a few days ago for sending through the mails publications disapproved by postal censors, was arraigned yesterday before Judge Bethea in the United States District court. Her attorney, Clarence Darrow, entered a plea of not guilty. Dr. Stockham said she will fight the case to the end.

"I have made an attempt," she added, "to meet the demand for knowledge, and always with the idea that there are no secrets that should be withheld from men and women. It is a satisfaction that I have proofs that the sum of suffering and anguish has been lessened by the knowledge I have given. It has ever been my intent to lift the veil of ignorance with a delicate and reverent hand."

The following persons pleaded guilty and received sentences as noted:

Carl Adams, forging money orders; one year in house of correction.

James R. Barlow, operating a scheme to defraud; six months in house of correction.

Edward Belmont, stealing money orders from letters and forging the orders; three years in penitentiary, because of a previous offense of a similar character.

Charles Clemens, alias Kirk, alias Clements, raising $1 bills to $10; fined $2,500 and sentenced to five years in penitentiary.

George Gerrath, sending improper letters through the mail; one day in jail.

Bertha Gorman, forging and raising money orders; one year in house of correction.

Charles E. Smith, raising bills; one year in house of correction.

John J. Webb, writing defamatory words upon the outside of mail matter; fined $25.

The cases of other persons indicted will be called for hearing on June 8.

SHOT DOWN IN THE STREET.

Fred Nash, 700 Fulton Street, Probably Fatally Wounded by Herman Kaufman.

Fred Nash, 18 years old, 700 Fulton street, was shot and probably fatally wounded last night while in front of Herman Kaufman's saloon at Austin and Oakley avenues. Nash, Paul Peterson, 701 West Ohio street; and Harry Galvin, 151 North Carpenter street, were walking west in Austin avenue, when they encountered Kaufman standing in the doorway. Nash's companions say Kaufman shot him without provocation, but the police doubt this. Kaufman, Galvin, and Peterson were arrested. Nash was taken to the county hospital.

The police later arrested Joseph Craig, 104 Artesian avenue. Craig said he had helped to carry Nash into a drug store after being wounded, but, although the police believe the story told by Craig, he is held pending the outcome of Nash's injuries.

The trouble between Nash and Kaufman originated last Christmas day, when they quarreled in Kaufman's saloon.

ENGINE EXPLODES: KILLS SIX.

Columbus, O., Locomotive Had Been Rebuilt and Was Being Tested at Roundhouse.

Columbus, O., May 22.—The boiler of an engine that was standing near the Hocking Valley railroad roundhouse here exploded this afternoon and killed six men. The men who were within range were thrown into the air like so many pieces of cork.

The engine had been overhauled and was practically new. It was demolished, part of the boiler being blown 300 feet. The engine was being tested for its first run after rebuilding when the explosion occurred.

Four other engines standing near were wrecked. The bodies of the six men were terribly mangled. One man is believed to have been blown into the river and is not accounted for.

DR. ZIEGLER LOSES $100,000 CLAIM ON M'VICKER ESTATE.

Judge Cutting Holds That the Physician's Demand for Services Rendered Under Contract Is Excessive.

A verdict against Dr. L. C. H. Ziegler in his suit for more than $100,000 from the estate of the late Harriet G. McVicker was given by Judge Cutting yesterday in the Probate court. Two claims of $5,000 each were allowed and the court suggested that Dr. Ziegler file an amended claim to the larger amount, specifying actual services he gave as a physician to Mrs. McVicker.

The decision caused considerable surprise to Ziegler and his lawyers, as they thought they had established a successful case, while on the other hand the contestants offered practically no evidence.

"Evidently the claimant, when he entered into a contract with a woman nearly 80 years old to care for her for life, did so in the expectation that the life would not be of long duration," the court said. "The claim for $10,000 has been clearly proved and that amount will be allowed.

"I am satisfied from the evidence in this case," said Judge Cutting, in conclusion, "that in view of the confidential relations which existed, the absolute lack, as it seems to me, of fairness in the contract, the absence of any showing whatever as to the value of the services performed, that under the law, which throws the burden of proof of adequate consideration and perfect faith on the party to be benefited, the court must reject the contract and deny the claimant the relief sought under it."

Dr. Ziegler's lawyers intimated that no appeal would be taken from the court. No further opposition, it is said, will be offered to the claim for $10,000 and the attitude of Horace McVicker and the other heirs in the matter of the revised claim will depend on the amount Ziegler will ask for his services.

BOWEN SENDS FOR RUSSELL.

New Minister to Venezuela Will Tell President What He Knows About Loomis Charges.

Washington, D. C., May 22.—[Special.]—Official announcement was made by the war department today that W. W. Russell, the new minister to Venezuela, will come to Washington to give testimony in the Loomis-Bowen controversy, in accordance with the request of Mr. Bowen. Russell will be consulted by the president and Secretary Taft in regard to the course which shall be pursued to effect a settlement of questions pending in Venezuela.

Dr. Paul, special agent of President Castro, said today that the decision of the federal court against the New York Bermudez Asphalt company is not final. Hearing on the appeal will be given a more thorough airing.

Dr. Paul recognizes that a dangerous situation exists for his country, and has earnestly recommended to President Castro that some steps be taken to facilitate the peaceful settlement.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 22.—[Special.]—Miss Lulu Kagely, who has just attained her majority, brought suit in the Superior court here today against her father, Fernando C. Kagely, for $10,000 damages for injuries which she alleges he inflicted upon her when she was 12 years old.

According to her story her father struck her with a hammer and was arrested for the act, but pleaded insanity and was afterwards committed to the insane hospital.

She claims that the injuries received at the time have wholly incapacitated her for mental or physical work and have thus deprived her of the power of making support.

EVANGELIST PROVES FAITH WITH TWENTY DOLLAR BILL.

Gives It to Stranger to Get It Changed and Receives All of the Money Back.

The Rev. John Lawrence, evangelist, illustrated his confidence in his fellow man Sunday night during one of his sermons at the Open Door mission, 50 Hubbard court.

"Will some gentleman in the audience kindly step outside and get this changed for me?" he asked, waving a $20 bill.

The request almost created a panic. In the sudden rush for the platform it was seen that every man in the room, most of them habitues of the lodging house district, was anxious to oblige the speaker. The man who reached the $20 bill first left the room precipitately, followed by cheers and groans from his disappointed competitors.

"He will return," said the Rev. John Lawrence, calmly.

"Nit," said his audience, in chorus.

In three minutes the man who had seized the $20 bill returned with a $10 bill, a $5 bill, and five silver dollars, which he placed in the hand of the evangelist.

"Well done, good and faithful servant," said the Rev. John Lawrence, and he gave the faithful servant the $10 bill for his faithfulness. Then he threw the rest of the money among the other members of his audience. These fought and scrambled until the possession of the $5 bill and each of the silver dollars had been established beyond dispute. Then they left the hall, cheering the generous evangelist.

In partnership with Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Dorr, who are in charge of the mission, Lawrence is arranging to feed "all comers" at the mission free of cost, beginning early next autumn.

TOAST NORWAY AND AMERICA.

Student Singers Entertained by Chicago Norwegians at Banquet at the Sherman House.

A reception and banquet in honor of the student singers of the University of Christiania were given last evening at the Sherman house by resident Norwegians. Over 200 persons attended. The songs of Norway and America alternated between speeches of welcome and toasts to the chorus and to America and Norwegians resident here. The address of welcome was delivered by Dr. T. Warloe, chairman of the reception committee. Nicolay Grevstad made the principal speech of the "feattalen." He said that he hoped the singers would carry with them to Norway a message from its sons here that through work, perseverance, and energy such as that displayed by Norwegians in this country would Norway rise in material, moral, and spiritual well being.

The toast to America was responded to by F. H. Gade. Other speakers were Dr. A. Holmboe and Thomas Kolderup. Dr. A. Doe was toastmaster.

MISSING NURSE AT NIAGARA.

Margaret Jalonick, Whose Disappearance from New York Aroused Suspicion, on a Vacation.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., May 22.—[Special.]—Margaret Jalonick, the St. Luke's hospital training school nurse who disappeared from New York last Wednesday, spent the last four days in Niagara Falls at the boarding house of Mrs. James Stockton, 367 First street.

This morning she sent a telegram to her home in Dallas, Tex., for money and received a remittance of $40. She talked over the long distance telephone with her father in New York this evening.

Miss Jalonick is much wrought up over the fact that her peaceful visit has been made the cause of police surveillance.

Her father is expected here tomorrow morning. Efforts to interview her tonight failed.

CALVINISTS DRAW THE COLOR LINE.

Presbyterians Vote for Separate Churches for the Negro Race.

CONCESSION TO THE SOUTH

Action Is Simultaneous with Union with the Cumberland Branch.

Winona Lake, Ind., May 22.—[Special.]—The Presbyterians of the United States, by an overwhelming vote, have decided that negro Presbyterians may be organized into separate presbyteries. One hundred and eighty-eight presbyteries voted for the proposal and only forty-five against.

Simultaneously with this announcement the general assembly today, by an equally overwhelming vote, decided to unite with the Cumberland Presbyterians churches.

It is regarded as a great historical coincidence that the Cumberland Presbyterians, who left the parent church because of the negro question, should be brought back after a lapse of fifty years, on the same day that the Presbyterian church north practically decided to exclude the negro from the white presbyteries and to force him to organize separate presbyteries for his own race.

Negroes Oppose the Plan.

All of the negro commissioners to the present general assembly are bitterly opposed to the proposal for colored presbyteries. The Freedman's board opposes the plan, as does the New York and other presbyteries. The colored commissioners declare they will refuse to form separate presbyteries unless absolutely frozen out of the present relations to the church.

The proposal is regarded by many as a weak surrender to southern prejudice in an effort to bring about a union with the southern and Cumberland branches of the church.

The general assembly still has the race question to face. The colored branch of the Cumberland Presbyterian church today made an overture for a union with the general assembly. The overture came in a telegram from the Colored Cumberland Presbyterian general assembly in session at Huntsville, Ala., in this language:

The Cumberland Presbyterian general assembly, colored, has appointed a committee of seven to confer with a like committee appointed by your assembly to look to union.

C. L. DAVIS, stated clerk.

The telegram was referred to the committee on bills and overtures without action.

Unite with Cumberlands.

The Cumberland Presbyterian church voted with the general assembly at noon today, without a speech and without a dissenting vote.

It was the final action of the general assembly on one of the greatest questions which has come before it since the civil war, and brings back into that organization a branch which went out during the war because of differences over negro slavery. If the opposition to the union has made any fight it has been chiefly at the secret meetings of the special canvassing committee appointed last Saturday, but there were today no signs of such contest. The special committee, in its report, canvassed the votes taken by presbyteries on the question of union. It showed 114 votes yes, 39 no. Two took no action, one gave conditional assent, and five made no report.

The special committee in its recommendations asked that the proposition be referred to the committee on cooperation and union, that the committee be increased in membership to twenty-one, that it have power to confer with a committee from the Cumberland church, that it find what details must be worked out to consummate the union, and that a report be made to the general assembly next year. This committee is to consider the corporate and legal rights of both general assemblies. The purpose is to keep the consolidation within legal limits, that all civil suits and injunctions may be avoided.

High Ground on Divorce.

High ground was taken today on the subject of divorce, and it was resolved:

"That ministers should refuse to marry divorced persons, except of an innocent party, in a case where the divorce has been granted on scriptural grounds, nor until assured that a period of one year has elapsed from the date of the decision allowing the divorce."

The committee on church cooperation and union brought up the arrangement for a general conference of Protestant Christian churches in New York City, Carnegie hall, Nov. 15 to 20 of this year, to which over 600 delegates have already been elected. The Rev. Dr. Roberts stated that the leadership of the Presbyterian church was recognized in all Christian work.

The stated clerk reported that the general presbytery was organized in the First Presbyterian church of Philadelphia in 1706, making next year's assembly the 200th in the history of the denomination. The event will be celebrated next year.

The proposition to prepare a ritual for family worship was deferred until next year, as to push it now would have brought on a premature fight.

CAN'T DODGE RATE ISSUE.

PRESIDENT WILL FORCE SENATE TO RAILROAD REFORMS.

Message to Extra Session of Congress Will Be Devoted Almost Exclusively to Need of Regulation and Will Keep Issue Alive—Commissioners Tell Committee They Want Only Limited Authority, Leaving Initiative to Corporations.

Washington, D. C., May 22.—[Special.]—Cloaked in virtuous consciousness that it has done its full duty, the senate committee on interstate commerce will adjourn tomorrow without complying with the demand of the country that it formulate a measure for the solution of the railroad rate question. Senator Elkins is wearing a broad smile which reaches even behind his ears and which comes from the belief he has done well as a good and faithful servant of the railroads.

But the committee is reckoning without President Roosevelt. He, as guardian of the interests of the people, will not permit it to nullify the expressed wish of the country, and he will send a strong message to congress when it meets, Oct. 16.

Will Keep Issue Alive.

The president has announced that his message will be devoted almost entirely to the railroad rate question. He may touch upon tariff, but this is yet to be determined. He knows from conversations with members of the senate committee that some are trying to dodge the issue. Elkins, Foraker, and Kean, for example, favor amendments to the law which mean nothing. Cullom, Dolliver, and Clapp will recommend the report of a measure practically in line with the president's views.

Interstate Commerce Commissioners Francis M. Cockrell and Joseph W. Fifer were among the witnesses today before the committee, whose investigation has almost drawn to a close. Mr. Fifer spoke of rebates and rate cutting, and said they were induced by railroad men distrusting each other.

Rates, he said, should be made by the railroads in the first place, but should be subject to revision. He thought that the commission would adjust a rate complained of in accordance with schedules on like commodities in other sections under like conditions.

Courts a Last Resort.

Former United States Senator Cockrell of Missouri, now a member of the commission, said he would leave the origination of rates to the railroads, giving the commission power to condemn those found to be unreasonable and to fix others in their place, to take effect immediately. The railroads, he contended, should have the right of appeal to the courts, which should determine equities.

E. G. Davis of Chicago, who said he was a shipper's consignee, spoke against the private car lines. Incidentally he charged all the express companies, railroad companies, and private car lines with abuses and extortion. He said he had appealed to the Interstate commerce commission and that his case had been rejected.

Attorney General Files Report Charging Faulty Construction at Leiter's Mine with the Governor.

Springfield, Ill., May 22.—Attorney General Stead today filed with Gov. The governor at present declines to give out the report, as Assistant Attorney General Gillespie left this afternoon for Zeigler to make a further investigation.

HOTEL STEAM PIPE BURSTS: ONE DEAD; GUESTS IN PANIC.

Fireman Burned to Death in Subcellar—Many Narrowly Escape in Crowds Which Throng the Stairways.

New York, May 22.—[Special.]—The bursting of a huge steam pipe in the third subcellar of the Hotel Manhattan, Madison avenue and Forty-second street, created a panic among the patrons and caused the death of James Doran, a fireman employed by the hotel. The explosion extinguished the lights in every part of the great hotel, the elevators stopped, and people began rushing about in the corridors and running downstairs. Clerks, bellmen, and porters were at once sent through the building to tell the 400 patrons that there was no danger.

GOSPEL CAMPAIGN OPEN AT CITY HALL

Great Throngs Hear Preachers in New York's Evangelical Movement.

"L" WRECK INJURES 26.

Cars Hang Over Edge of Tracks, Lacking but a Few Inches of Toppling to Ground.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE, New York, May 22.

Attracted by the sound of a cornet and singing by a group of evangelists on the steps of the city hall, several hundred persons gathered in less than five minutes at noon today, and before the service ended the plaza was so packed it became almost impossible to pass through the park. The service was part of the gospel campaign started by the Protestant churches of this city.

Gospel Campaign Is Opened on City Hall Steps.

In the crowd was every type of man and woman, but, mixed as the congregation was, when the Rev. Dr. John F. Carson of Brooklyn asked those who believed in the power of Jesus Christ to raise their hats it seemed as if every man's hat was raised.

Besides Dr. Carson the Rev. Dr. C. L. Goodell of Calvary Methodist Episcopal and the Rev. J. B. Ely, leader of the movement, made speeches. Dr. Goodell said:

"This movement is designed to bring the churches and the people together. We are working to reach the masses of the city. We thought it appropriate to hold the first meetings here. Out from this building comes the life current of the city, and if we can touch it we will thank God. In this building some men have honored and some have shamed the city, but when the men who ruled here were guided by Christian principle the city never suffered."

The Canfield house, where Lafayette was once a guest and where Robert Fulton lived while the engine for his pioneer steamboat, the Claremont, was being built in a shop nearby, was destroyed by fire today.

Twenty persons were injured, six of them so seriously that they were sent to hospitals, and more than 100 persons narrowly escaped death or serious injury today when a fast moving train crashed into two others on the high elevated structure on the Third avenue line at One Hundred and Thirty-third street and Alexander avenue.

Deadly "L" Curve Collision Injures Twenty Persons.

After the crash the ends of shattered cars hung far over the side of the elevated structure at one of the highest points on the line. Good fortune kept the wrecked cars free from the heavily charged third rail. As they bounded from the track they rolled away from the deadly rail and settled down, safely but insecurely, at the most distant point possible on the narrow trestle.

Men and women fought to escape from the cars, which they feared might pitch to the street below. A fire alarm brought several ladder companies to the scene, but by the time they arrived nearly every man who had been on the train had reached the ground by scrambling down the iron pillars which support the elevated structure. The firemen carried down several women and a number of persons who had been injured too severely to help themselves.

Wilson Marshall's schooner yacht Atlantic has been most reported so far in the race across the ocean. On Saturday it was sighted by the Cedric, the Minnetonka, and the Noordham. The latest report was by the Noordham—that at 9:45 p. m. on Saturday. The Atlantic then was in latitude 40.53 and longitude 58. The yacht had been out eighty-one hours and thirty minutes and had sailed about 720 miles on the eastward course, having averaged 8.8 miles an hour, which is indicated as good sailing.

Ocean Liners Report Seeing Racing Yachts.

The Thistle was reported today by the steamer Gorsemere, which arrived in Boston from Antwerp. Capt. Walker of the Gorsemere said he sighted the Thistle at 2:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon in latitude 41.6 and longitude 64.

The Fleur de Lys was seen southwest of Nantucket shoals lightship on Thursday night, and the Endymion that night was seen about twenty miles ahead of the Fleur de Lys. The Apache was sighted by the Princess Alice at 3:30 o'clock on Friday afternoon sixty-five miles east of Nantucket shoals lightship. It had been previously reported between the two sightings and had made 120 miles in seventeen hours.

The Valhalla was sighted off the Nantucket shoals lightship at midnight on Thursday. It was then about seventy-five miles ahead of the Apache. The Endymion probably leads those taking the northern passage and the Atlantic or the Hamburg leading those taking the southern course.

Requests for hearings from the St. Louis fair exhibiters, who are at present in controversy with the Louisiana Purchase Exposition company over the award of prizes, have been filed at the offices of the national commission in this city, but as the body has less than six weeks to live, and proceedings of such a nature, if started, would last well into next winter, it is doubtful if its members will be able to do anything to give satisfaction for the complainants.

Fair Exhibiters' Complaints Are Now Hopeless.

The protesting exhibiters, among whom are some of the most prominent manufacturers in the country, are opposed to the award of prizes on the ground that exhibits were improperly classified and judged and that many of the resulting awards will be unfair.

The nominating committee of the Citizens' union tonight decided to take Tammany hall into its councils in preparation for a city ticket. Never before has the organization sought the cooperation of Tammany. At the convention a few weeks ago a declaration of principles was adopted calling for the makeup of a ticket which would conform to some extent to nonpartisan ideas. The executive committee was directed to confer with other political civic bodies, with the result that the old line combine was chosen.

Citizens' Union Makes Overtures to Tammany.

Stockholders of the Merchants' Trust company will meet June 1 to vote upon a proposed increase of capital stock from $500,000 to $1,000,000. The knowledge that some change in the company's financial condition was proposed was used today, as the affairs of the company had been used before, to slug the stock market. Brokers say the trust company had applied to several large banks for loans, and it is said, had encountered difficulty in getting out some slow loans with which it had been burdened.

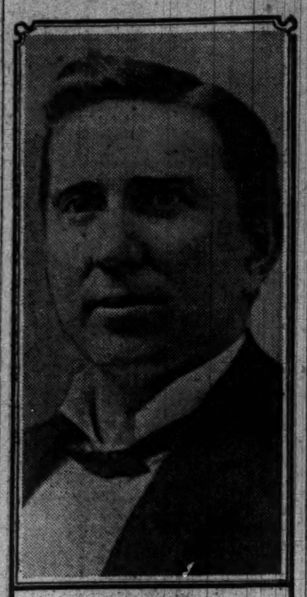

Use Trust Co.'s Proposed Change to Slug Market.

President Phillips said he had heard that some of the directors had approached two banks, but that he had nothing to do with their action.

Although the volume of vacation travel will not reach its height for a month or more, the rush from this city for mountain and shore resorts already has set in. According to all indications this will be one of the biggest "outing" summers experienced by the transportation companies in recent years. On every line leading out of the city extra trains and boats have been placed in service. Nearly all the leading lines are already booked to their capacity for June and July.

Vacation Travel This Year Will Break Records.

Victim of Murder at Savanna, Ill.

Daniel S. Berry, lawyer and former state senator, was mysteriously murdered at the door of his office in Savanna yesterday.

bond had an enemy who was bitter enough toward him to desire his life.

His Legislative Career.

"Big Dan" Berry, as he was popularly known, was one of the republican leaders of the Illinois house at Springfield during the legislative session of 1895, when the late John Meyer of Chicago was speaker. Berry, Meyer, and Hawley of Kane, republicans, and Clayton E. Crafts, democrat, dominated both sides of the house, and "The Big Four," as they were known, were blamed for all the sins of the Thirty-ninth general assembly. Representative Berry was chairman of the judiciary committee and attracted the opposition of the reform element.

Jonathan Merriam, then of Tazewell, and now United States pension agent at Chicago, was the leader of the reform forces and drafted a resolution of inquiry which he vainly endeavored to have adopted, so the house could investigate the charges of corruption. During the close of the session several street railway bills were passed, which afterward were vetoed by Gov. Altgeld, and the air was full of rumors of boodle. Speaker Meyer was in ill health and frequently called Berry to fill the chair. Berry's strong personality and ability to handle the gavel made him a prominent figure at the capital.

After the regular session adjourned Altgeld called a special session. Speaker Meyer died during the interim and it was necessary to elect a new presiding officer. Berry as chairman of the republican caucus held the chair until W. C. Cochran, now circuit judge of the Sixth Illinois circuit, was elected speaker. The scenes were stormy and Berry was in the thick of the excitement.

PUTS BABY ON LID; IT WILL DIE.

Little Girl Who Heard Story of Taft Sitting on Government Cover Places Infant on Stove.

Indianapolis, Ind., May. 22.—[Special.]—Geraldine, the 4 year old daughter of Bernie Evans, a farmer of Davies county, heard her father reading about Secretary of War Taft sitting on the lid while President Roosevelt was away. The child seemed greatly interested in the story and asked a number of questions concerning it, to all of which the parent replied by explaining what was meant.

This morning Mrs. Evans, who was gathering vegetables in the garden, heard her infant child screaming, and when she ran into the kitchen Geraldine was holding it on a hot stove. Its limbs were cooked and a physician pronounced its injuries fatal.

The parents think the child had the Taft story in mind when she placed her brother on the hot stove lid.

NEGRO SLAYER IS MOB'S PREY.

Owensburg, Ky., Madman Shoots Deputy and Seven Others—His House Fired and He Killed.

Owensboro, Ky., May 22.—Bob Shaw, a negro, supposedly insane, has killed W. C. Brown, a deputy sheriff, and wounded seven in the last twenty-four hours near Waltman. The body of the dead man lay in front of Shaw's house and the negro defied all efforts to capture him until tonight, when a mob of men and boys surrounded the place and set it on fire. Shaw remained in the burning house as long as he could stand the heat, but finally leaped out and tried to escape. Nearly 100 shots were fired and his body was riddled with bullets.

State Ownership of Railways Profitable Since Establishment of Lines.

ABSENCE OF SOCIALISM.

Showing Is Remarkable in View of Fact That First Roads Were Experiments.

The books show on their face, if they are reliable, that this great capital has produced, after the deduction of operating expenses of every character as well as the ordinary fixed charges, a net revenue of $443,385,308. From this must be taken the amount paid over in the way of annuities and interest to the private corporations which lease their lines to the government under an indefinite tenure, this being one of the ways of acquiring the private roads. This deduction amounts to $48,762,964. This makes the net balance $394,600,000.

In other words, the government financial experts figure out that they have made a total profit on the amount of capital invested of 4.04 per cent. And this is actually the average of the net receipts year by year.

Cost More than French Lines.

It is admitted in the parliamentary report to which I have referred that the railroads of Belgium, under government ownership, have cost, more mile for mile and pound for pound, than the privately constructed and operated lines of France, Germany, Austria-Hungary, or Holland. The government experts freely admit that they cannot secure the same amount of individual loyalty and of persistent effort on the part of subordinates as is common in private corporations. The cost of building the lines and equipping them with motive power and cars is increasing instead of diminishing they tell me. Seven years ago they expected to pay about $140,000 a mile for construction, but now they pay $160,000 a mile.

Furthermore, there is a tendency which the government officers have been quick to note and which they are naturally a little alarmed at in the direction of a positive increase in the ratio of operating expenses to gross receipts. In the last seven years the percentage of the operating expenses to the gross receipts has risen from 58.16 per cent to 59.22 per cent. This coefficient of operation is being watched here with great care because they fear that it may indicate a growing tendency toward an increase of operating expenses out of proportion to the receipts. The enormous increase in traffic ought to have reduced the percentage of operating expenses and that the contrary has been the case is what is worrying the government officials in charge of the works.

Lack of Harmony Seen.

Furthermore, the Belgian people have found that there is frequently a lack of harmony between different departments of the railroads. These departments are headed by chiefs who owe their appointment more or less directly to the minister, and they are frequently apt to do things with the sole idea of pleasing him rather than securing practical cooperation with other chiefs.

There is often jealousy between departments, and one man is likely to speed his work at the expense of another. There are three great divisions, one of executive management, one of traction, and one of the permanent way and buildings. These departments, unfortunately, have equal authority, and they sometimes get into a mess which is not altogether for the benefit of the line.

These things are minor difficulties, however. The slight increase in the ratio of operating expenses is unimportant at the present time, although it may indicate some danger in the future. The increased cost of construction and operation under a government as compared with a private company was what might be expected. Even the heavy capitalization of the roads is not serious if one takes the view as they do here that the entire system should be managed for the benefit of the entire public, and that there are some things in government ownership of railroads.

Real Value of Investment Shown.

This fact has been clearly stated by M. Hubert, who made the report to parliament on the budget of the ministry of railroads, posts and telegraphs. In this he states the government ownership idea, when he says:

"We ought not, however, to be frightened too much by the increase of railway capital, for the value of a tool lies not in its price but in the services it renders and the benefit it procures. Above all, the policy to be pursued by the government should be chiefly to have a really cheap public service. If it is the policy to make the Belgian system profitable to the treasury, there is a much easier and surer system. That is to let out the line for operation under leases. They would pay much better than they do now. Mr. Vandenpeereboom, who knows all about it, has said that we could lease the railroads at a price which would be sufficient to pay the interest on our national debt."

Danger of Demagogism.

From this same report of the ministry of railroads there is a distinct suggestion also of one of the great dangers to which any government railroad system is inevitably exposed. This is the natural tendency of demagogues the world over to exploit themselves by urging the betterment of the condition of the downtrodden working man. They have the tribe here in Belgium as well as in America, and the situation in this regard is quaintly hit off in the official report as follows:

"Among sixty orators who spoke in the session of last year nearly two-thirds pleaded for increases of salaries. We have fewer high officials than the private companies, more subordinate officials, and many more workmen. The salaries are not at all too high, so that one could only obtain a reduction of the operating expenses by a better utilization of the services of the employés. That is to say, there might be wisdom in putting the different groups into competition, and, above all, by permitting the officials and the workmen generally to participate in some way in the economics realized. With proper control, both in the manner of maintenance and repairs, we could probably secure from private industry work quite as perfect and considerably more economical."

WINS PARDON BY DEVOTION.

President Roosevelt Commutes Sentence of Counterfeiter Who Became Hopelessly Ill Nursing Convicts.

Washington, D. C., May 22.—[Special.]—On President Roosevelt's order a telegram was sent today from the department of justice to the warden of the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., instructing that official to release Dr. John F. Tubbs, who has been serving a five years' sentence since January, 1903.

Dr. Tubbs was a resident of Timbo, Ark., and was known as an educated and refined man of more than ordinary professional attainments until the time of his conviction on the charge of counterfeiting.

About a year ago there was an unusual epidemic of pneumonia at Fort Leavenworth. Dr. Tubbs lost no opportunity to make himself useful. For a time he was practically in charge of the hospital. His devotion to his patients was remarkable. He contracted the dreaded disease and his life is now despaired of.

MONARCH VISIBLE

Monarch Visible Typewriter

The Typewriter of the Present and of the Future

All of the writing is visible all of the time. You see without looking. No bars, no rods obstruct the vision.

The Monarch Typewriter Company

209 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.

General Offices and Factory: Syracuse, New York.

THE CURIOUS HISTORY OF A BATTLE, WITH A WRONG START.

Everybody wants a "visible typewriter," i. e., a typewriter so constructed that you can see what you are writing while you are writing it. A very small portion of the public buy "visible" machines, because they cannot get good ones in the matter of typewriter mechanism.

The wrong start in making "visible" typewriters began from the ignorance of the mechanicians and promoters of the primitive form of these machines, regarding the development of typewriter mechanism of the past. In other words, they did not know the strong points and the weak points of typewriter construction which the under-stroke machines had learned through thirty years of experience.

Of course, at the very beginning of typewriter manufacture, say, thirty-five years ago, when the Western Electric Co. first made machines and called them "Shoales and Glidden" typewriters, the typebar had to be guided at the printing point. But typewriter construction soon outgrew this unmechanical method, after the bearings of the typebar were perfected; a guide became unnecessary and was left off.

Now the wrong start, on the part of the primitive forms of "visible" typewriters consisted in this, that they started with guides in order to correct faults of defective bearings. The vertical slot-guide heretofore used in the primitive form of front strike writing machines fails as a guide to keep the side bars in alignment, on account of imperfect typebar bearings.

The Monarch Visible is the first typewriter to write in full sight without any bars, rods or other mechanism to obstruct the vision. It is the only typewriter to utilize, in a front strike form, the patented, perfected, broad, pivotal, frictionless typebar bearings that have been so successfully used in typewriter construction in the past. The Monarch Visible gives the operator perfect visibility and accessibility of writing.

The Monarch Visible starts right.

A WELL BRED MACHINE THAT LOWERS THE RECORD.

Gentlemen and race horses don't happen, they're bred, and the best bred lowers the record; carries off the honors. There's nothing erratic in the breeding. It is simply carried forward in the case of the horse and proceeds from generation to generation in the instance of the man, on well established principles.

The Monarch Visible, neither horse nor man, is the best-bred machine in the typewriter paddock or the writing machine family. It lowers the record. It wears the crown. Every good typewriter principle approved by thirty years of use has been bred into it, together with new features that give it the winning record.

The Monarch Visible typewriter proves its good breeding by its—

FINE FAMILY—The men who have produced it have been identified with the typewriter business for over twenty years.

FRANK, OPEN COUNTENANCE—Keeping in full view every letter and line of the writing. This, in plain language, is "Visible Writing";

STRONG CONSTITUTION—Made of best material, by best workmen, in best factories to produce best results;

LONG LIFE LINE—Due to its durable construction and its patented, broad, frictionless pivotal bearings;

PERFECT PROPORTION—Handsome and businesslike in appearance, not angular or odd;

CLEAN LIMBS—Stripped of all cumbersome parts—ready for business;

ALERTNESS—Being very speedy in action and responsive to a light touch;

GOOD HABITS—Keeping a path of true alignment due to the rigid typebar hung on pivots;

CLEAN AND CLEAR WORK—The writing being clean cut, neat and distinct.

Here then is a well bred typewriter, which every mechanician and every operator will approve, and which, because of its superior excellence, will help every business man improve the morale and increase the capacity of his office.

If you don't heed the "cry" (Nature's hint) you may be sure the trouble will get worse, and not better, until you either quit the coffee habit which is the cause, or you develop fixed organic disease that may carry you down

It is the finest trade possible, to quit coffee and get well.

Health is the most exquisite fun on earth.

It's easy to quit coffee when you have choice, well made Postum Food Coffee, a delicious hot beverage with the deep seal brown of strong coffee that changes to a rich golden brown when cream is added. Then you have the crisp coffee "snap" and a flavor all its own. The nerves are relieved of the old hurt of the poisonous "Caffeine" of coffee and in its place you feed the system on strong food elements in Postum which quickly rebuild the worn out and exhausted nerve and brain cells destroyed by coffee.

These are facts!!! Prove them by 10 days trial.

RUSSIANS PROUD OF ROJESTVENSKY

Baltic Fleet, Superior to Admiral Togo's, Ready and Fit for Battle.

MYSTERY IN JAP PLANS.

Naval Officers Think an Attack Should Be Made Before Vladivostok Is Reached.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., May 22.—[Special.]—Russia has reason to be proud of the exploits of Rojestvensky, according to authoritative information which has been received in Washington. He has prevented attacks upon his command by Japanese torpedo boat destroyers by the exercise of unceasing vigilance, and has started for Vladivostok with a force 50 per cent superior in gun power to the Japanese. He is taking with him more than 100,000 tons of coal on colliers capable of making more than fourteen knots, and has left behind his slower supply ships, which are protected by the neutral flags which they are flying.

Reports made to the president by Secretary Morton and the British admiralty show conclusively that in material Rojestvensky has an overwhelmingly superior force. His four first class battleships, those of the Borodino class, are more formidable than the four battleships which make up the backbone of Admiral Togo's command. The 12-inch guns which the Russian ships carry are as effective as those of the same caliber installed on the Japanese ships. The 8-inch guns which the Russians have in the Borodino battleships are mounted in turrets well above the water line and capable of being fired accurately even in a heavy seaway.

Japan's Inferior Guns.

The Japanese battleships have no 8-inch guns, but are provided with 6-inch guns, which are installed in casemates—small compartments which can be transformed into veritable death traps.

The United States built casemates in the Alabama and Kearsarge class of battleships, but discarded the plan in the later type of vessels because of its obvious disadvantage.

Moreover, the Japanese 6-inch guns are close to the water line, making their use difficult if any kind of a sea is running. Russian warships are protected by Krupp armor, made in America, while the Japanese vessels are armored with plates made in England by the Harveyized process.

Four of the older battleships which Rojestvensky has with him, the Oslabya, commissioned in 1898; the Navarin, the Imperator Nicolai I., and the Peter Veliki, are inferior to the Japanese battleships, but will be able to do effective work against the Japanese armored cruisers, for the reason that they are armored and have 12 or 10 inch guns. The largest caliber weapons on the Japanese cruisers are 8-inch guns.

The eight battleships named will be able to take a position on Rojestvensky's battle line, as will the three seagoing coast defense cruisers laid down only a few years ago, which were safely brought to the China sea by Admirable Nebogatoff. Rojestvensky also has a formidable number of protected auxiliary cruisers which will be useful in repelling attack by torpedo boat destroyers.

Jap Torpedo Boats Foiled.

It appears, according to information in possession of the authorities here, that the Japanese attempted to sneak up at night upon Rojestvensky off the coast of Annam, but that the searchlights mounted upon the numerous vessels comprising the Russian fleet made the waters bright as day and deterred Togo's hornets from trying their stings upon the enemy's armoreads.

Members of the general board, of which Admiral Dewey is chairman, find it difficult to explain Togo's inactivity in harassing Rojestvensky, save upon the ground that his flagship, the Mikasa, really struck a mine near the Pescadores. It is known that the Japanese fleet was cruising near the point where the disaster is reported to have occurred, the Japanese having apparently anticipated that Rojestvensky proposed to go north through the passage between the island of Formosa and the main land. That the Japanese had some reason for the supposition developed today, when a cablegram was received reporting that for some weeks a special kind of coal had been brought to Shanghai, where it was being transhipped upon neutral colliers. The dispatch added that to prevent Shanghai from being used as a base by either belligerent the Chinese government had issued instructions that no collier was to leave the port unless the consular certificate showed that it would arrive at its destination within forty days.

Togo's Tactics Not Understood.

By this action China will not, however, seriously affect Rojestvensky. He has ample coal in his bunkers and in the colliers accompanying him to reach Vladivostok and to resupply his ships in case of their arrival there without damage. Although reports from abroad have indicated that Togo's strategy would be to permit the entrance of the Russian fleet into Vladivostok without a general engagement, expert naval officers here say this would be the height of foolishness on the part of Japanese and the clever tactics of Togo in the past convince them that he will not make a great mistake.

If the Russian fleet should reach Vladivostok unharmed, it would be possible for Rojestvensky to clean every one of his ships and be reinforced by two armored cruisers and a number of torpedo boat destroyers there, and go to sea in sarch of Togo, the equal of the latter in speed—the only advantage in material the Japanese have enjoyed.

Every consideration of strategy, it is believed here, requires Togo to attack before the Russian fleet arrives anywhere near Vladivostok to which its damaged ships might limp before they be captured or sunk.

Togo Not Seeking Battle.

So long as Togo preserves the Japanese line of communication across the straits of Corea he accomplishes the great object of the campaign of his country. This is responsible, it is thought, for his failure to offer battle to the Russians while they were in the China sea. The advantage, also, of having the fleet action take place near the Japanese ports, to which his own ships might retreat in case of damage or defeat is obvious.

There has developed here a strong hope that Rojestvensky will be able to inflict sufficient damage upon the Japanese as to induce the latter to agree to peace upon reasonable terms. Dispatches tonight from Tokio confirm information which has been received here from official sources that Japan's ambition has grown to tremendous proportions. Count Kato, former minister of foreign affairs, has set forth Japan's terms as the restoration of Manchuria to China, the recognition of Japanese suzerainty over Corea, the cession of the island of Sakhalien, the removal permanently of the fortifications at Vladivostok, and the payment of an indemnity of $1,000,000,000.

Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, declares that such terms are ridiculous, and that his government will not agree to them. Count Kato indicates a refusal to accept these terms may mean the loss of Vladivostok and perhaps other Russian territory.

In other words, through her suzerainty over Corea, the possession of a strip of territory along the northern boundary of Manchuria, and the occupation of Port Arthur Japan would have Manchuria in the hollow of her hand. This is a consummation the United States desires to avert, and in this desire it has the sympathy of every European nation, including Great Britain.

'RICH-QUICK' MAN CAUGHT

WILLIAM M'KEE ARRESTED AT 94 WASHINGTON STREET.

Charged with Being Manager of Concern Which Has Swindled Thousands of Persons and Operated in Many Cities—Sign Is Said to Have Been Left on Door of Office in East St. Louis Bidding Farewell to the "Suckers."

William T. McKee, arrested by Detective Wooldridge at 94 Washington street, is charged with being the manager of a "get rich quick" concern which has branches in many other cities, and, according to the police, has swindled thousands of persons.

The proposition submitted to subscribers by the company was that after paying $1.25 for eighty-four weeks they would receive a diamond valued at $200.

According to Wooldridge, the business associates of McKee were driven from Buffalo after the postal authorities had stopped their mail. Then, it is alleged, the name of the concern was changed from the International Mercantile company to the Keystone Commission company.

Leave Sign for "Suckers."

Then, it is said, the business was taken to Danville, Pa. The next field was East St. Louis, where the managers staid a short while, and departed, leaving a placard on the door inscribed: "Good-by, suckers, good-by."

After leaving this farewell to the subscribers the concern, according to the police, moved to Huston, Tex., where it again operated under the name of the Keystone commission company. Two of the officials were arrested there, it is said.

McKee was arraigned before Justice Caverly, who continued the case until June 1.

McKee Denies Being the Head.

McKee said he had acted as collector and bookkeeper, and that he was also a subscriber. Miss Elizabeth Davis, 10644 Hoxie avenue, South Chicago, who was stenographer in the offices of the concern, was subpoenaed, but, according to Detective Wooldridge, she disappeared from the courtroom.

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO NOW WORTH NEARLY $19,000,000.

President Harper's Biennial Report Shows That Assets of the Great Institution in Midway Plaisance Continue to Increase—School of Technology, with Courses in Mathematics, Physics, and Languages May Be Established.

According to the biennial statement of President William R. Harper, which was issued from the University Press yesterday, the University of Chicago is worth now between $18,000,000 and $19,000,000.

The exact amount of assets, as shown in the auditor's report on June 30, 1904, is $18,047,915.74, an increase over the amount of the same date the previous year of $963,216.04. A corresponding increase for the year since the auditor's last report would make the present worth of the university exceed $19,000,000. The wealth of the university is apportioned as follows:

Investments	$9,137,413.55
University buildings and grounds	7,140,289.20
Cash and current assets	444,407.75
Books	418,686.83
Scientific equipment	479,086.06
Furniture	204,223.99
Materials and supplies	10,058.27
Miscellaneous real estate	91,171.67
The University Press	122,568.42

The comparison of money invested from June 30, 1903, to June 30, 1904, shows a decrease of $66,782.20.

President Harper presents the report of the committee on the establishment of a school of technology, which recommends a curriculum consisting of courses in mathematics, chemistry physics, and languages. The president also reports the establishment of museums in the departments of geology, paleontology, anthropology, history, commerce, and zoölogy, as well as the older museums of the botanical and the biblical departments.

RUSSIAN ARMADA REACHES PACIFIC?

Rojestvensky Believed to Have Eluded the Vigilance of Togo's Scouts.

ON WAY TO VLADIVOSTOK.

Island of Formosa Passed Three Hundred Miles to the Eastward.

PARIS, May 22.—Much attention is given here to Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's probable passage into the Pacific, north of the island of Luzon, and suggestions are made that the reported intentions of the Russians to rendezvous at the island of Babuyan will give the American authorities in the Philippines the same difficulties in preserving remote points against the incursions of Admiral Rojestvensky that the French authorities experienced in the waters of Indo-China.

The naval expert of the Temps lengthily points out that the information brought by various steamers to Chinese ports confirms the previous views that Rojestvensky is skirting the north of the Philippines into the Pacific. It is maintained that the strategic object thus accomplished is avoiding Japanese torpedo attacks and the mines in the straits of Formosa and the subsequent concentration of the Japanese fleet in the straits of Corea, leaving Rojestvensky free to make a long detour and reach Vladivostok through one of the northern straits of Japan.

However, it is pointed out that the presence of the Russian fleet north of the Philippines places the Russians only a few hundred miles from the Japanese naval base at Kelung, in the northern part of the island of Formosa, and that a fight is still possible before the detour commences.

ELUDES TOGO'S FLEET.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 22.—While there is no official confirmation of the Hongkong report that the fleet has eluded Togo's fleet and passed through the Bashee channel, it is credited by those who have insisted from the beginning that Rojestvensky will give the island of Formosa a wide berth to the westward. The admiral, it is claimed here, has had ample time to reach the Pacific since he left the waters of Indo-China.

There is an air of expectancy at the admiralty which indicates that news of importance regarding Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet is awaited at any moment. Officially no information regarding the admiral's whereabouts is volunteered, the officers making no concealment of the fact that they are not in the secret of Rojestvensky's plans, but the majority entertain no doubt that the Russian fleet is now steaming towards its ultimate destination.

RUSSIANS MOVE TO ATTACK.

Gen. Linevitch About to Advance His Right Wing to Meet Pressure of Japanese Left.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 22.—The dispatches received from the front are meager, but there are some indication that Gen. Linevitch has taken a leaf out of Field Marshal Oyama's book at the Shakhe river and at Mukden, and that he is about to advance himself and undertake a counter offensive, meeting the Japanese pressure against his left by advancing his right. It is too early, however, to determine whether the moves thus far are more than feints.

Gen. Linevitch in a dispatch from the front dated May 21 announces that two Russian detachments occupied the valleys of the Kaak and Khanda rivers westward of Nanshentsi, on the Mandarin road, after dislodging forces of Japanese cavalry and infantry.

The dispatch adds that Gen. Martynoff's detachment from Tadlu also drove back the Japanese advanced cavalry outposts.

Gen. Linevitch also reported fighting near Shahotse, May 18, but did not give the result. He said a Russian detachment east of the railroad approached the village of Shahotse and was attacked by a considerable force of Japanese from the coal mines south of that place.

Tells of Russian Attack.

TOKIO, May 22.—Imperial army headquarters made the following announcement today:

"In the direction of Changtu, on May 20, a force of the enemy consisting of over a battalion of infantry, a regiment of cavalry, and two guns made a detour of the eastern height at Santaokou, eight miles east of Changtu, and from the vicinity of a coal mine ten miles east of Changtu, at 11:30 o'clock in the morning, commenced a bombardment.

Subsequently another Russian force with four guns appeared on the northern height of Chinyangpao, and at 4 p. m. two battalions of the enemy advanced from the eastern side of the village, but were repulsed.

"Another mixed force of the enemy entered Erhshihlipao, where they set fire to the village and retreated.

"A body of the enemy's cavalry, dismounted, attacked Tangshed, on the right bank of the Liao river, thirteen miles southwest of Fakumen, on the morning of May 20.

GIVES UP ROYAL MARRIAGE.

Prince Napoleon Victor Abandons Alliance with Princess Clementine of Belgium.

TURIN, May 22.—Prince Napoleon Victor Bonaparte today received the Bonapartist leaders at Castle Moncalieri and informed them that his projected marriage with the Princess Clementine of Belgium had been abandoned.

There has been considerable opposition to the proposed marriage of Prince Napoleon Victor to the Princess Clementine, particularly on the part of the former Empress Eugénie, whose heir the prince will be; the king of Belgium, Emperor Francis Joseph, the Belgian premier, and other important personages, on political and other grounds.

Prince Napoleon Victor is the head of the house of Bonaparte. One of the political objections to his marriage to Princess Clementine was that King Leopold's friendliness with France made it impossible for the princess to marry a pretender to the French throne.

EMPRESS' INJURIES ARE SEVERE

Kaiserin's Long Fall Down a Stairway at Wiesbaden Castle More Serious than Was Believed.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BERLIN, May 22.—The accident to the kaiserin, who fell downstairs, is severer than at first reported. Her fall was headlong down a narrow winding staircase in the old castle. Her temple was badly cut and the wound bled freely. She ordered that the emperor be not told of the accident, but the bleeding increased, so the doctors obliged to make the regular dressing insisted upon telling the emperor. It is not believed the consequences of the accident will be serious, but the royal departure from Wiesbaden has been postponed several days.

LARGEST 2 CENT MORNING CIRCULATION IN THE WORLD.

TUESDAY, MAY 23, 1905.

THE DECLINE OF TYPHOID.

Chicago is beginning to receive extremely gratifying returns from the large sums of money invested by it in the drainage canal and the south side intercepting sewer. The health department reports there was only one death in the city from typhoid fever in the week ending on May 20. It is questionable if there is another large city in the world which can duplicate this record. That it should be credited to the works which have been built to stop the pollution of the source of the city's water supply by sewage, there can be no doubt, for Chicago had more than its share of scattering cases and epidemics of typhoid fever before the drainage canal and the intercepting sewer were constructed.

The city's drainage system has not been completed. Some sewers on the north side still empty into Lake Michigan. Some on the south side still empty into the Calumet river, which empties into the lake. When all the sewers on the north side shall have been connected with the intercepting sewers and the Calumet river shall no longer empty into the lake, the local water supply will be as pure as it can be made. In view of the excellent results that have been secured already, the health department's prediction that Chicago will then practically have banished typhoid seems justified. Cases of it will occasionally be imported or caused by impure milk or ice, but the disease will have ceased to be common.

This will mean much for the community. Typhoid fever ranks high among deadly diseases. The deaths from it in the United States in the last census year, 1900, numbered 35,379, being more than were caused by diphtheria, scarlet fever, and appendicitis combined. Nor is prevention of typhoid the only beneficial result gained by improving the water supply. Pure water is an aid to healthy digestion. Impure water causes several internal disorders besides typhoid and aggravates many diseases that it does not cause.

Chicago's experience is showing that public money cannot be better invested than in a good system of sanitation, and that the nearer perfect the system, even though costly, the more profitable the investment.

PROJECTS THAT CAN WAIT.

Members of the house committee on rivers and harbors have been on a tour of inspection for several weeks. Wherever they have gone they have been received with the greatest cordiality, and an endeavor has been made to enlist their sympathies for projects some of which are not destitute of merit.

The people living on the Ohio between Pittsburg and Cairo wish to have that unreliable river improved so that it may be navigable at all seasons, when it is not ice bound, throughout its entire course of a thousand miles. They would like to have an elaborate system of locks and dams. There is no question that it would be a great aid to commerce if the Ohio were permanently navigable. During dry seasons it is a series of pools and sandbars. But the improvement which is desired will cost at least $100,000,000.

It is easy to see the benefits which would accrue if a deep water channel were to be constructed to unite Lake Michigan and the Mississippi river. It would be an extension of the great lakes to that stream, and would be a potent regulator of railroad rates on many commodities. But such a deep water channel as is desired will cost about $45,000,000.

The president has been authorized to expend $135,000,000 in the construction of an isthmian canal. It is generally agreed that the work will cost much more than that. While the United States is busied with an undertaking of so much magnitude, which will be of value to all parts of the country, it should give the go-by for the time being to projects which are of special value to localities. Such projects, though praiseworthy in themselves, can afford to wait. Certainly they should not be entered upon at a time when the receipts of the government do not equal its expenditures.

This is a point which the committee on rivers and harbors should not lose sight of when congress convenes. Possibly its members have been much impressed by the appeals made to them in behalf of various costly projects, but the government has enough river and canal work on its hands at present.

Sunday in the Parks. The thoughtful person who went to any Chicago park last Sunday must have been impressed with the immense aggregate of benefit and enjoyment derived from them by the many thousands by whom they were visited during the day. The air was unusually fresh and salubrious throughout the city, but nowhere was it near so pure as in the parks, where there was little dust and the perfume of grass, trees, and flowers was wafted about. It is wonderful how much honest, innocent pleasure the busy, hard working people of a great city can get from a few hours in a park. It is the best substitute for getting away from the city into the country, and Lincoln, or Jackson, or Garfield park excels the country, unless the rural district visited is an uncommonly pleasant and beautiful one. The thousands of happy faces which will be seen at these places every fair Sunday from now until cold weather are a conclusive argument for the further development of the park system. The existing system should be improved until it is as perfect as it can be made, and there should be additions to it as the city grows. Now that the parks have become an essential factor in city life—the people would not know how to get along without them—it is all the more necessary that politics should be kept out of them. There is no room for partisanship in the pleasure resorts of the people. The men who are put in charge of them should not be chosen because they profess allegiance to a particular party or to some more or less prominent member of a party, but because they are capable men, who will devote their energies to the single object of making the parks more beautiful and useful.

THE THIRD PARTY'S REQUEST.

When a fire is spreading and threatening to become a conflagration it is not wise to allow it to envelop the entire town in order to complete the punishment of its guilty originators. It is not wise, in the pending strike, to risk the whole industrial life of this community in order to insure that drastic penalties shall fall upon the union side. This strike ought never to have been started, but it does not follow that its spread should be regarded with satisfaction or indifference, only so that a lesson be taught to some of those more immediately concerned. Especially is this so if that lesson is likely to miss those really responsible.

The persons who have brought on the struggle should be held accountable. The background of abuses out of which it so mysteriously grew should also be opened up. If it shall take on the color of a struggle for unionism, however, all other considerations fade, and undeserving leaders win unanimous support of union men as champions not of a discredited strike but of the cause of organized labor. The actual blow then falls only upon the men who lose their jobs and upon the innocent public.

In the face of the plan adopted exclusively by the express companies, to refuse to reemploy one of their striking employés, a plan which they have peculiar facilities for carrying out, it is not strange that the Federation of Labor, at its meeting on Sunday, should have raised the cry of unionism and shown simply a fighting spirit. In the face of the threatened spread of the strike, it is not surprising that the talk of troops is revived by employers. These facts all lessen the prospects of peace and render the horizon more threatening.

The utterances of Mayor Dunne and Sheriff Barrett make it certain that soldiers will be brought into Chicago if the trouble goes on extending, and that prospect gives satisfaction to one side of the contest. The third party in interest, however, the general public, while heartily approving of the declared purposes of these officials, profoundly deprecates the arising of a sufficient occasion for the troops to come. It deprecates such an event in consideration of the reputation, the good feeling, the permanent welfare of the community.

The community's interests demand that the strike should stop instead of spreading. At the present critical juncture the third party to the case asks the two immediate parties not to make the soldiery necessary.

POBIEDONOSTSEFF IN DESPAIR.

The statement that M. Pobiedonostseff, the procurator general of the holy synod, has abandoned hope for the future of Russia is gratifying evidence that there is a promising future for that country. The intolerant and oppressive system which he has devoted his life and his influence to upholding has been a curse to Russia. The procurator general has done all the mischief that an honest and influential man who is utterly in the wrong can do. Now he sees his life work on the eve of destruction, and he is ready to depart.

The imperial ukase giving religious freedom to most of the dissenters from the orthodox church and to Armenians and Mohammedans was to the procurator general an act of sacrilege. Only one thing could have made it more abominable to him. That would have been the inclusion of the Jews in its provisions.

He has been their unrelenting enemy. He would have driven them all out of the empire if he could. He has contributed towards driving hundreds of thousands of them out. He has been a potent factor in swelling the population of the United States. There would have been a comparatively small immigration of Russian Jews if it had not been for M. Pobiedonostseff and those whom he indoctrinated with his persecuting ideas. He has added to the perplexities of the American immigration problem.

The ukase of the czar, which has wrung the heart of a fanatical old man, grants liberties which cannot be taken back. They are more likely to be amplified in the near future. The edifice of bigotry and of proscription built up by the procurator general during the lifetime of the czar's father is crumbling. It is possible that before long the orthodox church itself will be filled with new life and become a potent agent in the regeneration of Russia.

There is something pathetic in the spectacle of a man over 80 who for a quarter of a century has been fighting successfully for what he believed to be the right gazing disconsolately upon the ruin of all his hopes. But it would have been better for Russia if M. Pobiedonostseff had fallen from power many years ago.

"NARROW AND PROVINCIAL."

It has been suggested with seeming seriousness that the "captains of industry" take hold of and organize the higher educational system of the country in accordance with what they consider business principles. It is argued that the men who have a genius for amassing great wealth—no matter by what means—are the divinely ordained school teachers of the rising generation and that it is their duty, and should be their pleasure, to train young men to get rich.

The existing system of collegiate education is condemned on the ground that the professional educators who have had charge of it are prone to be "narrow and provincial." That is true as regards some of them. They believe the old ways are the best, and they resist innovations. But when one studies the men who have made themselves extremely wealthy, one is surprised to find how many of them are "narrow and provincial." They believe that because they have made money they know everything and are able intelligently to regulate everything, social, industrial, political, and educational. As a rule they blunder furiously when they attempt to manage personally anything which does not relate to money making.

The educational system of the country is not perfect from the point of view of the men who have organized trusts. They would like to concentrate educational productiveness in a few large central plants and dismantle the small plants. That would get rid of "ruinous competition" and prevent "wasteful effort." They think there is need of practical education and little need of liberal education. They reason that it is of no value, for they got rich without it.

There is need of more technical schools. University courses of higher commercial training will be of value. All these things will come in good time. No "educational trust" will be required to introduce them. But the best education which can be given to young men would not be the unsymmetrical and unbalanced kind which approves itself to the men who are known only because they are rich. The old fashioned kind of education, with all its defects and shortcomings, developed the mind, broadened the intellect, and produced men who were able to deal wisely and sympathetically with all the questions of life. An educational system managed by modern millionaires would be the narrowest and most provincial the world has known. It might make many daring speculators or unscrupulous business men, but comparatively few good citizens.

The czar appears to be running no serious risk in taking the management of the war into his own hands. Any change he can make in it will be an improvement.

In the meantime the Salvation army is doing the best it can to bring peace to Chicago's troubled soul.

Gov. Douglas of Massachusetts does not care particularly for a second term, but if the politicians try to freeze him out he may think it worth while to spend a million dollars or so for the purpose of showing them again that there's nothing like leather.

Those "help keep the city clean" boxes at the street corners offend the taste of certain fastidious persons. Let us keep the city esthetic.

An esteemed Philadelphia contemporary breaks forth into a song of rejoicing over the downfall of Addicks. But there have been so many disappointments along this line that the people will not believe Addicks is really downed until Delaware has two United States senators—neither of whom is Addicks.

Or, again, that "pure white bear" seen in Colorado a week or two ago may have been a pure invention.

This Mr. Durham, boss of Philadelphia, has attracted more attention of late than Mr. Bryan's Jersey heifer.

Harvard college needs an addition of two and a half millions to its endowment fund. Surely some man of vast wealth will contribute the two and a half, on condition that the friends of the institution furnish the millions.

The statement that North Carolina has raised a "surplus of strawberries" is not believed by anybody up this way.

Does the Federation of Labor wish to go on record as approving the conduct of schoolboy "strikers" in stoning teamsters that do not happen to belong to a union?

It is unpleasant to have to shoot a knowledge of the elementary branches of geography into the Moros, but they refuse to take it any other way.

The probability is that when Debs has accumulated a few more thousands he will lose much of his fierce hatred of the "capitalistic class."

If Tom Lawson could make it convenient to visit Chicago he would be greatly interested in the Frenzied Sympathy now on exhibition here.

The disinterestedness with which Russia warns Corea against the Japanese peril is extremely touching.

Inasmuch as the strikers insist with much vehemence that they are not guilty of any riotous or unlawful conduct they will heartily indorse any measures that may be taken by Mayor Dunne and Sheriff Barrett to clap the lid down firmly on the rioters and lawbreakers.

IN A MINOR KEY.

Almost Too Late.

Col. McSchwartz was telling the caller how wonderfully the town had grown.

"Why, when I moved here with my wife and daughter, twenty-sev——"

"Papa," interposed Miss McSchwartz, "there's a mosquito on your neck. Let me pinch it off."

"Ouch!" exclaimed the colonel. "As I was saying, when we moved here, quite a number of years ago," etc.

Jones Wasn't.

Smith had buttonholed Jones and talked to him fully fifteen minutes about the tariff.

"That's the way I look at the question," he said. "I'm a standpatter."

"Well, I'm not," growled Jones. "I can't stand your patter."

Any State.

"Your town doesn't seem to be growing much."

"Growing? There hasn't been a new house built or an old house improved in this town for fifteen years."

"What is the reason for that?"

"The reason, stranger? Is it possible you don't know that this used to be the capital of the state?"

Supply and Demand.

"I tell you," said the passenger with the skull cap, "there is something wrong with a country where a prizefighter can make more money in one night than a college professor can make in five years!"

"You're right, pard," said the passenger with the loud check suit. "There's too blamed many college professors and too blamed few great prizefighters."

Omissions of History.

The patriots at Mecklenburg, N. C., had drawn up their declaration of independence.

"Our object in doing this, nearly a year and two months in advance of the regular July 4 affair," they explained, "is to accustom the people to the idea, so they will form the habit of celebrating independence day in a sane and sensible fashion."

But it didn't do any good.

Less Ambitious than That.

"In short," said the architect, "you want me to draw plans for a skyscraper church."

"Not exactly," answered the trustees. "We'll be satisfied if it is a skyreacher."

LETTER OF MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

Copyright: 1905: By the Marquise de Fontenoy.

LORD TRAFALGAR'S death from injuries sustained by a fall downstairs brings John Eyre Nelson, married to Miss Kitty Kell, a school teacher of Battle Creek, Mich., considerably nearer the historic earldom of Nelson, now held by his uncle, the present and third earl of Nelson. For Viscount Trafalgar, the eldest son and heir of the earl, although married, has left no issue. The earl's second son also died childless; the third son, Thomas, is unmarried, while the fourth son, Edward, has, it is true, three young boys. After these comes the present earl's octogenarian brother, like himself a clergyman, and then John Eyre Nelson, who has, as stated above, an American wife.

The earldom carries with it a perpetual annuity of $25,000 a year, and the possession of the valuable Trafalgar house estate, near Salisbury, in Wiltshire. The present earl is an old man, considerably over 80 years of age, and the only peer of the realm now living who has held his title in three reigns—namely: those of William IV., of Queen Victoria, and of King Edward. He is often described as the grandson of the famous admiral, the hero of the battle of Trafalgar. This is a mistake. England's most celebrated naval chieftain left no legitimate issue, but only a natural daughter by Lady Hamilton. The present Lord Nelson is not the grandson, but the grandnephew of the great admiral. He is the grandson of the latter's elder sister, Mrs. Bolton, whose son became the second Earl Nelson, the first earl having been the admiral's parson brother, who died without male issue.

It must be remembered that the victor of Trafalgar died as Viscount Nelson, and that the earldom was only created after his demise, in favor of the brother, with whom he was on barely speaking terms. According to the patent of the earldom, should all the descendants of the present earl in the male line die out the peerages and the pension, as well as the ownership of Trafalgar house estate, would pass to the women of the family, so that there is no prospect of the earldom of Nelson ever becoming extinct. Admiral Lord Nelson's Italian dukedom of Bronte and his valuable Sicilian estates were inherited by his brother, and on the latter's death went to his daughter Charlotte, married to Lord Bridport, through whom they passed to the present Lord Bridport.

Spandau, by the decision of the kaiser, has ceased to be a fortress, an announcement which recalls to mind the fact that formerly the favorite residence of the electors of Brandenburg, it has for more than 300 years been regarded as the key to the defenses of Berlin. It has not only been a great fortress, but also a place for the incarceration of prisoners of state.

One of the most famous of the captives ever confined within its walls was Baron Frederick von der Trenck, who was cast into a dungeon on the discovery of his infatuation for Princess Amelia of Prussia and of the latter's reciprocation of the affection. The princess' brother, Frederick the Great, regarded this romance not merely as insolence but as high treason. The baron managed to escape from Spandau in the most marvelous and sensational manner, and on being recaptured some years later and confined in a specially constructed cell at Spandau, with an exceptionally heavy set of irons for his hands, his waist, and his feet, nevertheless succeeded in once more giving the king the slip. It was only towards the close of his reign that Frederick the Great, moved by Princess Amelia's constant appeals, removed the ban against him and permitted him to return to Prussia, where he is said to have had an affecting interview with the princess a few days before her death.

On the outbreak of the French revolution the baron, disgusted with all the persecution that he had endured at the hands of the rulers of Prussia and of Austria, espoused with enthusiasm the doctrines that were then stirring France, and hastened to Paris. In the place, however, of the friendly reception which he expected, he was arrested on his arrival as a secret emissary of the king of Prussia by orders of the committee of public safety, and after confinement in St. Lazarus prison was literally dragged to the scaffold, and with a refinement of cruelty was strapped to the board of the guillotine on his back, instead of on his face, and was kept thus, with his eyes unbandaged, looking up at the knife above him for fully five minutes before the executioner finally touched the spring which let the knife drop and cut off his head.

With regard to Spandau, it may be added that, although it ceases to be a first class fortress, the special war treasure of $40,000,000 in gold will continue for the present to be preserved in the so-called Julius tower of its citadel, which in view of the fact that it is surrounded by water is a particularly safe place. This gold has been preserved there ever since the war of 1870. It forms, indeed, part of the big war indemnity extorted by Germany from France at the close of the conflict, and during all these five and thirty years has borne no interest, thus entailing a big loss upon the imperial treasury. It is preserved there for the payment of the expenses of the mobilization of the great German army on a war footing during the first few days following the outbreak of hostilities, when it is a matter of national importance that everything should go without a single hitch, and when the lack of sufficient gold at such a critical moment might arrest the entire process of rapid organization of the defenses, and spell disaster for German arms.

Young Archduke Charles of Austria, the now eighteen year old son of Archduke Otto, and heir presumptive to the throne, may be said to have made his début at the court of Vienna the other day on the occasion of the state banquet given by his granduncle, the old emperor, in honor of King Frederick Augustus of Saxony. It was the first occasion on which the young prince appeared at any such state function, and he is said to have borne himself exceedingly well, looking trim and comely in his uniform of lieutenant of the first regiment of lanciers, the crack corps of cavalry of the Austrian army.

He is the first of the members of the imperial house of Hapsburg to have received his education in the public schools of the metropolis, taking his seat as a boy on the school benches beside the sons of working men and petty tradespeople, joining with them in their games, in the recesses, and thus getting into closer contact with the people destined eventually to become his subjects than any other scion of the house of Hapsburg called to the throne. The young fellow is immensely popular with all classes of the nation, and a particular favorite of the old emperor, who has taken an active part in directing and supervising his education. Indeed, there are many who believe that the young prince is destined to ascend the throne on the present emperor's death, and that both his uncle, the present heir apparent, Archduke Francis Ferdinand, and his father, Archduke Otto, will waive their rights in his behalf.

Lord Ashburton, whose engagement to the young American chorus girl, Frances Belmont, is so persistently announced in the newspapers on both sides of the Atlantic, has a strong strain of American blood in his veins, being descended from that Alexander Baring who was first Lord Ashburton of the present creation, and who, while on a special mission to this country, married at the close of the eighteenth century the eldest daughter of United States Senator William Bingham of Philadelphia.

The present Lord Ashburton has no share in the family banking house of Baring, and, indeed, incurred the wrath of those of his relatives connected therewith by his association with the notorious Hooley. The bankrupt proceedings in which the latter became involved showed that Lord Ashburton had not only been a large beneficiary of the reckless generosity of the ex-millionaire but had likewise been his partner in the promotion of a number of defunct companies, deeds of partnership between Hooley and the young peer having been actually drawn up and signed.

Lord Ashburton lost his wife, a singularly charming woman, daughter of the late Lord Hood, only last year, from cancer. She left five children, a seven year old boy and four girls, the eldest of whom is fifteen, and the youngest only eighteen months old. She was universally loved in London, and her death was so widely and deeply mourned that there are many who trust that there is no truth in the story so persistently printed to the effect that her husband is already about to marry again, and a chorus girl.

The Slams of Life.

Tell me not in mournful numbers

He who loafs around and slumbers

Life is real; life is earnest,
But all fame has its decease;
To oblivion each returnest—
Where is Mary Ellen Lease?

When the road of fame one limps on,
Stumbling over ruts and rocks,
He should ask for Jerry Simpson—
Has he gone to buy some socks?

Fortune's wheel for aye turns over,
Bringing bitter sniffs and snubs.
What's become of mighty Grover?
He's attacking women's clubs.

Art is long and Time is fleeting—
Glitters now the jeweled Miles?
Last time that he gave us greeting
Was to make a talk on styles.

Trust no future, howe'er pleasant;
By the past it will be dimmed;
Schley is out of it at present,
Peffer's whiskers have been trimmed.

Once a raging, roaring lion
Seeking something to devour,
Now the harmless Mr. Bryan
Talks at such-a-price per hour.

Richmond Pearson Hobson, also,
Lost the fickle public's praise.
Why does Glory call and bawl so,
Then forget in thirty days?

Fates of great men thus remind us
That the ladder which we climb
Holds a host of men behind us
Who are out to beat our time.

Cut it out—there's nothing doing;
Fame is but a changing shout;
There is always trouble brewing—
Soon the spotlight flickers out.

NEWS OF THE THEATERS.

DOROTHY VERNON OF HADDON HALL
A Historical Play in Four Acts.
BY PAUL KESTER.

Presented at the Bush Temple Theater, Chicago, by the Players Stock Company, May 22, 1905. The cast:

Jennie Faxton	Alice Riker
Lady Vernon	Kate Blancke
Sir George Vernon	Morris McHugh
Perkin	William Evarts
Dorothy	Mabel Montgomery
Sir John Manners	George Allison
Sir Malcolm Vernon	Frederic L. Power
Elizabeth, Queen of England	Gertrude Rivers
William Cecil	Paul Harris
Sir William St. Loe	C. Milford Giffin
Mary Stuart	Marion Pollock Johnson

It does not happen frequently that a play which has enjoyed a fair measure of popularity in other parts of the country receives its first presentation in Chicago at the hands of one of the local stock companies. But this week the infrequent is taking place. "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," the Paul Kester version of Charles Major's novel, has had no inconsiderable success in the east and south since it was first produced, but until last evening it had not been seen in Chicago. And to the Bush Temple players belongs the credit of bringing it forward at the present time.

It proved to be a play similar in character to "When Knighthood was in Flower," not only its heroine being closely akin in temper, spirit, and likableness to Princess Mary, and its love story resembling in romantic manner that of the earlier play, but several of the situations are so strongly reminiscent that the two dramas seem almost counterparts of each other. Readers of the Major story will not need to have the plot outlined, but for the benefit of those who are unfamiliar with the book it may be said that Dorothy is the spirited daughter of Sir George Vernon of Haddon Hall, and that she is betrothed to her cousin, Sir Malcolm. She is headstrong and unwilling to accept this match her father has planned and declares that she rather would marry Sir John, the son of Vernon's bitterest foe, the earl of Rutland. She never has seen her cousin, and Sir John, chancing to the hall, passes himself off as her cousin. She is charmed by him, consents to marry him, and even when told that he is not Sir Malcolm but is her enemy's son, she is so infatuated that she still declares her love and her willingness to wed.

The identity of Sir John is discovered to Dorothy's father, and the play has to do with the clandestine meetings and the final union of the lovers. It is a play of the historical cast which was so popular a few seasons ago, and it is one of the better of its kind. It is thoroughly improbable, as are all such dramas, but it makes a good theatrical entertainment, and watching it passes an evening merrily and pleasantly.

The performance given by the Bush Temple players was in many respects a highly creditable one. The uncertainty of a first night which caused the principals to halt in their delivery of the lines will disappear before the week is far advanced, and then the manner of presentation will be unusually satisfying. For the play is one well fitted to the abilities of the company. Miss Montgomery in the title rôle finds a part which permits her to display to the full all the charms of her personality and of such art as is at her command. She makes a roguish, handsome Dorothy, and it is a question in which she is the most pleasing, in her exhibitions of temper, her playful mischievous comedy, or her moments of sentiment. It is an impersonation enjoyable beyond the average and one of the best things this hard working actress has accomplished this season.

Mr. Alison is calm and cool as the loving Sir John, but his admirers are many at the Bush temple, and in their esteem he is capable of only the best. Miss Blancke plays the vigorous old Lady Vernon with enjoyable authority and spirit, and Mr. McHugh does praise meriting work as Sir George. The jester of Mr. Evarts is a neat bit of characterization. Mr. Power is a virile Sir Malcolm, and Miss Rivers makes Queen Elizabeth a handsome and commanding figure. The settings and costumes are in good taste and the stage management speaks of Mr. Power's good understanding and skill.

The downtown theaters are offering nothing in the way of novelty this week. At the Garrick Denman Maley has replaced Mr. Mace as Peter Pouffle in "Piff, Paff, Pouf," and last evening was received with considerable favor by the good sized audience which assembled to enjoy the "musical cocktail." The new comedian has fashioned his performance on that of his predecessor, and, while not possessing the infectious good humor and the skill in topical song work that Mr. Mace calls his own, he is acceptable and promises to do still more with the part as he familiarizes himself with it. The Pony Ballet is still the chief feature of the show, and at every performance scores heavily.

At McVicker's W. G. Stewart has assumed the rôle of Lieut. Fitzsnooks, the escort of the Cannibal King in "All 'Round Chicago." Last evening he showed that his lusty baritone has suffered no diminution in power or quality since last it was heard here. The musical comedy has been whipped into more compact shape than it had during the opening weeks and is now quite a brisk and showy entertainment.

Mme. Schumann-Heink and her company had a large audience at Powers', where they began the final week of their engagement there in "Love's Lottery." "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" is prospering at the Grand. Its last performance will be given next Saturday night. Joe Weber's All Star company had its regulation big house at the Illinois, where "Higgledy-Piggledy" and "The College Widower" are receiving their final Chicago presentations; and at the Studebaker, "The Virginian," with Dustin Farnum in his attractive portrayal of the title part, began the third week of its engagement with a good sized audience in attendance. "Our New Minister" is in the latter half of its fortnight at the Great Northern, and "The Isle of Bong Bong," at the La Salle, is busy saying farewell, preparatory for its removal to Powers' next Sunday night.

ONE ALLURING JUNKET SIDETRACKED BY PAINFUL ERROR OF A CLERK.

Merchant Marine Commission Finds Itself Unable to Plow the Raging Main and Study the Shipping Industry for Lack of Funds to Pay Expenses.

BY RICHARD WEIGHTMAN.

Washington, D. C., May 22.—[Special.]—It is painful to have to record the sudden and perhaps total occultation of one of the most attractive prospects of the day—in the line of junketing, I mean. The merchant marine commission, created by an act of congress approved on April 28, 1904, is made up of five senators and five representatives, and its ostensible duty is to investigate American shipping interests, eventually submitting recommendations for legislation that will build up our ocean commerce.

As is well known, American shipping interests cannot be investigated properly save in the summer time and under circumstances of the utmost luxury and leisure. That is the season at which the statesman's giant mind does its best and greatest work along the seashore, where the salt breezes fan the throbbing brow and the government pleasure yachts can be most conveniently diverted from convivial to useful purposes.

It takes time to study shipping, and the point of observation must be chosen with great care. We can't expect our senators and representatives to reach really valuable conclusions in Washington and with no better aid than the statistics, reports, etc., which congress has been laboriously collecting for years past.

Must Plow the Raging Main.

To do the thing correctly and with results of value to a respectful country, they must go out upon the raging main—in perfectly safe and well stored vessels of course—go plow the tossing billow and become, as it were, so many nurslings of the storm. Newport, Bar Harbor, Manchester-by-the-Sea, and such places are good enough for rest between times, as long as the appropriation holds out to burn; but the subject cannot be thoroughly mastered unless the investigators take a cruise themselves, either as favored guests of some of our starving steamship lines, or as deadhead passengers on some particularly comfortable government yacht.

With this end in view and these means fully decided upon, the merchant marine commission had mapped out an itinerary of special scope and virtually incalculable usefulness. Led by the always impetuous and devoted Charles H. Grosvenor of Ohio, the serried ten had girded up their loins for a summer of heroic self-sacrifice, determined to look into American shipping if it took them until Sept. 20, and carried them as far south as Hampton Roads. Not a cheek blanched, not a nerve so much as quivered. There was duty pointing the way with adamantine finger and as one man the fearless ten replied "we go."

Malevolent Fate Interposes.

It now appears, however, that by one of those caprices of malevolent fate which from time to time disturb the best laid plans of martyrs, mice, and men, Gen. Grosvenor's investigation fund has been mislaid. Through an error of the state department in classifying the acts of the last session of congress, the unexpended balance of the merchant marine commission has been transferred to the Panama canal account, and the commissioners—rich beyond the dreams of usury in courage, enthusiasm, and statesmanship—are now so poor in real government money that they couldn't take one trip on a "seeing Washington" car without tapping their own wads to pay for it. The balance has been literally eradicated, and through a combination of sarcasm and calamity poignant enough to make a gargoyle laugh out loud, that balance has gone to the coffers of the Panama canal commission, just now the judge and executioner of privilege and subsidy!

Any Cataclysm but This.

Gen. Grosvenor and his coadjutors in self-immolation might have faced this cataclysm like ten little nervy Spartan boys had the bereavement taken any other shape. If the unexpended balance had been transferred to the Lewis and Clark exposition fund, Sergeant at Arms Ransdell could have personally conducted the fifteen statesmen and their families, etc., from Chicago to Portland, Ore., in something like the good, old, affluent style. Had it dropped into the Philippines excursion fund, a good many of our most valuable congressmen who now balk on the Taft proposition of $500 per would see their way to going, after all. And so on. But Caprice was in her wildest mood when the merchant marine commission's treasure was emptied into the strong box of the Panama canal commission, and bitterness in the form of rusty and corroding iron has entered the soul of that thrice alluring junket.

Only two or three days ago Gen. Grosvenor uttered several piercing screams over the president's newly declared policy of an open door for Panama canal purchases, denouncing it as un-American, if not worse, and saying things quite dreadful in his whiskers. Now the money that was to have enabled the merchant marine investigators to find new beauties in the monopolies and trusts falls into the wicked hands of those who seek to scotch them.

All May Not Be Lost.

All is not lost, of course. Argument, invective, statistics, unanswerable proof have their never failing fountain in the general's brain. Whether he lounges on steamer chairs beneath the awning of a pleasure yacht or swelters fluently in the hot walls of his Ohio acropolis he can be counted on with equal certainty for figures that no one can follow, much less confute, and for demonstration that will quench the deepest thirst for controversy.

It is still possible that the general's kidnaped junket fund may be recovered. These devoted patriots may yet go forth with their lives in their hands and turn the subject of American shipping interests wrongside out for the inspection of a reverent people. But, however that may be, Gen. Grosvenor will tell us all about it next winter, even though he sweats the intervening season through at home and never samples a commissariat dizzier than that of Athens, O. In his midsummer adumbrations the sternwheeled, snub nosed tramp steamboat of the Miami and the Wabash will tell the story of the peaceful navies of the world—the galleon, the argosy, the floating palaces that crowd the seven seas—and every plank of its broad paddles will dispense a song of subsidy. Alike in burning eloquence and overwhelming computation, the general will support us to the last. He never disappoints.

And yet it was a sweet and beauteous thing, that junket we seem to have mislaid. Let us hope we have not wholly lost it!

GOVERNOR FOLK TELLS NEW YORK HOW TO DETECT THE BOODLERS.

St. Louis Man Explains Methods by Which Stories of Bribery in the Legislature at Albany May Be Run Down and the Guilty Parties Discovered.

New York, May 22.—[Special.]—The subjoined statement was dictated and revised by Gov. Joseph W. Folk of Missouri, who was elected on his record as a successful prosecutor of boodlers:

"Jefferson City, Mo., May 22.—I do not know anything about the situation at Albany, and it would not be proper for me to discuss corruption in another state. The ways of boodlers, however, are about the same everywhere.

"Men financially interested in passing or defeating bills purchase votes to accomplish their ends. Boodling is nonpartisan, and so is the law nonpartisan; and the remedy for the evil in New York is the same as in Missouri.

"It takes time, patience, and vigilance to secure evidence against corruptionists that will convict. It is one thing for a boodle story to be a matter of common report, and quite another thing to prove the story in a court of law.

Easy to Investigate Bribery.

"The only way to secure evidence of bribery is to investigate and trace to its source every boodle rumor. If a man tells a story of boodling, naming a specific sum, he either knows of the transaction himself or the person who told him knows of it, or there is falsehood out. Now, if he knows of a transaction himself the facts can be developed before a grand jury. If somebody told him it can be ascertained before a grand jury who his informant was. If he has told a falsehood that can be proven, too.

"If Brown says Smith told him that money was paid to a legislator for his vote, subpoena Smith. If Smith did tell Brown, then it can be found out, where he got his information, and what he knows of the transaction. If Smith says he did not tell Brown, confront Smith with Brown and find out who is telling the truth, reminding them both of the stringent statute against perjury.

"In cases of this kind I found it effective to allow the man who did the denying to sit for an hour or so in a room alone and consider the matter. Often at the end of an hour with his conscience, the man was ready to tell truthfully all he knew.

Unpleasant for the Prosecutor.

"This work of investigation is by no means pleasant for the prosecutor. No man likes to be interrogated regarding such matters and it usually makes an enemy of the witness, especially if he is hard pressed with embarrassing questions, as it would be the duty of the prosecutor to put to him. The prosecutor will find himself hedged in by hostile influences, and every conceivable effort will be made to have him desist. He may go on for a long while without any tangible evidence, but if he will not become discouraged and keep on he will secure the evidence in the end if it is there.

"Of course no two sets of conditions are entirely the same, each instance of bribery has its own features. But patient and impartial investigation will usually be rewarded. Somebody will tell the truth.

"You say that between $4,000 and $40,000 was spent to defeat the gas bill at Albany. You should go to the prosecutor there and give him the information. Then if each one who is claimed to know anything from hearsay or otherwise, and every one who has had opportunity to know is examined, after awhile the evidence of the corruption will be developed or the story will be proven to be untrue.

May Be Work of Months.

"Proof, perhaps, cannot be secured in a day or a week; it may take months or a year. But if the bribery was done, as it is claimed, some one at some time in the course of the investigation will drop a clew leading up to the evidence required.

"The great benefit arising from the conviction of boodlers is not their incarceration in prison; that is merely an incident. The main thing is the arousing of the public conscience to the necessity of stamping out the things that dishonor.

"A few years ago bribery was not considered as a serious offense. Men gave bribes and thought nothing of it; men took bribes and boasted of it. The revelations followed. Now the people realize that bribery if tolerated would lead to the overthrow of government itself, that it is the treason of place.

Boodling Is Bad Politics.

"The result that counts most for good government is the teaching of the lesson that boodling is bad politics. As a rule, boodlers do not know good from bad; all they know is politics. But they do know good politics from bad politics. When they shall have learned the lesson thoroughly that boodling is bad politics the question of good government will be near solution.

"In answer to your question as to whether these methods could be applied to the insurance scandals now disturbing the country, the same principle that demands honesty in public officials calls for honesty in those who have the people's money in any fiduciary capacity. A man who has a $5,000 policy is as much interested in the honesty of those in charge of the affairs of the company as the man who owns a farm of like value is concerned in the integrity of those who represent him in an official capacity.

"Great insurance companies are quasi-public in their nature. The law will not permit even an ordinary trustee to profit beyond any legal compensation, and all that is made directly or indirectly out of trust funds inures to the benefit of the cestui que trust.

Public Official a Trustee.

"The public official is the trustee of an expressed trust to be administered for public good, not for private gain. An official of an insurance company has no more right to juggle the company's assets for personal profit than a public official would have to use his position for gain, or to put his hands into the public treasury and extract therefrom the people's money. Such practices, whether by public or quasi-public trustees, amount to the embezzlement of the people's trusts.

"The insurance revelations have been startling, and a complete investigation is demanded. If those chosen to represent the people and the policy holders are not protecting them, the policy holders could easily solve the matter by getting together for the purpose of protecting themselves and securing their rights."

SINGER AGAIN A BRIDE.

MRS. SUE H. FURBECK BECOMES MRS. V. C. ARMSTRONG.

Recently Divorced from George Furbeck After Long Separation—Married in Mother's Apartments—Iowa Stockman Arrives to Find His Money Tied Up by His Wife—Sues for Divorce from Ex-Minister—Seeks Freedom at End of Forty Years.

The second romance in the life of Sue Harrington Furbeck, the singer, culminated yesterday when she was married at noon to Victor C. Armstrong in her mother's rooms at the Pattington apartments, 1632 Graceland avenue. The Rev. J. S. Ainslee officiated.

Mrs. Armstrong recently secured a divorce from her former husband, George Furbeck, although they had been separated more than a year. She was the soloist at the Oak Park Congregational church and later at a church at Evanston. Mr. Armstrong is the western manager of the Continuous Steel Rail company of New York, with offices in the Monadnock block.

The couple left in the afternoon for an extensive tour of the east. They will go first to Delaware Gap, Del., and will visit the groom's parents in Baltimore. Atlantic City, Newport, New York, Washington, and Cleveland, O., also are in the itinerary. They expect to return to Chicago toward the last of June and will live with the mother of the bride.

Catches Stockman on the Run.

When Willis A. Straight left his ranch at Fort Dodge, Ia., and started for Chicago with several carloads of cattle some one notified Mrs. Helen M. Straight, who lives at Franklin boulevard and Spaulding avenue. As a result the husband was met with a copy of an injunction issued by Judge Healy when he tried to collect $7,000 for his cattle in the stockyards.

Mrs. Straight began suit for divorce when she learned her husband was on his way to Chicago. Judge Healy gave her a decree, with $8,000 alimony and $60 a month for support of her six children. She charged misconduct.

Sues for Divorce from Ex-Minister.

Flavius J. Brobst, formerly a Presbyterian minister, has been made defendant in a suit for absolute divorce started in the Circuit court by Mrs. Julia E. Allen Brobst, who alleges desertion. Three years ago, the wife, after a closely contested suit, obtained a decree of separate maintenance.

Daniel J. Van Velsor, president of a medical company, with offices at 58 State street, has been sued for divorce by Mrs. Margaret F. Van Velsor. Octavia Amatt is named as co-respondent. Mrs. Van Velsor, who lives at 3504 Ellis avenue, also charges cruelty. The couple formerly boarded at the Victoria hotel.

After forty years of married life, Mrs. Anna Maria Mueller asks a divorce from Franz P. Mueller. There are eight children, one of whom is 39 years old. Misconduct and cruelty are alleged.

Gregorie PaQuette, a butcher, is charged by Mrs. Amanda PaQuette with ill treating her and being too friendly with Belle McNulty.

Ministers Talk of Divorce.

"Marriage and Divorce" was the topic discussed at the Methodist preachers' meeting in the morning. The Rev. Nathan H. Axtell, D. D., pastor of the Methodist church at Naperville, who introduced the subject, said in part:

"We never shall be able to divorce divorce from an unnatural and inconsiderate marriage. A selfish man cannot pledge his faith to the marriage ceremony. Woman was not placed at man's foot to be trodden on nor at his back to follow him."

WOMAN VICTIM OF AUTO CRASH.

Mrs. Benjamin Church, Injured by Collision in Glencoe, Taken to Keith Residence.

Mrs. Benjamin Church, whose husband is a member of the firm of Church & Holles, is at the residence of J. E. Keith in Glencoe, recovering from injuries received in a collision between two automobiles last Sunday.

The automobile in which Mrs. Church was riding had as its other passengers her husband, her son, Walter Hoyle, Mrs. Jennie Ball of Grafton, N. D., and Miss Cora Wagner, another guest of the family. It was traveling at the rate of twenty miles an hour when the explosion of a rear tire caused it to swerve and strike another machine belonging to John Tuttle of Highland Park, which was standing by the roadside in Glencoe.

Tuttle, who was standing beside his machine, narrowly escaped severe injury, being thrown violently to the ground. The other automobile was overturned and its passengers hurled out. Mrs. Church was taken to the Keith residence, where it was found that one of her ribs was fractured.

"My great-grandfather, Gen. Jean Gerard Doniat, served in Napoleon's armies," he said last night, "so you see I come from fighting stock."

MRS. LIVERMORE IS IMPROVED.

Crisis Passed in Illness of Author and Reformer in Her Melrose, Mass., Home.

Melrose, Mass., May 22.—The crisis in the illness of Mrs. Mary A. Livermore passed during the last twenty-four hours, and she is slightly better. It was stated that if her condition remained the same during the next thirty-six hours there would be a possibility of her recovery.

PHONE COMPANY WINS SUIT.

Jury Finds That Plaintiff Paid $175 a Year Voluntarily and Cannot Recover.

The Chicago Telephone company yesterday won the test rebate suit brought against it by the Illinois Glass company. The jury after being instructed by Judge Holdom returned a verdict in favor of the defendant. The court's instructions were that as there was no duress shown the plaintiff could not recover a rebate of $50 a year for five years from the telephone company.

It was the contention of Attorney Isaac Mayer, representing the glass company, that his clients were forced to pay $175 a year for a telephone while an ordinance enacted by the city council in 1888 restricts the telephone company from charging more than $125 a year.

Attorney Charles Holt, counsel for the defense, declared there was no duress proven because officers of the Illinois Glass company had never objected to paying the advanced rate. It was urged the plaintiff might have retained the grounded service at the cheaper rate if it had desired.

TELLS HOW TO ADVERTISE.

Lecturer Says Truth Must Be Told in Order to Retain Confidence of Customers.

According to John Lee Mahin, who delivered a lecture on advertising last night at the Central Y. M. C. A., the advertising man must "deliver the goods," or he will soon become discredited with the consumers.

"If an advertising man is not truthful," said Mr. Mahin, "he is little better than the confidence man. If he does not deliver the goods he advertises he is taking money under false pretensions. A judicious advertisement is the best salesman a firm can employ."

More than 100 men were present at the lecture. A general discussion of advertising followed.

BIG OFFER TO SCHOOLS.

R. T. CRANE AGREES TO EQUIP FIVE TRAINING CENTERS.

Willing to Pay Entire Cost of Maintenance, Including Salaries of the Teachers—Also Proposes to Found Twenty-four Scholarships in Manual Instruction in the Chicago Normal at $300 Each Per Year—Proposition to Board of Education.

To stimulate interest in manual training and construction work in the lower grades of the public schools Richard T. Crane, head of the Crane company, has agreed to equip five manual training centers in the elementary schools and pay the cost of maintenance and the salaries of the teachers required.

In a letter to the board of education Mr. Crane promises also to found, with the consent of the board, twenty-four scholarships in manual training at the Chicago Normal school of $300 each per year for a minimum period of four years. These gifts will amount to $14,700 annually.

The proposition made provides that two of the manual training centers shall be in the west division of the city, two in the south division, and one in the north division. They are to be practically experimental centers for manual training, and the value of the gifts is declared by local educators to be incalculable.

Board to Pass on the Offer.

The board will accept or reject Mr. Crane's gift at its meeting tomorrow night. The school management committee yesterday recommended its acceptance, and adopted a set of rules to govern the practical workings of the plan drawn up by Supt. Cooley.

In his communication to the school board, which bears the date of May 15, Mr. Crane declares that he is desirous of doing something more for manual training, as he regards that branch of school work as an "important branch of education in the public schools."

Mr. Crane provides that the cost of operating these schools shall not exceed $1,500 each. The locations of the centers are to be selected by Supt. Cooley, and the work is to be placed under the direction of Supervisor R. M. Smith of the manual training department.

"Let Them Stay Home," Says Cameron.

"Teachers with young children should stay at home permanently," declared Chairman Daniel Cameron of the committee, when Trustee O'Ryan advocated a modification of the rule prohibiting teachers with children under 2 years old from teaching. Mr. O'Ryan pointed out the fact that this rule had the effect of revoking teachers' certificates, inasmuch as another rule provides that certificates die a natural death if they are not used before the expiration of three years.

"A woman who has a child 2 years old must either neglect the child or her school work," said Trustee Cameron.

Trustee White served notice on the committee that he would next fall wage war on German in the elementary schools with a view to having it dropped from the course of study.

Action of the question of segregating the crippled children in a building with a capacity for 175 pupils was deferred until the return of former President Graham Harris to the city. Mr. Harris has expressed a desire to speak on the matter.

The request of the committee arranging for the dedication of Mark White square to close the Holden, Healy, Armour, Brenan, and Sheridan schools at 2:15 o'clock to permit the children to participate in the ceremonies was denied, on the ground that the school committee would be assuming responsibility for the safety of the children. The citizens' committee was authorized to assemble the school children Saturday morning.

IROQUOIS CASES SET AGAIN.

Motion to Quash Indictments Deferred Until Thursday at Request of Attorney Mayer.

Further continuance in the hearing of a motion to quash the Iroquois fire indictments was granted yesterday by Judge Kavanagh, and at the request of Attorney Levy Mayer the hearing was set for Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. Mayer explained that he was unprepared to argue the motion because he is engaged in the labor injunctional proceedings in the federal court.

SUES TO SET ASIDE WILL SO SHE CAN LIVE IN PARIS.

Mrs. Adah Taylor Garrus, Married to Frenchman Against Mother's Wish, to Lose Income on Leaving America.

Forbidden by her mother's will from leaving America, Mrs. Adah L. Taylor Garrus, 619 Sixty-sixth street, has begun a fight in the Circuit court to set aside the will of Mrs. Elizabeth L. Taylor, who died last February, leaving an estate of $100,000.

Revelation that Mrs. Garrus became a bride against the wishes of her mother is made. As long as the daughter remains in this country Mrs. Taylor's will provides she shall be paid $150 a month. If she leaves the allowance shall be cut off upon her departure and not restored until her return.

It seems that two years ago when Mrs. Taylor and her daughter were in Paris the mother became ill. Dr. Ninus Garrus was called. While he was attending the mother he fell in love with the daughter. Mrs. Taylor tried in vain to prevent the marriage.

From the time of the wedding Mrs. Taylor's fear was that her daughter would live in Paris. The daughter assured her she would never leave her, and with Dr. Garrus returned with Mrs. Taylor to Chicago.

Since the death of Mrs. Taylor Dr. Garrus and his wife desire, it is said, to return to France, so they have brought suit, naming all the other heirs as defendants and alleging undue influence through a story of a conversation with the spirit of Mrs. Taylor's husband, James L. Taylor.

The trio held responsible for the story of Taylor's spirit are Mrs. Mary H. Patterson, Mrs. Martha H. Davis, and Mrs. Adah H. Jack, nieces of testatrix. The husbands of the first two are Norman L. Patterson, employed in the offices of the board of education, and Harry C. Davis. The men are trustees of the estate under the will. Other defendants are Mrs. Emma Hudson Lowe and the Misses Nellie and Annabel Camblin of Peoria.

FEE OF ARCHITECTS UNCHANGED

County Board Takes No Action on Recommendation to Make It 5 Per Cent.

The county board will not increase the compensation which it previously agreed to pay the architect supervising the new courthouse. Although the courthouse committee voted to increase the fee to 5 per cent, which would add about $30,000 to the total amount paid to the successful contestant, the recommendation did not come up for consideration yesterday, and, according to President Brundage, will not be brought up in the future.

Mr. Brundage said after the meeting that the reason the proposed change was not considered was that Shepley, Rutan & Coolidge had agreed to remain in the contest under the sliding scale rule.

The change in the rule was urged in committee when the firms of D. H. Burnham & Co., Chicago, Carrere & Hastings, and George B. Post & Son of New York declared they would not compete unless the percentage was raised, asserting that under the rules of the American Institute of Architects they could not do it.

RUNAWAY CARS WRECK OFFICE.

Building Is Demolished and Man and Woman Have Narrow Escape from Death.

The office of the Franklin Coal company was struck and demolished yesterday by a train of fifteen freight cars which ran wild down an incline on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad tracks at California avenue.

The cars were filled with sand for elevating the railway tracks and the train was backing down the incline. When the engineer tried to stop the train broke in two and the rear part continued down the incline, increasing in speed, and crashed into the building.

President A. H. Glaser of the coal company and Miss L. M. Rieck, 925 North Kedzie avenue, who were standing at the window of the office, ran out just in time to save their lives.

THE GREAT MOGUL

BY LOUIS TRACY

Author of "The Wings of the Morning"

IT'S "Meat for men"—and women, too—this latest great story by Louis Tracy. After so many poor little yarns of this and that—sickly love stories that weren't worth the paper they were printed on—"The Great Mogul" stands out in bold relief.

Louis Tracy doesn't mince matters a bit when he writes about the Oriental beauty whose wiles upset an empire.

If your blood doesn't dance when you read of the man who dared the rush of a war elephant, you need a doctor. "The Great Mogul" is a ripping good story.

WHY HALT

Between Hope and Fear?

WOMEN grow up, marry, hope for the blessing that THE STORK brings, yet dread its coming.

WHY?

Because they are not well in the special sense that only women can fully understand.

BUT WHY should a woman in this condition ask some other woman who may be secretly suffering in the same way to explain it to her and advise her what to do?

WHY NOT ASK

A DOCTOR who has made the subject his life study and has cured thousands of sufferers of chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to "the sex"?

DR. PIERCE is such a man

Why Not Ask Him?

He will receive your inquiry either in person or by letter, in the strictest confidence and answer you by mail in a securely sealed envelope, giving you an honest opinion and RELIABLE MEDICAL ADVICE, such as can be given only by a medical man of education and experience.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S SUCCESS IS REAL and there is a steadily increasing demand for his "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION," which is a vegetable tonic and restorative, an almost infallible remedy for nervousness, dragging-down pains and drains, constantly recurring aches, soreness, ulceration, ill temper, pale face, "miserable" digestion and as many other symptoms as there are days in the month.

Over a third of century ago Dr. R. V. Pierce used this "Prescription" in his private practice and found it so effective, curing nine-tenths or more of the cases in which he used it, that he came to call it "HIS FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION," and then he decided to put it within the reach of the large number whom he could not reach as a private practitioner.

The preparation of this famous "Prescription" is now carried on with the greatest care and exactness, each ingredient being accurately weighed or measured and every process continued with the strictest precision and cleanliness.

THE COMPOSITION OF "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" has been closely guarded all these years though offers aggregating thousands of dollars have been made for the formula.

Now,—to answer the published misstatements made by unprincipled persons for reasons and purposes of their own and as an evidence of GOOD FAITH ON THE PART OF DOCTOR PIERCE, the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, have decided to GIVE THE INGREDIENTS TO THE WORLD, and thus prove that there is neither alcohol, opium, digitalis or other harmful element or drug in its composition.

Hereafter every bottle of "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" WILL HAVE THE INGREDIENTS ON THE WRAPPER THUS:

Lady's Slipper (Cypripedium Pubescens).
Black Cohosh (Cimicifuga Racemosa).
Unicorn root (Chamælirium Luteum).
Blue Cohosh (Caulophyllum Thalictroides).
Golden Seal (Hydrastis Canadensis).

The Dispensary where this famous remedy is put up is likewise freely thrown open to inspection under competent and courteous guidance every working day in the year.

The makers and publishers of misstatements concerning the composition of the remedies made in the World's Dispensary will be prosecuted and punished to the fullest extent of the law.

For valuable medical advice address Doctor Pierce, Medical Director of Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I wish to write a few words to thank you from the depths of a sick woman's heart for blessing and benefit I have received from your remedies," writes Mrs. L. A. Pugh, of De Soto, Wis. "Three months ago I was a nervous wreck and my trouble had been for years and years coming on me. In April I became almost bedfast with nervousness — mostly at spinal nerve and centering at the base of the brain. I have taken six bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' and although I am not well yet, am so much improved that I feel safe in saying it is the only medicine a woman can take and be sure of it doing her permanent good. I feel sure that it is going to give me a new lease on life. May every sick, weak and miserable woman find how beneficial a medicine it is for them. My first advice to my suffering friends, is, take Dr. Pierce's remedies at once."

"I was sick for nearly two years, troubled with female weakness, so I could hardly drag around," writes Mrs. M. L. Hall, of Battlecreek, So. Car. "Had a burning in my head, pain around heart, circulation was very poor, feet and hands cold, and I was very irritable. Could get but little sleep. Suffered also from indigestion. I took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, two of his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and also one vial of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. The results were satisfactory. His weight at two months old was thirteen and a half pounds. At this writing baby is two months and a half old, and I am doing my own cooking and work (including the milking) for my family of six.

"I hope that this may induce some other invalid to try your most wonderful medicines."

REFUSE LICENSE FOR AUTO RACES.

Harlem Town Board Springs a Surprise on Chicago Automobile Club.

MEET TO BEGIN SATURDAY

Villagers Said to Resent Stopping of Horse Racing; Entries Are Out.

Coincident with the announcement of its big list of entries for the spring race meeting, to begin next Saturday, the Chicago Automobile club last night was confronted with the problem of securing a new place to hold its meet. The club had made all its plans to conduct the three days' meeting at the Harlem racetrack, but at the session of the Harlem village board last night the villagers refused to grant a license for the sport.

The action apparently was a complete surprise. The automobilists had prepared the Harlem course for the use of the racing machines and supposed their petition to the village board would go through without trouble.

Members of the Harlem board refused to give any explanation of their action. Residents of the village, however, suggested that it might have been the result of the interruption of horse racing by State's Attorney Healy. This has deprived the village of a considerable income.

The board's refusal came too late to the Automobile club to take any action last night. Whether it now will be able to secure the Washington park racetrack is doubtful. The meeting originally was scheduled, it is said, for the south side course and then transferred suddenly to Harlem, and it is considered possible the Washington park officials may turn down the autoists if they make a second application.

Entry List Is Large.

The entry list is the largest and is more national in scope than any ever announced for a Chicago meet, and in quality the list exceeds any previous meeting in the west. The mile a minute drivers are entered, with Barney Oldfield, Earl Kiser, Eddie Bald, Webb Jay, Carl Fisher, and others of the highest class. These drivers and their machines will be the main attraction at the track, and with a continuance of good weather, performances bordering on the sensational are looked for.

Noted Drivers Entered.

Many of the premier drivers of the country have eagerly accepted the opportunity to win fresh laurels on the excellent track at Harlem, as by several of them it is considered the best in the country. Barney Oldfield, the dean of the speed merchants, Earl Kiser, Webb Jay, Carl Fisher, Dan Canary, Ollie Savin, Jack Fry, J. H. McDuffie, Jerry Ellis, and Charles Soules are among the number who, with their "gasoline thoroughbreds," will be the center of attraction in the speed section of the meet.

The program is comprehensive, and, while the fast machines have been given plenty of opportunities to perform, the utilitarian side of the automobile industry has not been overlooked. Events specially carded for the benefit of the manufacturers have been well patronized, and many makes of machines will compete. The amateurs have been given a chance to display their skill, and in the event for owners there are entered Col. E. H. R. Green of Texas, Dr. Harold E. Thomas, H. L. Brand, Maj. C. S. Miller, W. H. Fahrney, R. W. Knisely, and S. K. Martin Jr.

Officials Are Competent.

With a competent list of officials, headed by Referee Sam A. Miles, the meet ought to prove one of the best in the history of the sport. Following is the program:

BARRY TO GO TO CINCINNATI CLUB

President Hermann Says He Has Purchased Release of Chicago Player.

SEBRING AND DOLAN OUT.

Former Quits His Job and Latter Will Be Released; Games in National.

Cincinnati, O., May 22.—[Special.]—Jimmy Sebring of the Cincinnati reds today announced his retirement from baseball. At first it was reported that he had decided to jump his contract and join an outlaw team in the east. President Hermann stated this evening that the player had quit the game to go into business, but will remain with the team until another player has been secured to fill his position.

Jack Barry has been purchased from the Chicago National league team and will play first base, instead of Kelly, who is hampered with a bad shoulder, but will try to hold out in the left field. President Hermann tried to get Bill Lush from the Phillies, but was not successful. Fred Odwell is laid up by sickness and unfit for work. He may be forced to retire for the season.

Manager Kelly hopes to have him back in harness in a couple of weeks.

Cosy Dolan has been notified of his prospective release. President Hermann says these are the only changes that have occurred, and that there is no ground for a rumor of a number of others.

PUTS CHARGES AGAINST M'GRAW

President Dreyfuss of the Pittsburg Club Makes Formal Complaint to National League.

New York, May 22.—President Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburg National club preferred charges today to President Pulliam of the National league against Manager John McGraw of the New York club, of addressing offensive remarks to him as he sat in the grand stand at the games at the Polo grounds last Friday and Saturday. President Pulliam said he would lay the matter before the board of directors.

TERRE HAUTE PLAYER IS HURT.

Catcher George Pierce Is Hit Behind the Ear by a Pitched Ball and Knocked Out.

Springfield, O., May 22.—[Special.]—Catcher George Pierce of the Terre Haute team was struck behind the left ear by a ball thrown by Pitcher Summers of the Springfield team, and the game was called at the beginning of the second inning this afternoon. Pierce dropped unconscious on the plate and was hurriedly treated by the physicians at the grounds, and then taken to the hospital. At 6 o'clock the hospital physicians said Pierce's condition was improving, although he was still unconscious. His pulse was good and he has a chance to recover. It is feared he has concussion of the brain. When Pitcher Summers saw what he had done he broke down and cried like a baby.

Celebrate Victory Over Michigan.

More than a thousand students of the University of Chicago last night held a jubilee celebration in honor of the victory of the maroons over the athletes of Michigan in the dual track meet on Saturday. A huge bonfire was built on the campus, and afterward a parade was formed and the students marched to the home of Coach Stagg. In response to the call of the crowd Coach Stagg said:

"Well, we butchered them. I hope two weeks from tonight there will be a celebration when every one in the university will be out. I believe Chicago has the best team for dual meets in the west, and I believe we could compete with any team in the east." During the course of the celebration a spirited "water fight" was indulged in by the rival students of Hitchcock and Snell halls.

Olivet Wins by Small Margin.

Albion, Mich., May 22.—[Special.]—Olivet college won a closely contested dual track meet from Albion today by a total of 53 to 51 points. The meet was undecided until the last event. SOX GAIN ON THE LEADERS

DEFEAT OF CLEVELAND BRINGS COMISKEY'S MEN NEARER TOP.

South Siders and the Senators Take Day Off Owing to Break in the Schedule, and the Rest Improves Standing of Local Team—Will Resume Series Today, When Third Game Will Be Played with Stahl's Nine—Players Practice.

Chicago's White Stockings and the Washington Senators took a day off yesterday, thanks to the breach in the American league schedule, and the lay off again proved beneficial to Comiskey's men, who climbed nearer to the top rung in the pennant race. It was not a climb in the real sense of the word, but the Cleveland leaders were pulled down a notch by the Philadelphia Athletics, who accomplished the task in an easy manner.

As a result of the victory of Connie Mack's men the lead held by Cleveland over the White Sox is tenuous at present. If the White Stockings can administer another defeat to Stahl's crowd today when the series is resumed at the south side grounds and the Athletics can repeat their performance of yesterday Comiskey's men will again occupy first place.

The White Stockings managed to put in a good day yesterday in spite of the break in the schedule. Manager Jones had his men out on the south side grounds and put them through a few practice stunts. The work was just hard enough to keep the players on edge.

President Comiskey spent a good part of the day at the south side park, and incidentally drove a spike in the report which gained circulation that he intended trading Danny Green for John Anderson of the New York Highlanders. "Commy" said there was nothing doing in the trading line just at present, and this seems more than likely inasmuch as Green is hitting the ball "some" right now. It was said that if Anderson was secured he would be placed on first base in place of Donohue, but "Jiggs" is batting a bit himself.

President Comiskey is still hanging on to Pitcher Flene, and has not yet secured waivers from other clubs. Manager Griffith, it is understood, is after the twirler to help out his crippled staff which, with the sickness of Chesbro and the turning loose of Walter Clarkson, has left the team in a bad way. Hogg apparently is the only dependable pitcher on the staff just now.

HIGHLANDERS SCORE SHUTOUT.

Defeat Detroit by Count of 3 to 0—Griffith Is Put Off Grounds—Good Pitching by Hogg.

Detroit, Mich., May 22.—Griffith pitched an inning today and was put out of the grounds for kicking. Hogg, who took his place, had the locals at his mercy and shut them out. Mullin also pitched well, Yeager, a former local favorite, batting in all of the runs off him. Chase and Williams did the star fielding. Score:

GOLFERS PRACTICE AT CROMER.

Six of the American Players Engage in Preliminary Work for British Women's Championship.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
[Copyright: 1905: By the New York Herald.]

CROMER, England, May 22.—In spite of the strong wind which blew across the Cromer links today and made straight driving anything but easy, some good practice was indulged in by six of the eight American entries for the women's golf championship.

Less troubled than anybody was the present American champion, Miss Georgeanna Bishop. On two or three occasions she found bunkers, but never failed once to play out in clever style. Though the wind might spoil her tee shots and thus undo good work with her driver, her mashie came promptly to the rescue. There was, in the opinion of an English expert, an inclination on Miss Bishop's part to clip her drive, thereby giving to her action a little of that cricket stroke which just prevents a complete follow through, but this did not seem to affect her golf through the green and her putting was deadly. There was no hesitation as she took the line at a glance and promptly brought her putter into play, and the ball generally rolled to the bottom of the tin.

Today she has as partner Miss M. B. Adams of Wollaston, who, like Miss Bishop, was bunkered at the sixteenth hole. Her ball was under the face of the hazard, and almost unplayable, but she pluckily played her mashie, and with such effect that the ball bounced back, and, although losing a little in distance, she got a better lie. Miss Adams' style of putting was likened to the methods of Marshall Hall in that department of the game, holding her right hand in the center of the shaft and standing immediately behind the club.

Miss Ethel Burnet of Misquamont, Miss F. C. Griscom of Merion, the former American champion, Miss E. Lockwood of Lexington, and Mrs. Samuel Bettle of Merion were the other American players on the links. Misses Margaret and Harriet Curtis are due at Cromer tonight with Miss Lottie Dod. They have been staying with the latter for a week and during that period the clever lawn tennis ex-champion has given them several good games.

From an English point of view of the styles of Miss Griscom and Miss Lockwood, both seem slightly to overdo matters in their endeavors to get nice easy swings. Miss Burnet seems to have the best follow through, though perhaps a trifle exaggerated, especially with iron clubs. One good point characterized the Americans as they keep their clubs free from the ground, especially in iron play. There is, in fact, no tendency to ground the club, and they are graceful withal, Miss Bettle particularly so, considering that until last Thursday the players had scarcely handled a club since last October. They soon dropped into the game and there is every promise of their giving good exhibitions of real golf in the championship.

Notes of the Golfers.

Women's events are scheduled for this afternoon at Calumet and Midlothian.

Play in the Metropolitan Golf association championship will start tomorrow.

Pittsburg defeated Philadelphia, 25 to 18, on Saturday. In the singles, ten on each side, Pittsburg won, 19 to 11. In the foursome Philadelphia won, 7 to 6.

Chairman H. J. Tweedie of the handicap committee of the Western Golf association again requests secretaries of clubs to send in their handicap lists, based on par. His address is 23 Borden block.

Miss Hazel Humble yesterday established a new woman's record for the nine hole public links, registering a score of 41. The previous best record was 43. Miss Humble is a member of the Jackson Park Golf club and will play in a number of open tournaments this season as a representative of that organization.

CROWD ENJOYS BELMONT SPORT.

FEATURE WON BY OXFORD

Faraday Colt Captures the Van Cortlandt Handicap by Half a Length.

New York, May 22.—[Special.]—Superb weather made the outing for 10,000 racegoers at Belmont park today most enjoyable. The sport was free from anything of a distressing nature and in every instance the winners were greeted with enthusiasm.

From a racing standpoint the Van Cortlandt handicap, at seven furlongs, was the feature of the day. Oxford, who gave scale weight to everything in the race, incidentally 12 pounds to Sparkling Star, was returned a winner by half a length. Lyne waited with the Faraday colt until Sparkling Star and Cairngorm had begun to tire from making the pace, when he cut loose with Oxford and took the race under a drive in 1:26⅖, with Cairngorm beating Sparkling Star a head.

From a jocular point of view the race for the amateur cup, in which "gentlemen riders" had mounts on inferior selling platers, at a mile, inclined to provoke mirth excepting the fact that W. M. Scheftel's Orly II., the favorite, with Mr. Ewart in the saddle, won in a canter by a city block. Mr. Ewart knew enough to hug the rail as he swung into the stretch, while the other horses bore out and lost ground. R. M. Taylor's Arrahgowan rolled home in the place, eight lengths in front of F. M. Kelley's Huguenot, who was ridden by Mr. Kerr of Washington. F. Ambrose Clark came in fourth with Lipton, after showing the way to the end of the far turn. Some of the other riders were hanging on for dear life at the end, with several using their whips in such a manner as to provoke shouts of laughter from the unsympathetic. The mile was run in 1:44.

Dave Johnson's Roseben, with 140 pounds, was a hot favorite for the high weight handicap at seven furlongs which opened the sport. O'Neill gave him a splendid ride and the big sprinter won easily by two lengths in 1:28⅘. It was a close fit for the place, Hildebrand keeping Neptunus going long enough to beat Delcanta a head for the honor.

R. T. Wilson Jr.'s Jessamine, after a sharp duel with P. S. P. Randolph's Just, drew away at the furlong pole and won the second race, for 2 year olds, easily. Just had a mortgage on the place, with Andrew Miller's Cambridge third.

Sydney Paget's Montanus was victorious in the last race, for maiden 2 year olds. Willie Davis, who had the mount, got him out of a pocket at the quarter pole and then gradually wore down M. L. Hayman's Miss Point, beating her half a length. Blue Mamie was a close third.

SAVING THE QUAIL IN INDIANA.

Fund Raised to Restock the State with Game Which Is Being Rapidly Exterminated.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 22.—Gun clubs in Indiana will contribute $5,000 to a fund to be used by the state game warden in restocking the state with quail and the game warden will arrange to protect the birds through the hard winter. More than 1,000 dozen will be bought by June 15. The warden's plan is to have a man in each community trap or net as many quail as possible before Jan. 1 and, feeding them through January, February, and March, release them. Since the strict game law went into effect a few years ago fewer birds have been killed by hunters, but unfavorable weather conditions almost exterminated Bob White in Indiana.

Morgan Park Wins at Tennis.

ENGLISH LAD RUNS THIRD.

GOOD 3 YEAR OLD OF LAST SEASON STARTS AT LOUISVILLE.

Finishes Third to Pretension and Thespian After a Wide Turn Into the Stretch, Which Causes Him to Lose Considerable Ground—Edna Tanner, at 100 to 1 in the Betting, Wins the Third Race on the Card—Other Events on the Racetrack.

Louisville, Ky., May 22.—[Special.]—English Lad made his first start of the season in the handicap at seven furlongs at Churchill Downs this afternoon and finished third to Pretension and Thespian.

The Cook horse trailed his field the first part of the journey, and when Nicol set him down, turning for home, he allowed English Lad to go wide, losing a lot of ground. There was a sharp drive between Pretension and Thespian through the stretch, the former winning with something to spare.

The three placed horses were well backed, although Jake was really the best played. He finished fourth.

ABE ATTEL BESTS BATTLING NELSON

Dane Shows He Is Not a Six Round Fighter in Bout at Philadelphia.

IMPROVES NEAR FINISH.

Honors in the "No Decision" Affair Go to the Clever Californian.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 22.—[Special.]—Battling Nelson is not a six round boxer. That was clearly demonstrated in his windup with Abe Attel at the National Athletic club tonight.

In clean punching, in long range fighting and cleverness, Attel made Battling look like a novice, and when disparity in weights are considered, allowances may be made for Attel's poorer showing in the mixups. In a long drawn out affair Nelson's superior ruggedness and natural doggedness would doubtless carry his colors to the front.

From the start Nelson adopted tactics which Terry McGovern brought into vogue, and his style suggested that of Terrible Terry when the latter was good. He kept boring in from bell to bell, but only at rare intervals did Attel show any disposition to decline the issue, and then only to feint Nelson into trouble.

The boys agreed to box under straight marquis of Queensberry rules, a style of game which is to Nelson's advantage, but the rulers did not seem to bother Attel. In the clinches he was at a disadvantage, but even there his cleverness in slipping away from Nelson's damaging short arm punches put the Dane all at sea.

FIRST ROUND—As they shook hands Nelson seemed to have a little advantage in height and weight. Both were eager, but Attel landed the first blow, a jab to the face, followed with two straight lefts, and Nelson assumed a crouch to escape the jabs. The Dane failed to land after trying to swing a right to the face. Abe jabbed at will, most of the blows getting to Nelson's face, and clinched repeatedly. It was all Attel's round.

SECOND ROUND—Nelson started the second with a rush, but his awkwardness and the clever foot work of Attel made the Dane look silly. Attel swung right to the face and followed it up with three straight jabs without return. Nelson swung right and left to Attel's body, but took a stiff left in the face in return. Abe brought blood from Nelson's nose with right and left to the face, followed by two successive lefts to the nose. Then he landed four straight rights and Nelson was holding as the bell rang.

THIRD ROUND—This was notable for the clever footwork of Attel. Nelson landed twice lightly with his left, but missed many right swings.

FOURTH ROUND—Attel opened by getting home left and right, but in the mixup which followed Nelson swung a right which landed on Abe's head just as the latter slipped in Nelson's corner. The Dane was fighting furiously and Attel gave away before the cyclonic speed of his opponent. Nelson swung a right to the body and Attel was holding to escape the furious fighting. Abe jabbed his left to the face, but Nelson, boring in, gradually was wearing down Attel by vicious fighting.

FIFTH ROUND—The Dane opened with a rush and landed left to Attel's chin. Nelson kept boring in, and whenever he was in a clinch his head frequently butted Attel. The latter did not make much of a protest, but his seconds were yelling. Nelson kept following up Attel and landed a right to the body whenever they got together. The round was Nelson's.

SIXTH ROUND—Nelson either failed to see Attel's extended hand for a handshake or else avoided it on purpose. This brought forth hisses. Attel, angered by Nelson's actions, waded in, swinging left and right to the face. Nelson was wild and missed two rights to face. The Dane landed a left to the head and Abe was holding to escape Nelson's rushes. Attel jabbed two straight lefts to the face, but Nelson retaliated by swinging a right and left to the face. Nelson kept forcing Attel, but Abe's cleverness kept the Dane from inflicting any punishment. The bell ended the round with both men boxing at a distance.

LEVY GETS THE JULY PERMIT.

Action of Supervisors Spoils Chances of the Meeting Between Nelson and Britt.

San Francisco, Cal., May 22.—[Special.]—Maurice Levy, manager of the Hayes Valley Athletic club, was today awarded the July fight permit by the supervisors. This seems to put an end to the hopes that Jimmy Britt and Battling Nelson will be able to fight in that month. Levy declares he cannot afford to pull off the Britt-Nelson fight, as Britt wants so much on the side, besides the 65 per cent that goes to the fighters, that there is nothing left for the club. Under these circumstances Levy declares he will bring Jabes White, the English champion, back here and match him with the winner of the Hanlon-Corbett fight, which occurs on June 2.

Scully Is Knocked Out.

Brockton, Mass., May 22.—[Special.]—Before the Young Men's Social and Athletic club tonight Rouse O'Brien of South Boston knocked out Tommy Scully of Chicago in the second round of what was to have been a fifteen round bout.

Trotters Sold at Readville.

Readville, Mass., May 22.—A five days' auction sale of harness horses, including over 400 well known trotters and pacers, was opened today at the Readville track. Consignments were received from prominent stock farms in distant parts of the country. May King [2:20], the sire of the noted Bingen [2:06¼], brought only $600, but his son, Lookout [2:06¾], dam Young Miss [by Bingen], sold for $3,500, the best price of the day. Henry Titer, the trainer of Boston, was the purchaser. May King was sold to J. W. Wolfenden of Attleboro, Mass. Other good sales were:

King Flower, br. m., by May King; Joseph Dawson, New Bedford, Mass., $1,100.
Kinglyne, b. m., by May King; John H. Shults, Port Chester, N. Y., $1,000.
Graphic, br. g., by Autograph; Bither & Palmer, Readville, $1,550.

BORROWS MONEY TO BUILD

M. L. ROTHSCHILD FINANCES HIS STATE STREET PROJECT.

Will Put Up Seven Story Structure at Corner of Jackson Boulevard, Finishing It Before Jan. 1—South Side Flats Sold—Mrs. Netcher Files an Amendment of Lease of School Property, Extending Time for Completion of Addition to Boston Store.

M. L. Rothschild has completed financial arrangements for his proposed new building at the southwest corner of State street and Jackson boulevard. He has borrowed $100,000 from Peabody, Houghteling & Co., payable in ten annual installments of $10,000 each, at 5 per cent. The building will be a seven story fireproof structure, 38x100 feet, and will cost $200,000. It is to be completed before Jan. 1.

Sales of Real Estate.

Hubert McCormick has sold to Jay Judson Thompson the store and flat property at the southeast corner of Cottage Grove avenue and Sixty-third street, with 98x108¾ feet of ground, for $70,000, including an incumbrance of $20,000.

John M. Hoffman has bought from Christine Hoffner the flat property at the southeast corner of Rhodes avenue and Thirty-third street, 27x150 feet, for $40,000.

Oscar Fenley and others, trustees of Mrs. Belle Shreeve of Louisville, have sold to John G. Garabaldi the property at the northwest corner of Lake and Clark streets, 20x90 feet, with three story building, for $70,000. The property bears an incumbrance of $35,000.

Boston Store Project Delayed.

The filing for record yesterday of an agreement by the board of education to extend the time for the completion of that part of the proposed new Boston store at 81-87 Madison for another year to May 29, 1907, gave rise to the report that it was asked because of a fear of serious delay as a result of the present labor trouble. Work on this section of the new building was to have begun on May 1, but because of the threatening attitude of the building trades nothing has been done. The fear that operations possibly might be seriously delayed further was given as a reason for the securing of the extension for which an additional rent of $4,000 is to be paid. The extension was secured two or three years ago, however, and for the purpose of safeguarding against possible delay as the result of a difference with the city regarding party walls.

Lambert Tree is to build a three story store and office building at the southeast corner of Madison street and Fortieth avenue, 100x76 feet, to cost $60,000.

STOCKS TAKE QUICK FLOP.

NEW YORK EXCHANGE SEES DROP IN PRICES.

Rumors of Difficulties of Financial House Cause Uneasiness and Appearance of Large Selling Orders by Holders of Prominent Stocks Starts Scramble by Shorts—Weakness of United States Steel Shows Effect of Deteriorating Character.

[BY A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, May 22.—[Special.]—The stock market changed front today in most decided fashion from a strong, hopeful to a disastrous close, caused by definite rumors of a financial institution's difficulties and the sudden release of prominent holdings by leaders.

The influence of the violent break in prices was the more effective on account of the strength shown during the morning. The good resistance offered by the market this morning came as a surprise and the professional traders were inclined to hasten to make commitments on the long side of the market. The receipt of considerable buying orders from London gave an impression also of revived confidence in our securities on that side of the ocean.

There was no news to account for the sudden accession of selling power in the market, the orders to sell appearing simultaneously in many quarters and from an unknown origin. The market had come practically to a standstill before they appeared and this had a discouraging effect on those hopeful for a further advance. The upward movement gave impression of having been fostered for the purpose of affording a better basis for further liquidation, and the suspicion got abroad that large and important interests were getting out of their holdings of some of the most important stocks in the market.

The abrupt drop in Northern Pacific was of special influence on sentiment. It is believed that the formation last week of the new Northern Pacific directorate may be accepted as the definite conclusion of any harmony plans that may have been in contemplation and any accompanying hopes of the high values to be developed in all Northwestern stocks by a comprehensive plan to conserve all interests. Another important sentimental influence was the renewed weakness of the United States steel stocks. Railroad traffic officials admitted some falling off in business on account of crop uncertainties. There was the usual short covering on the day's decline, but pressure was renewed and the closing was easy. Bonds were weak. Total sales, par value, $3,300,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on call.

Close: Prime mercantile paper, 3¾@4½ per cent. Sterling exchange firm, with actual business in bankers' bills at 487.05@487.10 for demand and at 485.05@485.10 for 60 day bills. Posted rates, 485½ and 487½. Commercial bills, 484¾. Bar silver, 58¾. Mexican dollars, 46. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds weak. Money on call easy, 2@2½ per cent; closing bid, 2; offered at 2¼. Time money easy and dull; 60 days, 3 per cent; 90 days, 3¼; six months, 3¼@3½.

IN THE BOSTON MONEY MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., May 22.—[Special.]—Stocks held strong in the first two hours of today's session, then weakened, and went off rapidly on well organized bear attacks. Coppers in general reflect losses averaging from a fraction to a point. In view of the general decline, the selling of the copper shares, aside from Amalgamated, was light. American Telephone and Boston and Maine lost 2 points. Woolens also were weak and Boston Elevated and Shoe Machinery declined a point each. Call loans, 3@3½ per cent; time loans, collateral, 3¼@4 per cent; time loans, mercantile paper, 3¾@4 per cent; clearing house loans, 3½ per cent.

IN FOREIGN MONEY MARKETS.

LONDON, May 22.—Money was in good demand and supplies were plentiful, a call for $15,000,000 of the Japanese loan being re-lent to the market. Discounts were easy in sympathy with rates for money. On the stock exchange trading opened quiet and operators were disinclined to make fresh commitments. Consols were steadier and hardened. Americans opened weak in response to Wall street, especially high priced securities. Later they became harder at a shade over parity principally on bear covering. Local business was meager. In the afternoon Americans fluctuated and closed quiet. Imperial Japanese government 6s of 1904 were quoted at 101½.

BERLIN, May 22.—Exchange on London, 20 marks 48½ pfennigs for checks. Discount rates—Short bills, 1¾ per cent; three months' bills, 2¾ per cent.

SIX CENT BULGE IN CORN PRICE.

Few May Shorts Bid the Market Up, Patten Bull Crowd Doing Little.

BIG LINE STILL OPEN.

Good Milling Demand and Light Stocks Put May Wheat Over a Dollar Again.

A 6c range and a 6c advance in the May price were the striking features of the corn market. Scattered shorts became tired of waiting for the expected increase in receipts which was to make their position more comfortable, and offerings were so scarce that the market was bid up from 53c to 59c within a few minutes after the opening on a trade of a little more than 50,000 bu.

The advance seemed to be entirely a matter of covering by shorts. The big May longs—Patten and others—who are operating through Bartlett-Frazier made no attempt to force prices up to make it harder for the shorts to cover, but neither did they make any especial effort to supply the demand. That house sold moderately on the advance, but the bulk of the small offerings came from cash houses and were apparently hedging sales against corn of contract quality which had arrived from the country or is expected before the end of the month. The entire trade was hardly 250,000 bu. The market settled back under these sales by cash interests to 55½c, but rallied again, closing at 56⅝c, a net gain of 4⅛c for the day.

The Patten-Frazier bulls are supposed to be still long a line of about 3,000,000 bu, which must be delivered or settled in the pit. Their line was at one time estimated as high as 10,000,000 bu, which was probably an exaggeration. If the covering of 250,000 bu would force a net advance of 4c corn traders are wondering how high the price would be likely to go if the remaining shorts should become uneasy and try to cover at once.

Rush Corn from Country.

Yesterday's sharp advance is expected to start a livelier rush of corn from the country. Receipts have already increased sharply, 412 cars estimated as yesterday's arivals, receipts so much larger than they have been running that in spite of the advance in the May cash corn closed lower than Saturday, except for that of contract grade. Cash prices advanced 2c to 3c early, but the big receipts caused the loss of all this gain. Shorts in deferred futures were a litttle uneasy on account of the May bulge, and there was a good general demand for both July and September, with advances of about ⅝c. The larger receipts caused an easier feeling and only ¼c of the gain was held at the close.

The buying of May, which forced the advance, was led by Milmine-Bodman, Logan-Bryan, McReynolds, Slaughter, and Sickel-Roberts. The selling was mainly by cash houses, Updike, Harris-Scotten, Merritt, Nye-Jenks, Hemmelgarn, and others. There was a decrease of 550,000 bu. in local stocks for the week and the visible supply was cut down to 1,781,000 bu, compared with a decrease of 1,031,000 bu a year ago, total stocks now 4,322,000 bu, compared with 5,164,000 bu last year. Primary receipts were 350,000 bu, against 420,000 bu a year ago.

The weather was generally clear and warmer over the corn belt, and there were a number of reports from the country indicating more liberal consignments of corn, farmers having finished planting and being enabled to sell and market their grain. Shipping demand was moderate, sales 110,000 bu. The seaboard reported export sales of 64,000 bu and clearances were 264,000 bu. Liverpool futures were steady to ⅛d lower. World's shipments were 2,448,000 bu.

Jump in May Wheat.

Growing scarcity of wheat and a continued and urgent milling demand made for higher prices of May wheat in all markets. There was a gain of 5c here from 98c to $1.03, with the close at $1.01, on purchases of barely 150,000 bu. Most of the demand was from cash handlers, but some of it apparently from shorts who had become discouraged by the steadily advancing tendency of the market.

The strength of cash wheat and the May and renewed unfavorable crop reports in the southwest brought in a good demand for the July and September, which advanced 1⅜c and 1c respectively. Trade was largely professional, however, the fact that the visible supply decreased less than half as much as a year ago, 1,741,000 bu, compared with 3,927,000 bu, started some profit taking and nearly all of the gain was lost, but at the close there was a partial rally in July. That month sold from 88c to 89⅝c and closed at 88⅝c, a net gain of ⅝c. September was in less urgent request, selling up to 82⅝c, but closing at 82c, a gain of ¼c.

Much of the July strength was due to renewed claims that the winter wheat crop has been delayed so much by backward weather that there is no longer any prospect of an early harvest. The market was bulled in advance on Jones' report of conditions in the southwest, but it was apparently less bullish than some of the early buyers anticipated. There were liberal receipts at Minneapolis, 339 cars, and some reports of increased country sales. Primary receipts were 437,000 bu, compared with 327,000 bu a year ago. Minneapolis stocks decreased 150,000 bu for two days.

The local cash market was strong and brokers found it harder to get wheat than to sell it. Sales were 75,000 bu. Higher cash prices and a strong demand were reported from other western markets. There was more rain in the Red river valley and in Oklahoma and Texas, where dry weather is wanted. Clearances were 40,000 bu. Liverpool was only ¼d higher, affected by the liberal Russian shipments of 4,312,000 bu. Total world's shipments were 11,056,000 bu.

Little Excitement in Oats.

There was covering of oats on the sharp advance in corn, but supplies were more liberal and the May, after advancing ½c to 31c, closed ⅛c lower at 30⅝c. The July and September gained less and closed easy. More liberal receipts are expected, 233 cars being estimated. Cash prices were up a little early, but closed steady. Shipping sales were 300,000 bu. The fact that the visible supply decreased only half as much as a year ago, 421,000 bu, and that there are no serious complaints of the condition of the growing crop were against any advance. Seaboard clearances were 66,000 bu and export sales 40,000 bu.

Slow, Easy Provision Market.

Dullness still prevailed in the provision market, and the trade was without significance, except for moderate buying of ribs, which some credited to Armour. At the close pork was 2½c higher to 5c lower, lard 2½@5c lower and ribs steady to 2½c lower. Sterling and Farnum bought ribs and Wolff sold ribs and bought pork and lard. Local hog receipts were 32,000 head and 20,000 are estimated for today, and prices were 10c higher at the yards. At the western markets there were 89,500 hogs against 79,100 last week and 76,100 last year. The average weight of local receipts for the week was 220 lbs. against 213 lbs. the week before and 216 lbs. last year. Liverpool prices were unchanged.

Rye Market Is Firm.

Rye was firm, May 77½c bid, July 60c bid, and September sold at 59c. No. 2 car lots sold at 79@80c. Receipts nothing.

Barley sold from 38@48c for malting, fancy 50c, and from 24@38c for screenings. Receipts, 14 cars.

Flaxseed ruled steady, No. 1 northwestern $1.42 and No. 1 and May $1.26. Receipts were 3 cars each at Minneapolis and 1 here.

Timothy seed was steady to 5c lower, May $2.90 and September $3.15. Bag lots ranged from $2.25@2.85. May clover seed was $11.75 @12.25, and country lots $8.00@11.75.

DOMESTIC PRODUCE MARKET.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Wheat—Receipts, 19,000 bu; spot firm. IN THE NEW YORK MARKETS.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Operations in the dry goods market are not large and buyers are not interested except for nearby deliveries and in small lots. Prices are firm and the tendency is toward radically higher quotations, which the buyer is inclined to combat and although he is paying asking prices to secure deliveries, he does not do it willingly and fears that the future may show a lower level.

Metals—Expectations of a further advance in the London tin market were disappointed. The cables named lower prices with spot at £136 12s 6d and futures at £135 10s. Locally the tone was easier in sympathy with the break abroad and spot was quoted at $29.90@30.25. Copper was easier abroad also, closing at £64 5s for spot and £64 7s 6d for futures in the London market. Locally the situation shows little change. Lead was lower at £12 17s 6d in London, but remained unchanged at $4.50 @4.60 in the local market. Spelter was unchanged at £23 12s 6d in London and remained steady at $5.50@5.60 in the local market. Iron closed at 51s in Glasgow and at 46s in Middlesboro. Locally iron was unchanged.

INTERESTING TRADE GOSSIP ON 'CHANGE.

The important contribution of the day on the life history of the growing winter wheat crop was that of H. V. Jones, who discussed conditions in the southwest as follows: "Unfavorable reports have been reaching Chicago from southwestern wheat states to the effect that the wheat crop is deteriorating. These statements should be received with some allowance. In relation to the government condition figures of May 10, the wheat crop is deteriorating, but it will be recalled that as early as April we disputed the April figures of condition. The present reports are simply bearing out the real condition as it was in April. In other words, the high government figures for the southwest were not warranted in either April or May. The country is now on a basis of a fair to good crop, but not a big one. The characteristic of the southwest stand of wheat is thinness and small head. There is only one important section of Kansas where this is not true, and it's practically true of whole areas of Oklahoma and Texas, with minor local exceptions. There has been no deterioration as regards thinness. The plant had not stooled when it came out of winter, and it did not stool properly in April or May, hence to that extent this defect was as apparent April 1 as it is now. It is now wholly a question of filling as to whether we come out with a crop that will run only 575,000,000 bu or go up to 625,000,000 bu, allowing 200,000,000 bu for the northwest states. Figures on winter wheat fields cannot be given for three weeks, but Texas and Oklahoma can be forecasted with reasonable accuracy, about 33,000,000 bu for the two as against 25,000,000 bu last year. With continuation of storms these two districts can run off to last year's yield. Kansas will make a gain over last year of 10,000,000 bu to 20,000,000 bu, if weather conditions are favorable. The southwest does not promise now over 30,000,000 gain over last year, including Missouri. Corn is backward. Texas has good stand, but it is spindling. Oklahoma is spotted with none of it of extra promise. Kansas is behind with considerable replanting to do, water having taken the bottom lands. The northwest farm bins have never been swept as clean as now. Millers in Oklahoma estimate there is not 10,000 bu of good wheat to grind. Texas mills find wheat scarce.

Visible stocks of wheat did not decrease so fast last week as they did the corresponding period last year, the loss 1,741,000 bu, compared with 3,927,000 bu, and the total now is 22,429,000 bu, against 24,111,000 bu last year. Canadian points excluded there are only 17,003,000 bu, compared with 20,006,000 bu last year, the decrease at Canadian points last year being largely in excess of the loss last week. At St. Louis there was an addition of 312,000 bu due to the making regular of an elevator with about 400,000 red Russian wheat in it. Local stocks are decreased 270,000 bu to 1,343,000 bu, against 1,690,000 bu last year. Decreases in corn stocks were shown at all points except on the lakes, which increased 287,000 bu, the total loss 1,781,000 bu, against 1,031,000 bu last year. Total stocks are 4,322,000 bu, against 5,164,000 bu last year. Local stocks decreased 550,000 bu to 1,545,000 bu, against 3,144,000 bu last year. Oats decreased 421,000 bu to 10,232,000 bu against 6,242,000 bu last year, local stocks decreasing 33,000 bu to 1,815,000 bu against 1,272,000 bu. Rye decreased 103,000 bu to 985,000 bu against 926,000 bu last year, local stocks increasing 2,000 bu to 98,000 bu against 403,000 bu. Barley decreased 117,000 bu to 1,373,000 bu against 2,176,000 bu last year, local stocks still 1,000 bu against 104,000 bu last year.

Prices of cash corn advanced more slowly than the May, the general market up 2@3c at best, and at the close about the same as on Saturday. No. 3 corn, which was about May price on Saturday, was at one time 3c under May yesterday. The relative weakness was due to the receipts of 400 cars or over compared with recent offerings of less than 100 cars a day, and a less urgent demand from the drying houses because of the limited time left for handling the corn. In the estimate of receipts were included 30 cars from private elevators. Shipping sales were moderate, 110,000 bu, none of the total for export. No. 3 corn sold on the tables at 52@55c f. o. b., No. 3 yellow and No. 3 white at the same range, and the No. 2s at 56@57⅝c f. o. b. Demand for oats was active, sales 300,000 bu, including 125,000 bu standard, and a fair proportion of the amount sold was to seaboard exporters. Heavy inroads have been made on local stocks the last few days, some estimating that half the total is sold to go out. Three boats were expected to load at South Chicago yesterday, and there were cancellations of 220,000 bu standard and No. 3 white. Oats for export brought 4⅜c over July, all rail.

The fact that Saturday next will be practically the last day on which corn received here which will have to be dried will be available for delivery has stopped the bidding in the country for prompt shipment, and the attitude of the May price is making the farmer slow to sell on bids sent out on the July basis for thirty day shipment. Acceptances therefore were small. It was said, however, that farmers in Illinois and Iowa were selling more freely to the country elevators. The bulk of yesterday's heavy receipts was corn consigned here to catch the high prices, although a small part was bought a week or ten days ago on bids. Some cash men were predicting yesterday that if the price holds over 55c receipts will run from 400 to 800 cars a day this week, and perhaps 2,000,000 bu corn will have to be taken by the bulls. "Yes, it looks as if there were corn in the country, and receipts will be large for ten days," said J. A. Patten. "But we will take it all and pay for it."

Cash wheat business was limited only by lack of offerings, brokers practically unanimous that there were plenty of bids on the market, but almost nothing to offer except No. 2 hard in store, and even that held firmly at 1c premium over what it is worth for delivery on May contracts, or 1c under May price in store. Choice No. 1 northern did not quite follow the extreme advance, its price being based on the Minneapolis price. Part of the local stock is sold to that market, and a lot of 5,000 bu was sold yesterday. Prices were largely nominal on all grades, and on medium and low grades the advances were smaller than that of the futures. Sales of all grades were about 75,000 bu, part late Saturday. At Minneapolis there was an advance of 2½c in No. 1 northern to $1.16 in store, and Duluth advanced 1½c to $1.08. Kansas City was firm; No. 2 hard, $1.01@1.05 f. o. b.

May wheat, at the high point of $1.03 yesterday, showed a recovery of 16½c from the low point of 86½c, forced by the liquidation of the Gates deal, and it is now a fashionable theory that if Gates and his friends had held their wheat instead of letting go of it they might have exacted tribute from their shorts and wound up the deal with a profit instead of selling out at a tremendous sacrifice. Trade in May yesterday was about 150,000 bu, the bulk of the selling done by Peavey. A good deal of the buying was by cash houses, but the market was bid up at the start by Wrenn, which led some to believe that Lichtstern might not have covered all of his May shorts on the break. As that operator is operating on the bull side of July, the buying of May might have been for moral effect on the July shorts.

The inspection department at Minneapolis slipped a cog Saturday, when it graded as No. 2 northern a special train load of spring wheat, which had been shipped back from Manitowoc by the Northern Grain company. The wheat had been inspected out at Minneapolis as No. 1 northern, shipped to Manitowoc, cleaned, and put in special bins. It had not been mixed with any other wheat and was therefore in better condition, if anything, than when it left Minneapolis. Reinspection was demanded and the wheat graded No. 1 northern.

It is probable that the grading of the corn in South Chicago Elevator C will be brought before the directors again today. The elevator holds about 200,000 bu corn, which was delivered to Bartlett-Frazier, who are having difficulty in getting it inspected out. About 100 cars are said to be waiting to load, and so far only 8 cars have been passed out as No. 2. Part of it was sold to the Waukegan industries and two cars were turned down there, but finally passed upon by the appeals committe of the inspection department. The corn is winter shelled, and is called damp by the inspectors.

The following decreases for the week were shown by local contract stocks: Wheat, 250,518 bu to a total of 1,250,465 bu; corn, 475,527 bu to 1,437,804 bu; oats increased 187,148 bu to 1,027,163 bu; No. 1 northern wheat decreased 8,950 bu to a total of 132,206 bu, No. 2 red 26,264 bu to 304,164 bu, and No. 2 hard 215,304 bu to 814,095 bu.

Estimated receipts for today are: Wheat, 8 cars; corn, 412 cars; oats, 233 cars; rye, 2 cars; barley, 37 cars; hogs, 20,000 head.

Deliveries on May contracts today were 15,000 bu corn, 110,000 bu oats, and 5,000 bu rye.

STOCK POOLS GROW TIRED

BURDEN OF SUSTAINING MARKET FALLS ON THEM.

Leaders in Finance as Well as the Public Not Taking on Securities—First National People in New York Said to Have Been Persistent Sellers for Some Weeks—Bank Shareholders Vote Today on Consolidation Proposition.

Stock pool operators appeared to labor under considerable discouragement yesterday, and prices were allowed to sag throughout the session until near the close, when there was a feeble gain.

There is nothing complex about the market. It is a simple situation. The leading interests are not taking on lines of stocks and the burden of shareholding lies with the pools. These are controlled by rich men, but not by the leaders in finance. There is no substantial motive for advancing prices, and as time wears on without any interest being developed on the part of the public, and with discouraging conditions obtaining, there is little to strengthen the faith of pool operators and much to suggest that they liquidate.

Gossip from New York yesterday was to the effect that the First National bank people had been persistent sellers of stocks for some weeks. One report was to the effect that $26,000,000 of securities had been sold. While this is only street talk, still it does not seem improbable that long lines have been parted with. The Rockefeller interests have not been bullish since the beginning of the year, but at the same time have refrained from operating against those who sought to advance prices. That part of the First National bank crowd known as the Moores has been largely out of stocks for some time. The Gates following has recently been active and had much to do with the advance which has just been lost. But it cannot be pretended that the Gates buying was for any other than a purely speculative purpose.

To Vote on Bank Consolidation.

Stockholders of the American Trust and Savings bank and the Federal Trust and Savings bank are scheduled to meet today in special session to vote on the recommendation of the boards of directors that the two institutions be consolidated under the terms recently announced. No doubt is entertained of an affirmative vote.

General Financial News.

It is announced that while no official declaration will be made in the near future there is reason for believing that the controlling interest in the Colorado and Southern railway is planning to extend the lines into New Orleans, as well as to the gulf of Mexico at Galveston.

Liquidation in Smelting stocks is attributed to speculative interests which were also heavily interested in Union Pacific.

The failure of A. G. Morris of the New York Consolidated stock exchange was announced yesterday.

The subtreasury was a debtor at the New York clearing house yesterday morning to the extent of $630,382.

It is estimated that the tonnage sales of the American Steel and Wire company this year will approximate 1,350,000 tons. Should the output be as estimated it will be the largest in the history of the company.

Railway Earnings.

According to the United States Investor, the gross earnings for thirty-nine roads for the first week of May were $7,386,272, against $6,955,648 for the first week of May, 1904, an increase of $430,024. Thirty-two roads show increases and seven decreases. Since July 1 the roads referred to above earned $363,891,752, an increase of $17,978,091 over the $345,913,661 reported for the corresponding period of last year. For the longer period thirty-one roads show increases and eight decreases.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago Subway stock was inclined to be firm yesterday in the face of weakness in New York. No satisfactory explanation of the buying has been made. In some quarters it is credited to the friends of the railroad people who are among the directors. The shares are active, both here and on the New York curb.

American Can shares were weak in sympathy with New York. The preferred touched 65-½, but closed ½ better. There was moderate activity in both issues. Biscuit common also sold off in a fair volume of business. There was some trading in Pneumatic Tool, and the price was fractionally lower. President Duntley of the company is expected to return from Europe early in June.

In the bond department the feature was a sale of $1,000 Lake Street income 5s at 16. The income last year sold around 27. In 1901 they sold as high as 80.

POOL ALL CAR REPAIRS.

NEW YORK CENTRAL SYSTEM OPENS A NEW DEPARTMENT.

Eugene Chamberlain Is Put in Charge of a Clearing House for Keeping Equipment in Order—All Supplies Will Be Uniform—Another Step in Plan to Unify All the Lines—New Route to the Southwest Is Ready for Use.

A new and important department will be added to the New York Central lines on July 1, when Eugene Chamberlain will open up the clearing house under which all freight car repairs on the system will be pooled. His headquarters will be in New York.

Preparations for the starting of this department have been under way for two years and it is another step forward in the policy of President Newman to unify all lines in the system. It is expected to mean greater economy and efficiency in keeping the freight car equipment in first class condition and will facilitate the promptness with which repairs can be made. It also will put a stop to the complicated billing system which has been in vogue on the lines for so long.

All Supplies Will Be Uniform.

One of the changes will be that all the shops will have uniform supplies, and when a car is damaged it can be repaired at the nearest plant without regard to the road by which it is owned. The economies of this scheme are manifest, on account of the elimination of delays, and the consequent increase in the earning capacity of the equipment.

The plans of the New York Central were perfected after carefully studying a similar pooling system of repairs which has been in operation by the Pennsylvania lines for several years. Mr. Chamberlain believes, however, that he will be able to eliminate some objectionable features which he found in the Pennsylvania shops, and to effect even greater economies than the Pennsylvania has been able to accomplish.

In his capacity as chairman of the clearing house, Mr. Chamberlain's jurisdiction will extend over all the lines, and will permit him to make any changes which he may deem necessary for the improvement of any of the shops. He has put in years of study and experience in the car department of the New York Central, and, as superintendent of equipment, for a time, on the Brooklyn Rapid Transit system.

New Route to the Southwest.

After five or six years of work Chicago shippers are to be afforded a new route to the southwest independent of the St. Louis gateway. This will be accomplished by crossing the Mississippi river at Thebes, about 150 miles south of St. Louis. The new route is made possible by the building of a bridge across the river at the point named, which will be opened for traffic next Thursday.

The opening of the bridge will be celebrated by officers of the Illinois Central and the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, the two principal roads furnishing the money, and the governors of Illinois and Missouri and other state and federal authorities. A special train will carry the invited guests from Chicago over the Eastern Illinois and will return by way of the Illinois Central line. Another special train will be operated from St. Louis to accommodate the guests from that city.

By the financial and operating arrangement the bridge will be used by the Illinois Central and Eastern Illinois from Chicago, connection being made with the lines to the southwest at the western end of the bridge. It will eliminate considerable mileage between Chicago and the southwest, and will obviate the terminal charges and annoyance of shipping through St. Louis. The new lines will be used by the Illinois Central principally for freight.

Figures Show the Shipments.

Eastbound shipments of corn, grain, and provisions by the all rail routes last week, compared with those of the previous week and the corresponding week last year were as follows:

	Flour, brls.	Grain, bu.	Provisions, tons.
Last week	57,809	1,436,000	27,864
Previous week	58,994	1,090,000	23,968
Last year	108,583	2,704,000	30,175

Beginning on June 2 the Chicago and Northwestern will put into service the Green Lake parlor car service from Chicago to Milwaukee. This will continue through the summer for the accommodation of "resorters."

Work has begun on the last section of double track on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois between Hinsdale and Newport. When this has been completed the road will have a solid two track line from the coal terminals at Jackson to Chicago, a distance of 162 miles.

Nearly 150 delegates to the National Railroad Storekeepers' convention, in session in Chicago, attended the performance at the Garrick theater.

TRAIN STARTLES THE VISITORS.

American Car Equipment Opens Eyes of Foreign Delegates to the Railway Congress.

After an automobile ride over the entire boulevard system of Chicago, and visits to the stockyards, and luncheon at the Washington Park club, the 200 foreign delegates to the international railway congress, who have been in Chicago since last Friday evening, left at 5 p. m. yesterday for Niagara Falls.

The delegates have been the guests of the railroads of the country, on a tour which extended from Washington, through Philadelphia, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Chicago, Niagara Falls, Montreal, and back to New York. The train, which is composed of twenty-five Pullman cars, and travels in three sections, is said to be the most sumptuous train ever made up. It has been a revelation to the foreigners, accustomed as they were to the cramped carriages of English and continental railways.

All the arrangements of the tour were left to George W. Boys, traffic manager of the Pennsylvania system, who also conducted Prince Henry's party in the United States. The cars on the trains never have been used before. They were electric lighted throughout, with electric fans to cool the atmosphere, and each section had its through dining car from Washington, in which the delegates could have meals at any hour they pleased. Each train had its barber shop and baths, and besides an extra complement of porters there was a maid on each car.

The thing which surprised the delegates most, however, was a telephone booth in the observation car. As soon as the trains were sidetracked in any city, no matter how short their stay was to be, the telephones were connected with the Bell system, and the delegates could and did talk with their friends or bankers in New York, or any other place they wished. Some of them have taken advantage of this telephone connection to send and receive cablegrams direct from the cable office in New York. There was also a special telegraph service maintained on the trains, and a stenographer who could "take" several languages was at the service of the delegates. Mail was regularly delivered to the delegates upon the arrival of the trains and just before departure.

Great strike emergency sale

An event that has stirred the buying public in an astonishing manner

THE crowds that all day yesterday streamed through the aisles on every floor of the store gave the most emphatic endorsement of our claim to offer record-breaking values. The public's hearty appreciation of our efforts to make the sale attractive has been manifested in enthusiastic buying.

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies; those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers; those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., and in order to buy the genuine article and to get its beneficial effects, one has only to note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package. Price, 50c. per bottle. One size only.
